HARPER'S WEEKLY,

Price five cents a number; $2,50 per year.

This variety, the sprightness, and the value of the 1 contents. There is a complete history of nearly all the public events of the year—there are ampled discritations on the leading topics—there are the graceful tridings (not always trivial, however, but protoundly instructive) of the Launger—there are the graceful tridings (not always trivial, however, but niese and stories of Bulwer, Dickens, Thackerny, &c.—there are the new and old—and, above all, there are those striking wood cut representations of contemporary men and things, of follies and fashious, and of co-tonics—all contained within a single volume, and to be had for a song. It is a grand picture book of the human tife of the americant century, in all its phases, and in nearly all mations. Early class of cenders, moreover, may be uncreased by the old and thoughtful, the young and gay; the man of business, the child and the woman.—N. T. We would not so often call attention to Harper's Weekly it we were not well asticked that it is the turnity naper published in the United States, and for that typ apper published in the United States, and for that reasons, and that a sone, we desire to see at undermine and root out a cernan kind of literature too prevalent, which blunts the morate of its reader's virtaites their sacts for wenshife reading, and is altogether bad in its effects—New Landon Advertiser.

As Basyer's Alagazine has done much to drive out the tytlow-covered literature, so we should be glad to see this new Weekly take the place of those papers which depend for a system. The proper size for binding, and on excellent opportunity is afforded for any one who wiebes to preserve the history of the country as it is made, to do so by filing litarpet's Weekly—Pondiac (Mich.) Sack-ontain.

In fresh leaves, its clear type, its entertaining variety, its severe but just critter-on upon the follies of the time, its eleganity written and instructive articles, and its able correspondence, all combine to make it the model newspaper of our country, and one mai every family must prize. Its condensed weekly runmary of Foreign and Domestic Inteligence is also geller superior to that contained in any other journal Betting published too, in a form for propervation and brinding, if taken care of as it deserves to be, it will be found in future years as we come a companion for the landy and hereade as the day on which it was first persone—McConteleville (V) Inquier.
