LIFE INSURANCE. WE are told that he who neglects to provide for his Whousehold is worse-than the heathen. There is no doubt of it. When in health the provident man will provide for his charge, and whilst that health is limited his prudence should prepare for solace in the dark day, for the hour when the sympathy of fittened is as sounding brass. This can be done by Life Inserance. Every man owes this duty to his family. The uncertainty of fife is a constant lesson which reaches the fact that he who to-day walks in the pride of menhood, may full to-morrow, and the plans by which riches und honore were to-have been brought to the loved ones, vanish as the morthing nists. Let every man in health inserts his family the comfort of knowing that should he be called from them the wolf may be kent from the door. that should be be called from them the wolf may be kept from the door.
