Addles and Gentiemen, in all parts of the world Itelity to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Huir Restorative, and gentiemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can here be given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt 47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 26, 1838.

Gentlemen: Your note of the 15th inst. has been recived, saying that you had heard that I had been benefied by the us-to Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certifiate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair in aburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the sculp on the crown of my head to lo-c its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagentilities increased with time, and about tour mouths since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me build.

In this unpleasant predicament. I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for! had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly urprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff crased to form on my head, very much to the grauffication of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations! I owe to her sex. I strongly recomment all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting haid Very respectfully.

For this, among the many obligations! Too. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, New York Samaston, Ala. July 20th, 1859.

'Unquestionably the best sustained Work of the kind in the World." HARPER'S MAGAZINE

The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

No Magazine in Europe or America is so we'll known; none has halfas many readers; and, we may safely say, none has received so large a traine of admiration from the cultivated classes, that delight in a healthy, diversified, elevating periodical iterature. It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireadenever had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more entertaining friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodiat Protestant, (Ballmore.)

Twenty-five cents large it—the cheapest, richel, and most insting luxury for the money that we know Three dollars secures it for one year, and what three dollars secures it for one year, and what three dollars eavy went so far? Part the same smouth is clothes, easing, drinking, furniture, and how much of a substantial thang is obtained? If ideas, facts, and sentiments have a monetary value—above all, if the humor that refisches, the pleasantires that bring a gentle smile, and brighten the passage of a truth to your brain, and the happy combination of the real and the imaginative, without which no one can live a life above the animal, are to be put into the scale opposite to dollars and cents, then you may be certain, that if Harper were three or four times as cert, it would amply repay its price. It is a Magazine proper, with the idea and purpose of a Magazine—not a book, not a secentific periodical, nor yet a supplier of light gessip and chatty ancedone—but a Magazine that takes every form of interesting, dignified, and attractive literature in its graup.—Southern Times.

We must refor in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine, a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies, in whose pages are to be found some of the choicestight and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American propte, and the popularity it has acquired ismertized. Each namber contains fully 144 pages of instructive matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood easy; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the morphilosophical quanterly, blended with the heat features of the daity journal. It has great power in the creation and dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, Landon, 1850.
