The are told that he who neglects to provide the household is "worsethan the heathen." There is doubt of it. When in health the provident man if provide for his charge and whilst that health is my the provide for his charge and whilst that health is my the first failed and now offer the last failed and no Whose-fold is wore-than the heether. There is no doubt of it. When in health the provident man will provide for his charge, and whilst that health implact his prudence-should prepare for solace in the durk day, for the hour when the sympathy of friends, to assounding brass. This can be done by Life Insurance. Every man owes this duty to has family. The uncertainty of life is a constant lesson which teaches the fact that he who to-day walks firthe pride of manthool, may fail to-morrow, and the plants by which riches and hospites were to have been brought to the loved ones, vanish as the morning mixt. Let every man in health maure to his family the comfort of knowing that should he be called from them the wolf may be kept from the door.

Price Five Cents a Number; 22.50 per year,

[From the N. Y. Eceaing Pos., 1859.]

Harrer's Weekly.—The fifty-two numbers of this attractive and entertaining publication, is send during the last year, have been gathered into a single volume, and now that we see them together, we are surprised at the variety, the sprightliness, and the value of the contents. There is a complete history of nearly all the public events of the year—there are ample dissertations on the leading topics—there are the graceful tridings (not always trivial, however, but profoundly instructive) of the Lounger—there are the tales and stories of Bulwer. Dickens, Thackeray, &c.—there are the records of jokes, new and old—and, above all, there are those striking wood cut representations of contemporary men and thrugs, of follies and fashions, and of customs and countries—all contained within a single volume, and to be had for a song. Its a grand picture-book of the human the of the ninetecnth century, in all its phases, and in nearly all mations. Every class of readers, moreover, may be interested by it—the old and thoughtul, the young and gay; the man of business, the child and the woman.

We would not so often call mitention to Harper's Weekly if we were not well satisfied that it is the best family paper published in the United Sintes, and for that reason, and that alone, we desire to see it undermine and root out a certain kind of literature to prevalent, which blants the morals of its readers, vinities their taste for sensible rending, and is altogether bad in its effects—New London Advertiser.

As Harper's Magazine has done much to drive out the yellow-covered Interaturs, so we should be glad to see this new Weekly take the place of those papers which depend for excitement on poor, trashy novels.

Harper's Weekly abounds in original matter, spicy, siguant, instructive, and entertaining. It has, and deservedly, a very large and increasing circulation. It is a tip-top family paper.—Doston Journal.

It (Harper's Weekly) is the proper size for binding, and an excellent opportunity is afforded for any one who wishes to preserve the history of the country as it is made, to do so by flung Harper's Weekly.—Pontiae (Wich.) Jacksonian.

Its fresh leaves its clear type, its entertaining variety, its severe but just criticisms upon the follies of the times, its elegantly written and instructive article, and its able correspondence, all combine to make it the model new-paper of our country, and one that every fitnify must prize. Its condensed weekly summing of Foreign and Domestic Intelligence is altogether superior to that contained is any other journal Being published too, in a form of preservation and binding, if taken care of as it deserves to be, it will be found in taliac years as welcome a companion for the family and fire-ide as the day on which it was first perused—Med Connekteille (O) Inquirer.

Also, their large Heating Formace, for the heating of buildings with one heating Formace, for the heating of buildings with one heating Formace, for the heating of buildings with one heating Formace, the same size, and they give much more and u pleasanter heat. The reasons why they work so much better are becauge they have more heating surface in direct contact with the fire, and the supply of air over the internal and external surface is greater and more perfect to take the heat up rapidly, thereby preventing the furnace from holding the heat, making it red hot to burn it out and scorchethe air, making it dry and oppressive. The heat, not bring held, is not forced up the flue, as is the case where heat is held in the furnace, because the vent up the smoke pipe is the freest, the failed rawing it op and the furnace forcing it back. These difficulties are overcoine, and the heat is saved that wastein stoves and heaters.

Shreiner's Hemers are the only double Air-Heating Furnaces in the market, and therefore have a great advantage over all fleaters in use for saving heat and fuel.

These Stoves will heat, with the furl of one or-nd fuel. For These Sloves will hent, with the fuel of one or inary stove, as much as (wo or three ordinary sloves
