A parrot belonging to some friends of mine was generally taken out of the room when the family assembled at prayers, for fear lest he might take into his head to join into consideration of the petition presented irreverently in the responses. One evening. however, his presence happened to be unnoticed, and he was forgotten. For some Harrisburg " leaves time he maintained a decorous silence, but with "Cheer boys, cheer." On this the butler was directed to remove him, and had got Noon " as far as the door with him, when the bird, Evening " perhaps thinking he had committed himself, and had better apologise, called out, "Sorry I spoke." The overpowering effect on the congregation may be more easily imagined than described.

The parrot of a relation of mine also used, whenever he dropped anything he was enting, to say, "Pick up Bobby's crust," being doubtless prompted by the same train of associations which led another parrot to say, "Thank you," whenever anything was But Purges the Entire System of all Impure Matter, Ingiven to him.
