Arrival of a Bearer of Despatches from For- 1 tress Monroe The Killed and Wounded. Wasmingron, March, 10.-Lieutenant Wise arrived here this forenoon, bringing despatches from Fortress Monroe. But few particulars. finer have yet transpired, as his interview with the Secretary of the Navy is not closed. The following items are reliable.

Capt. Radford was engaged on a Court of Inquiry and was not on board the Cumberland. He is safe.

Lieut. J. B. Smith, son of Commodore Smith was on board the Congress, and is killed. The loss in killed, drowned and missing i supposed to be about one hundred. Lieut. Worden who handled the Monitor s skilfully and gallantly is in the hands of the surgeon.

Lieutenant Worden's Injuries. Lieut. Worden was in the pilot house of the Monitor when the Merrimac directed a whole broadside at it, and he received his injuries from the minute fragments of shells and pow-from the minute fregments of shells and pow-der which were Griven through the lookout holes. Lieut. Worden partly stunned by the concussion, and was carried away. On recovering he astied, "Have I saved the Minnesota?" "Then reply was "Yes, and whip-ped the Merrimac." "Then" saidhe "I don't "cfre what becomes of me." His injuries are not considered dangerous.

Latest from Fortress Monroe. The Morrimac Has Not Made Her Appear ance Since the Fight.

WASHINGTON, March 10.-The telegraph Jine to Fortress Monroe has been fully occupied all day on Government business, which has thus far prevented the Associated Press despatch from coming forward.

There has, however, been no change in the state of affairs at that point. Every effort will be made to give the names of the killed and wonnded at the earliest possible moment.

The Minnesota was damaged, but was got ten off, as alteady stated, during Sunday night; and brought under the guns of Fortress Monroe. LATER. A despatch from Fortress Monroe this even-ing says that the Merrimac did not make her spearance to-day. The Monitor was honored with salutes and cheers both from the fort and fleet. Every-body was enthusiastic in her praise for the

How THE CHINESE MAKE DWARF TREES .-We have all known from childhood how the Chinese cramp their women's feet, and so man_ age to make them "keepers at home," but how they contrive to grow miniature pines and oaks in flower-pots for half a century has always been much of a secret. It Is the product chiefly of skillful, long cotinued, root pruning. They begin at the beginning. Taking a young plant, (say a seedling or cutting of a cedar.) when only two or three inches high, they cut off its tap as soon as it has other rootlets enough to live upon, and replant it in a shallow earthen pot or pan. The end of tap root is generally made to rest on the bottom of the pan, or on a flat stone within it. Alluvial clay is then put into the pot, much of it in bits the size of beane, and just euongh in kind and quantity to furnish a scanty nourishment to the plant. Water enough is given to keep it in growth, but not baker William
