The contents of the sewer of course flow into the river Seine, and the current is sufficient to carry the boat used along with considerable velocity. Large reservoirs are constructed at intervals, into which the water can be turned for a short time in ease it should be necessary to have the canal dry tor a little while,' The whole work was completed in two years, Besides the main . anal, there are many minor ones constructed suder the principal streets, all of which can be made to communicate with one another. These admirable underground works are accessible from the Louvre, the Tuilieries, and from all the berracks, and should the Parisians take a notion to barricade the streets in any part of the city, the Imperial Government might, at short notice, and without any person being aware of it transport troops, and if there is time to make use of the reservoirs, so can cavalry also be transported the same way. There is an end to shooting on the soldiers from the windows, and a revolution in Paris will soon only be remembered among things that have been, never to occur again, Through these underground passages a prisoner can easily be taken from the Louvre to the Seine withost attracting attention, and thence sent off by railway, which is near at hand. This oplendid system of sewerage was one

Heenan writes a letter to the Times, complaining of his inability to come should have a belt apiece, got up by public remain in the hands of the editor of Bell's Life, to be fought for again. A later arrival announces that this prop sition has been accepted by both parties, and the difficulty settled.

THE SEVENTEEN YEAR LOCUSTS .- These curious visitors are now perforating the ground in the vicinity of Newark, N. J., in multitudes, their holes being generally about half an inch in diameter, and from four to eight inches deep. They are found most numerous around the roots of the cherry tree. Near the apple, pear and peach trees but few are found, and generally on the shady side. They are well-formed, and neasure in some instances, when taken from the ground, an inch and a half in length.-Not so many are found in deeply trenched ground, or where it is hard and firm, and ione are found around trees newly planted.

THE OLDEST TREE IN THE WORLD .- An extraordinary tree is stated by Sir. J. Emerson to exist in the island of Ceylon. It is known as the "Bo-tree," of Anar-ajappora. and is, in all probability, the oldest historical tree in the world. It was planted 228 years before Christ, and hence it is now 2.-147 years old. RELIGION IN JAPAN.-It would appear from the number and variety of religious sects in Janan, that the Government does not actively interfere with liberty of conscience, nor sustain any system which properly can be termed a State or organized ecclesiasticism. It is true that there is nominally a distinct ecclesiastical power, and that the Mikado, or spiritual Emperor, is believed to be inspired and of heavenly de-S. W. P. Born, Fulton, as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the decision of the Peop 's scent. But, while he receives all the outward manifestations of respect, and even of religious reverence, his temporal power has been substantially transferred to the Tycoon or actual sovereign, and he himself has become the mere shadow of an Empe-tion. Indeed, it may be said that the Miign and executed in the highest style of the kado is a kind of a Pope without a See, and that he enjoys a general homage and a certain spiritual rank, but not the least au-

The purest sect in Japan adopts the dogmas of Sin-Syu, which, although somewhat to any arrangement with Sayers for a re- obscured by a modified mythology, still renewal of the contest. He says he is willing cognize one Supreme Deity, and teach bodceremonies of an elevated characte. It is so as to effect the future life, and there is no doubt that the disbelief of the Japanese in the doctrine of eternal punishment, as taught by the Jesuits, did much to suppress the growth of Christianity in the Empire.

The Sin-Syu system is adopted in its purity by only a small portion of the nation, the great majority combining it with the doctrine of Buddha, the prevailing religion of the East, and which embraces in its system over three hundred millions of souls .--The peculiarities of Buddhism are too well known to need any description; but the system is probably practised in Japan very much as in China, as the sacred books are in the language of that country. Besides this sect called Riobus, made up of Buddhism and the doctrines of Sin-Syu, there is a large party in Japan who are followers of specialid dealers throughout the world. Confucius. These despise the popular religions, and affect a system of pure morality and charity towards their fellow men.
