THE RESULT IN THE STATE .- The returns from the State are incomplete. The latest tion a touching off of Mrs. Newsbag, in gives an estimated majority for Curtin of which, I think, she will be able to see herover 30,000. This is probably exaggerated. Reformers is most complete. RETURN YOUR BORROWED BOOKS .- By a request of a neighbor in another column of this paper, as well as by the experience of most people it will be known, that lending books, although a favor to the borrower, is not always so to the lender. A notion seems to prevail with many people, that books like umbrellas need never be returned and can therefore be appropriated by the borrower as an addition to his library, or logned to another person. This we think is entirely wrong. It is unpleasant to have a set of books broken by the loss of a volume or two, and especially when a loan is made expressly for the benefit of the borrower, and not of the lender. We have ourselves had cause to complain of carelessness in borrowers in this respect, and therefore hope that a new order of things will be established, and that all persons who have books belonging to us or our neighbor advertiser will please return them forthwith and receive due thanks.
