

"Should the lady express a wish to go anywhere, you might, after you had known her a short time, offer to take her."

You can also come out with a few witty remarks [Heaven help the dull-bred] and be as amusing as possible; for, remember, the funny man is always a favorite with the ladies. Take care never to contradict your fair friends; but endeavor to agree with her in everything. . . . You must submit to the wishes of the woman you love in everything, and never allow yourself to be put out of temper."

Hear this, ye would-be Benedicts, but beware how you act upon it! I can boast some small experience, and I fearlessly declare that the man, whether lover or husband, who submits to his "fair lady's" in everything, will hold a very low place in her estimation. Ladies are said to like their own way best, but then they also like to have a little trouble in obtaining it, or the value of it is sadly lessened.

The full particulars of the way to ascertain a person's true character or rather of the shortest, being all comprised in the roles:

"To the Fair Sex.—A man who is of noble habits, who attends a place of worship regularly on the Sabbath, and is dutiful to his parents, will be certain to make a good husband."

"To the Male Sex.—If a woman is neat and clean in her dress, respects the Sabbath and is dutiful to her parents, happy is the man who makes her his wife."

When I had read so far I was angry.—I exclaimed against the author of Mitiny's Made Easy as a "nauf." Indignation will not permit me to comment on this night—rises forth! As though—No, I won't say another word, or I shall insult those I wish to enlighten.

A little time back I heard one of the "Cheep John" fraternity offer Lebe's Religious Courtship to a country girl. "Lawk, sir," said the dame; "I don't want to know nuthin' ab 'em courtin', sir; I come nateral." The author of Mitiny's Made Easy does not seem to agree with this fair damsel's notion; for the second part of this wonderful secret is entitled Instructions in Courtship. Therein we are informed that before a man marries he is always discontented, though they may occasionally burst of their liberty; that there is no such thing as a noble bachelor or spinster who has been so by choice; that the struggling wife of the poorest peasant, if she has health; is more to be envied than the spinster daughter of a prince; that females are more to be feared for loneliness than men, inasmuch as they must wait to be asked, and if they are never asked they never can be married, &c.

Most persons will feel inclined to dispute the correctness of these preparatory remarks. Charm Maria is looking over my shoulder at this minute, and declares she wonders at the man's impudence. Of course she is perfectly happy—(I rise and interrupt this pretty speech, as in duty bound)—but nobody can persuade her that the blacksmith's wife, whose worthless husband thrashes her every week, is happy; or that that darling little old maid, Miss Tompkins, who is our Lady B. unitful, is miserable. "I wonder you can read such trash, John!" she further decries, looking jealously at Mitiny's Made Easy, from which Charm Maria will not take much more; but I must not leave the gentlemen unimpaired respecting the Art of Courtship, in case they have no natural gift that way. They are told to remember—

"That five feathers make fine birds," or they may chance to find themselves in the condition of a certain unfortunat Count of Artois who falling in love with a splendid looking girl at a ball-room, married her after a few hours courtship, and shortly afterwards discovered that his partner for life was a wigged false teeth and was indebted to her exquisite skill in the mysterious art of painting and pasting, she being actually on the wrong side of her thirtieth year!"

If a lady of that age required all the accessories named above, she must have been a somewhat unusual specimen of "Father Time's" malignity.

When the gentleman has familiarized himself a little with the object of his affections, he is instructed to obtain an interview and must address her thus:

"I have come, miss (or madam, as the case may be), to take a, probably, final leave of you." The lady will naturally ask the reason, when the lover can add—and if he is a fallow of any feeling the occasion may give a depth of tone, and an effect to his favor, even if it was an even balance before—because, madam, I find your society has become so dear to me, I must fly to seek myself, as I may not hope that the suit of a stranger might be crowned with success."

Gentlemen are requested either to copy this or learn it by heart.

A lady who has been kept too long in suspense is instructed to encourage the bashful strain by a gentle hint. A pretentious man must not marry a generous girl, but a generous man must take to himself a frugal wife; and a jealous man is conjured not to wed a handsome woman.

For the benefit of literary men I will give one more quotation:

"Literary men should, if possible, choose ladies of correct literary taste; but by all means avoid attachments, as they may throw their cups at domestic comforts. A literary man should be more careful in selecting a partner than any other, for if he gets a cold wife he will ruin his excitable temper; if he gets a careless wife she will disturb the economy of his manure, and curl her hair upon his MSS."

Are all authors excitable above their fellows? And is a cold or a slattern less a nuisance to one man than to another?

To a lover who has been successful with the lady, but not with her guardians, the advice given is of Spartan brevity. It is simply "DETERMINATION," in large capitals.

"His (the lover's) plan is to see her, write to her, and, if needful, fight for her. If he is forbidden the door, and the windows are barred, let him come down the chimney!—If parents would be satisfied, they can be ried. And if brothers, guardians and second hand lovers won't listen to reason, they can be challenged, shot at, or horse-chipped into it. Indeed, the father should rarely be excepted in the lover's seal; for though the paternal claim be great, that of the once accepted and betrothed lover is greater."

If our author claims to be original in recommending a determined lover to go down the chimney, I should like to convince him of his mistake. The illustrious Mrs. Nickleby's insane neighbor chose that way of manifesting his devotion, and a very dirty way it would be for anybody to select—certainly suitable for only a madman, and one which, if it is sincerely loved, would obtain for whoever tried it, a warm, if not a cordial, reception at the bottom. And would not the lady keep him at arm's length, for fear he should "leave his mark" on her features or apparel?—that's all.

I think I have now given a fair sample of my secret to the "singly blessed" who wish to marry, and who are led to hope they may become "doubly blessed" by perusing the pamphlet whence I have extracted the above "important information."

To any gentleman who might be disposed to follow the bloodthirsty advice contained therein, and "shoot at" anybody else who chanced to stand in his way, I would hint that capital punishment is not abolished, and that by following Mr. W.'s advice he might, instead of leading his fair lady to the altar, be himself led to one spot with an II.

And should a young individual deem the rest of the "work" worthy of perusal, he may obtain it by sending, as I did, twenty-four postage stamps to the author. I imagine, however, that parents and guardians will not be amongst its patrons.

The Columbia Spy.

COLUMBIA, PA.
SATURDAY, DEC. 17, 1859.

Rev. Mr. Raley, of Wrightsville, will preach in the Town Hall, on Sunday (to-morrow) afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. Hening, a blind Missionary from Africa, will advocate the cause of Foreign Missions in St. Paul's Church, to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The service is especially arranged to enable the friends from other churches to hear this eloquent and interesting preacher.

CHRISTMAS STOCK.—We have only room to call attention to the variety of Goods authorized by Haldeman, the extensive stock of Christmas Books of Saylor & McDonald, and Fredonick's wonderful assortment of Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes. R. Williams advertises a variety of Spices, &c., which may come under the head of Christmas luxuries.

LADIES FAIR.—We would remind our readers that on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next a Fair for the benefit of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will be held in Old Fellows Hall. The articles offered on this occasion will be worthy of purchase, and many of them very elegant and suitable Holiday gifts. Of the quality of the refreshments it is unnecessary to speak; there will be variety and abundance, and ready sale without our recommendation. The Fair for the benefit of St. Paul's Church have heretofore received the liberal support which they deserved, and there is no reason to doubt the success of the Fair of next week. We hope the pecuniary returns may repay the ladies concerned for their trouble in preparing and providing.

THE FAIR FOR THE BAND.—This Fair which has been held nearly the whole of this week, and will be still open this evening, has been a success. The ladies have furnished liberally, and deserve the thanks of the community for their spirit and generosity. We hope the Band may realize as much by it as was hoped, for the members are indefatigable in their efforts to provide our citizens with a creditable band of musicians and good music. Their efforts to entertain the evening company at the Fair with their music, have been successful; they have won applause—and let us hope something more substantial—from the public. Don't forget that the Fair will be open this evening.

CAMERON CLUB MEETING.—On Tuesday evening, 13th inst., in response to a call published in last Saturday's Spy a meeting of the citizens of Columbia and vicinity, favorable to the nomination of Hon. Simon Cameron for the Presidency in 1860, was held in the Town Hall, for the purpose of organizing a "Cameron Club."

Samuel Sheeh, Esq., was called to the chair, and Messrs. C. Strawbridge, B. Rohrer, J. Stein, S. Truett, A. Erlan and T. Collins selected as Vice-Presidents. Messrs. A. S. Green and C. S. Kaufman were appointed Secretaries.

On motion a committee of five was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws for the government of the Club. Messrs. J. W. Fisher, H. H. Fry, A. S. Green, C. H. Jacobs and B. Rohrer were appointed. On motion Messrs. A. S. Green, C. Strawbridge and T. Collins were appointed a committee to select a suitable room for the meetings of the Club.

It was resolved that the proceedings of the meeting should be published in the Spy.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet on Saturday evening, 17th inst., at 7 o'clock, in the Town Hall.

A. S. GREEN, Secretary.
C. S. KAUFMAN, Secretary.

It appears from the above that the Cameronians have opened the campaign early. At the meeting we understand there was an enthusiastic feeling in favor of Mr. Cameron. The Club will doubtless prove a powerful auxiliary of the chieftain in the coming canvass. The meeting this evening, we believe, is for the purpose of effecting a regular organization, and a general attendance is expected.

DEDICATION OF A LODGE ROOM.—On Tuesday, 13th inst., the new Lodge Room of Hope Lodge, No. 45, I. O. of G. T. of Columbia, in the third story of the building occupied by J. S. Delleit, on Front street, was formally dedicated. The Lodge met in regular meeting at 6 1/2 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock the doors were opened to the public and the dedication took place. T. J. Koch, D. G. W. C. T., officiated, assisted by E. M. Shreiner, G. W. M., James Black, G. W. S., J. H. Menges, G. W. C., and Messrs. Herberly, W. C., and Pearal, of Lancaster Lodge, and Bowman, W. C., of Samaritan Lodge, Millersville.

About fifty members of the order were present from Lancaster and Millersville, and a number from Marietta and Mountville. A number of citizens also attended the dedication, and the room was completely filled. At 8 o'clock the members of the Lodge and visitors of the order formed in procession and marched to the Odd Fellows Hall, which was crowded with an interested audience. Addresses were delivered by Rev. H. Harbaugh and Jas. Black, Esq., of Lancaster, and Rev. J. H. Menges, of Columbia. The audience was dismissed by a benediction from Rev. S. Appleton.

Mr. Black's address contained interesting information and statistics relating to the order. The order of Good Templars originated in Central New York, in 1851. It was not intended to conflict with existing organizations for the promotion of Temperance, but to meet a want not provided for by them. The order of Sons of Temperance is founded on the same principle and pecuniary interests, embracing the privilege of benefits. The order of Good Templars reject these and rests on moral and religious principles alone. It preaches as in the church and prayer meetings, the equality of the sexes, and invites all to unite their efforts to stay the evils of intemperance. The order now embraces over one thousand lodges, and nearly one hundred thousand members. It has existence in twenty states of the Union, in two territories and in Canada and the Sandwich Islands. In Lancaster County there are twelve lodges with an aggregate of six hundred members.

We may mention that the new room of Hope Lodge is handsomely fitted up, and is a credit to the enterprise and earnestness of the members.

NAVIGATION CLOSED.—Canal navigation is apparently over for the season. The past week of cold weather has quietly retorted the resolution of the Canal Board and decided that the Canals shall not be kept open until the first of year. Decided by the published promises of the officers of the Pennsylvania and Tide Water Canals, the too confiding inland navigators find themselves frozen up everywhere but at their respective homes. The entire Columbia fleet succeeded in making port with the exception of the "Young America," Captain Nelson Hatch owner, and the "Alice Welsh," belonging to Thomas Welsh, Esq. The former, loaded with coal, is lying in the Susquehanna near Liverpool; the latter is between Philadelphia and Havre de Grace, not heard from.

About twenty boats belonging at foreign ports are frozen up at this point, all empty with the following exceptions: "Christopher Fallon" and "Frank," both loaded with blooms, from Ferrandville to Philadelphia; "Washington Lee," loaded with coal, from Williamsburg to Delaware City; "Osage," loaded with hemlock boards, from North Branch to Baltimore. Some hundred boats are locked up by the ice in the Tide Water Canal, many of them loaded.

Numbers of boatmen have given up all hope of further progress this season, and the "tow-path" is daily lined with the framework of hungry horses, kicking mules and irate and not to be mollified navigators, wending homeward; the humans, many of them, with nothing in their pockets and bitterness in their hearts, and

"With many a sigh, and curses too,
"Up their wretched lips,"
cordially anthematized the Canal Companies for cunningly enticing them with specious promises of open navigation until the first of January, and "blessing their eyes in sailor wise," if again they were caught running opposition lines to Old Bores.

A HEAVY WET.—We mentioned last week that a horse was lost in one of the canal boats which drifted over the dam on Thursday. The horse when left had apparently no chance of escape from his watery grave. Next day he was discovered standing in water up to his neck, and quietly eating hay. It was a difficult matter to rescue him with the wind and water so high and strong, and the animal stood in the water for six hours, and was got out only apparently no worse for his damp quarters.

We may add that the boat was the "Gideon Seal," of Lewistown, coming towards the Lancaster county shore, empty, and the boat that ran into her was the "Northern Light," going in an opposite direction, heavily loaded with lumber. Capt. Barly of the "Seal" brought suit before Justice Welsh against Capt. Sharrick, of the "Northern Light," for damages. Capt. S. not heard from.

The other boat afloat was the "Mary Adelaide," of Williamsport, Capt. Baker. She went over the dam without injury. On Sunday she was hauled into the channel and run safely to safely to Safe Harbor, opposite which place she again entered the canal.

THE RIVER.—The late rains have brought us a few of our up-river visitors within the last week. The freshest in the headwaters was general and a number of rafts were run out of Pine Creek. On Wednesday three board rafts arrived at this place, and were sold in this place, at what price we did not learn. On the same day a timber raft arrived at Wrightsville. Two other board rafts arrived here next day and were sold in Wrightsville. The navigation was difficult from the cold and drift ice. A number of rafts have been lost above us.

Do you like codfish balls, Mr. Wiggin? Mr. Wiggin, hesitatingly, "I really don't know, miss, I never recollect attending one."

Police Items.

"REPORTED BY OUR SPECIAL MOORHARD."
A PENNAPETI MANUFACTURER OF BOOKS.—On the evening of Friday, 9th inst., a stranger was discovered in the yard of Mr. David Hanauer, on Front street, under suspicious circumstances. Mr. H. and some of the "boys" from Peterman's Restaurant arrested the intruder, and took him into that establishment. Whilst under examination he made an excuse to go into the street, and was accompanied by Mr. Hanauer and another person. When about to descend again to the basement the prisoner gave Mr. H. a shove, sending him down the stairs, and bolted up Front street at full speed. He was followed by his captors, and overhauled about Black's Hotel. He was observed to throw away some money as he ran. Hollingsworth was sent for, took charge of the stranger, and locked him up for the night.

Next morning the prisoner was brought before Justice Welsh for a hearing. He gave his name as John Mack; had been to Baltimore; resided in Philadelphia; was an Irishman, out in search of employment. In his pocket was found change—dimes, half dimes and pennies—amounting to three dollars and forty cents, one bogus quarter and a half of the like quality, and a half dozen new pewter spoons. He had dined at List's the previous day, and at that time carried a bit of leather traveling case which was not in his possession when arrested. Nothing appeared warranting holding the prisoner for trial, but his very suspicious conduct justified Esquire Welsh in sending him down for thirty days as a vagrant. He accordingly was escorted down by Hollingsworth on Saturday.

On Monday the traveling bag of Mack was discovered under a stable near the Basin, and on examination was found to contain six very neatly executed bogus quarters, entirely new, together with dimes, cents, crucible, pouring ladle and the other necessary appurtenances of every man his own counterfeiter. The coin were very perfect—executed in pewter and well calculated to deceive when quite new. The apparatus, with the exception of the dies—evidently productions of experienced hands—was rude but effective. Mack had apparently been laying in "stock" in the purchase of the spoons discovered on his person, and had he not been fortunately seized with a desire to explore Mr. Hanauer's premises, we should probably have been favored with an issue of his greasy coin in our town. Mr. Mack will find his sentence for vagrancy commuted to a commitment on a charge of counterfeiting.

The manufacture of bogus money has taken its place among the legitimate occupations of the country; or it would seem so from the flourishing condition of the business, and we should scarcely be surprised in making port with the exception of the "Young America," Captain Nelson Hatch owner, and the "Alice Welsh," belonging to Thomas Welsh, Esq. The former, loaded with coal, is lying in the Susquehanna near Liverpool; the latter is between Philadelphia and Havre de Grace, not heard from.

Another case of fever and ague cured. A few days ago we recorded an astonishing cure of fever and ague by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., Pittsburgh, Pa. We have another case, viz. that of Mr. James S. H. of York, Pa., who had been laid up by a very severe case of Ague and Fever, and was now restored by the use of these Pills. Mr. S. expressed an opinion, founded on observation, that the Pills are the best for bilious colic, flatulency, headache, indigestion, or diseases of the liver, the prostrators, Fleming Bros., of Dr. Williams' Pills were not prepared for the frequent, but gratifying evidence of its general utility and curative capacity. In this respect, this invaluable medicine has proved itself as superior to any other medicine of the kind, and we should not be surprised if it were introduced into every family in the United States.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE, PREPARED BY FLEMING BROS., OF PITTSBURGH, PA. There are other Pills purporting to be the Pink Pills, and it is a mistake to suppose that the Pills of the latter are the same as the Pills of the former. The Pills of the former are the only Pills of the kind that will be introduced into every family in the United States.

A NEW WEEKLY PAPER.—On the first of January 1860, Mr. Gleason, of Boston, will commence the publication of the largest, most magnificent and valuable literary weekly Journal yet attempted in this country. It will be entitled the "LITERARY COMPANION." It will be an elegant, moral, and refined, miscellaneous family Journal. Its columns will be entirely devoted to polite literature, wit and humor, prose and poetic gems. An unrivalled corps of contributors has been engaged for the same, and every department will be under the most finished system that the long experience of Mr. Gleason, as a publisher, could devise.

In size, the "LITERARY COMPANION" will be some sixteen hundred square inches, forming a mammoth paper of sixteen octavo pages, and will contain about twice as much reading matter as any other $2 weekly. Our friends, no doubt, will be surprised at the astonishing low prices of this valuable weekly, viz. one subscriber one year, $2; two subscribers, $3. A. AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION AND LECTURES AT YALE COLLEGE.—It is proposed to have what may be termed a great agricultural "protracted meeting" at Yale College during the present winter, to last throughout the whole month of February. The exercises are to consist of lectures by leading ruralists, eminent in the different departments of agriculture, horticulture, stock raising, &c. About eighty lectures are provided for, two to four each day; each lecture to be followed by conversational exercises, questions to the lecturers, and discussions. Twenty or thirty gentlemen, well known in Agriculture, besides the Professors in Yale College, are engaged to take part in the exercises as lecturers and teachers, while numerous other eminent agriculturists and horticulturists have expressed their intention to be present and participate in the discussions.

Among the lecturers are Lewis F. Allen, Cassius M. Clay and Francis R. Hatch, on Cattle; Sanford Howard and Dr. Gulliver, on Horses; C. L. Flint and others, on the Dairy; the Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, Dr. C. W. Grant, Messrs. P. Barry and R. G. Pardee, on Fruits; Professor Porter on Organic Chemistry; Prof. B. Stillman Jr., on Meteorology; J. Stanton Gould on Grasses and Irrigation; Judge French on Drainage; Joseph Harris on Cereals; Prof. Brewer on Commercial Plants, (flax, hemp, tobacco, &c.); Geo. B. Emerson on Forest Trees; Dr. Comstock on Fish Culture; Donald G. Mitchell (I. K. Marvel), on Rural Economy.

The whole is to be free, except the nominal charge of say ten dollars or less to meet the necessary expenses of lecturers and other incidentals. The occasion will doubtless be one of great interest to cultivators generally, and call together a large attendance from all parts of the country. Inquiries with reference to this project may be addressed to Prof. John A. Porter, New Haven, Conn.—Agriculturist.

"The Six Hundred"—Enthusiasts are not wanting, who would rather have ridden in it than won the highest distinction to which civilians can aspire. Who dares to object that it was not ultimately successful? Such a taunt has never been weighed in the balance against the glories of Thermopylae. I frequently meet in society one of the Paladins of that fatal Roncesvalles. In private life he has few peculiarities, except a tenacity to engage in each and every game of chance, and a perfect monomania for waiting. Yet in regard to his street, and with an immense respect and reverence that the object of the feeling would be the last to understand. I think of the awful peril out of which the delatote feminine has come without a scar; and I protest I would no more dream of speaking to him angrily or slightly, than I would venture to discourse about the Derby to the Bishop of Exeter, or to offer to that dignified prelate the current odds against the favorite. (Rely upon it, in many homes of England (if the Mauchesterians leave them standing), there will be one family portrait that our children will most delight to honour.—Pointing out to strangers the crowning glory of their lineage, they will pass by grave gifts of lawyers, geologists, and statesmen, and pause opposite to a mural figure, dressed in the uniform of a Light Dragoon.—All his ancestors shall give precedence to the simple soldier, who rode that day in the van of the Six Hundred.—Fraser's Magazine.

DEFINITIONS.—A Blunder-Buss.—Kissing the wrong woman.
The Pillers of the Medical Profession.—Loyalty and Braudreth.

The leaves were illuminated on the evening of August 24th, 1856, by the most splendid Aurora borealis ever seen in the Country. Rays of purified light colored into blue, red, and orange, were beautiful in the extreme. At our time a rapid movement took place in the clouds, and the words: "Buy all your garments at the Brown Store, 101 North 3rd St., Philadelphia, Pa., 600 and 600, 610 and 610, 620 and 620, 630 and 630, 640 and 640, 650 and 650, 660 and 660, 670 and 670, 680 and 680, 690 and 690, 700 and 700, 710 and 710, 720 and 720, 730 and 730, 740 and 740, 750 and 750, 760 and 760, 770 and 770, 780 and 780, 790 and 790, 800 and 800, 810 and 810, 820 and 820, 830 and 830, 840 and 840, 850 and 850, 860 and 860, 870 and 870, 880 and 880, 890 and 890, 900 and 900, 910 and 910, 920 and 920, 930 and 930, 940 and 940, 950 and 950, 960 and 960, 970 and 970, 980 and 980, 990 and 990, 1000 and 1000, 1010 and 1010, 1020 and 1020, 1030 and 1030, 1040 and 1040, 1050 and 1050, 1060 and 1060, 1070 and 1070, 1080 and 1080, 1090 and 1090, 1100 and 1100, 1110 and 1110, 1120 and 1120, 1130 and 1130, 1140 and 1140, 1150 and 1150, 1160 and 1160, 1170 and 1170, 1180 and 1180, 1190 and 1190, 1200 and 1200, 1210 and 1210, 1220 and 1220, 1230 and 1230, 1240 and 1240, 1250 and 1250, 1260 and 1260, 1270 and 1270, 1280 and 1280, 1290 and 1290, 1300 and 1300, 1310 and 1310, 1320 and 1320, 1330 and 1330, 1340 and 1340, 1350 and 1350, 1360 and 1360, 1370 and 1370, 1380 and 1380, 1390 and 1390, 1400 and 1400, 1410 and 1410, 1420 and 1420, 1430 and 1430, 1440 and 1440, 1450 and 1450, 1460 and 1460, 1470 and 1470, 1480 and 1480, 1490 and 1490, 1500 and 1500, 1510 and 1510, 1520 and 1520, 1530 and 1530, 1540 and 1540, 1550 and 1550, 1560 and 1560, 1570 and 1570, 1580 and 1580, 1590 and 1590, 1600 and 1600, 1610 and 1610, 1620 and 1620, 1630 and 1630, 1640 and 1640, 1650 and 1650, 1660 and 1660, 1670 and 1670, 1680 and 1680, 1690 and 1690, 1700 and 1700, 1710 and 1710, 1720 and 1720, 1730 and 1730, 1740 and 1740, 1750 and 1750, 1760 and 1760, 1770 and 1770, 1780 and 1780, 1790 and 1790, 1800 and 1800, 1810 and 1810, 1820 and 1820, 1830 and 1830, 1840 and 1840, 1850 and 1850, 1860 and 1860, 1870 and 1870, 1880 and 1880, 1890 and 1890, 1900 and 1900, 1910 and 1910, 1920 and 1920, 1930 and 1930, 1940 and 1940, 1950 and 1950, 1960 and 1960, 1970 and 1970, 1980 and 1980, 1990 and 1990, 2000 and 2000, 2010 and 2010, 2020 and 2020, 2030 and 2030, 2040 and 2040, 2050 and 2050, 2060 and 2060, 2070 and 2070, 2080 and 2080, 2090 and 2090, 2100 and 2100, 2110 and 2110, 2120 and 2120, 2130 and 2130, 2140 and 2140, 2150 and 2150, 2160 and 2160, 2170 and 2170, 2180 and 2180, 2190 and 2190, 2200 and 2200, 2210 and 2210, 2220 and 2220, 2230 and 2230, 2240 and 2240, 2250 and 2250, 2260 and 2260, 2270 and 2270, 2280 and 2280, 2290 and 2290, 2300 and 2300, 2310 and 2310, 2320 and 2320, 2330 and 2330, 2340 and 2340, 2350 and 2350, 2360 and 2360, 2370 and 2370, 2380 and 2380, 2390 and 2390, 2400 and 2400, 2410 and 2410, 2420 and 2420, 2430 and 2430, 2440 and 2440, 2450 and 2450, 2460 and 2460, 2470 and 2470, 2480 and 2480, 2490 and 2490, 2500 and 2500, 2510 and 2510, 2520 and 2520, 2530 and 2530, 2540 and 2540, 2550 and 2550, 2560 and 2560, 2570 and 2570, 2580 and 2580, 2590 and 2590, 2600 and 2600, 2610 and 2610, 2620 and 2620, 2630 and 2630, 2640 and 2640, 2650 and 2650, 2660 and 2660, 2670 and 2670, 2680 and 2680, 2690 and 2690, 2700 and 2700, 2710 and 2710, 2720 and 2720, 2730 and 2730, 2740 and 2740, 2750 and 2750, 2760 and 2760, 2770 and 2770, 2780 and 2780, 2790 and 2790, 2800 and 2800, 2810 and 2810, 2820 and 2820, 2830 and 2830, 2840 and 2840, 2850 and
