Friday, and a brief sketch of which we here append:

The affair of Saturday last partook more of the nature of a battle than the engagements of Thursday or Friday. Gen. Fitz-john Porter has covered himself with glory. He selected a very strong position, and having posted his forces in an admirable manner, was prepared to hold it against any force of the enemy. The brave men of this command all, fought with heroic courage, and the volunteers vied with Gen. Sykes' regulars in making steady movements and carefully executing the commands of their officers.

Time and again, vast hordes of rebels moved up in solid columns upon our troops, but our regular batteries as often mowed them down in a most destructive manner.—Steady discharges of shell, grape and canister in regular salvos seemed to sweep down whole companies.

As soon as confusion in the rebel ranks was apparent, General Porter ordered General Meagher's Irish Brigade to charge bayonets, which they did in the most gallant and heroic style, bare-headed, in their shirt sleeves, occasionally with these rolled up.

This charge had an excellent effect. The rebels were driven back with great slaughter, and General Porter was preparing to hurl upon them over the piles of the rebel dead and dying, when the enemy again advanced steadily strongly reinforced.

Now the Pennsylvanians gave them the benefit of all their splendid rifles, while the batteries played upon them as before, creating sad havoc. Indeed, the slaughter upon other fields during this war has never been anything to compare to this. The rebels staggered under their losses, and our forces were advancing steadily upon them, driving them back at every point, when a staff-officer rode up with an order from the commander-in-chief to Gen. Porter, directing him to fall back with his command, and cross the Chickahominy.

The order was executed in fine style, and our troops did not miss a man, the enemy being too severely punished to follow us closely. The only difficulty was with the Pennsylvania Reserves and Meagher's Irishmen—their commanders exerting all their powers to induce these brave men to cease firing. They saw the advantages gained by hard fighting, and they were anxious to follow up the success.

All the troops must be praised for heroic gallantry in this affair, but the regulars must have especial notice. General Sykes, the lamented Major Rossel, the 3d, 4th, and 14th Infantry, behaved admirably.

General Porter thought he would be reinforced, and he ordered to advance upon Richmond forthwith, but it was not so designed, and he fell back, as ordered promptly.

Important Correspondence—300,000 Additional Troops Called For.

The following correspondence between the President and the Governors of the several States will explain itself:

To the President: The undersigned Governors of the States of the Union, impressed with the belief that the citizens of the States which they respectively represent are of one accord in the hearty desire that the recent successes of the Federal arms may be followed up by measures which must insure the speedy restoration of the Union, and believing that, in view of the present important military movements now in progress, and the reduced condition of our effective forces in the field, resulting from the usual and unavoidable casualties of the service, the time has arrived for prompt and vigorous measures to be adopted by the people in support of the great interests committed to your charge, we respectfully request, if it meet with your entire approval, that you at once call upon the several States for such number of men as may be required to fill up the military organizations now in the field, and add to the armies heretofore organized such additional number of men as may in your judgement be necessary to garrison and hold all the numerous cities and military positions that have been captured by our armies, and to speedily crush the rebellion that exists in several of the Southern States, thus practically restoring to the civilized world our great and good government. We believe that the decisive movement is near at hand and to that end the people of the United States are desirous to aid promptly in furnishing all the reinforcements that you may deem needful to sustain our government:

Israel Washburne, Jr., Governor of Maine.
N. S. Berry, Governor of New Hampshire.
Fred. Holbrook, Governor of Vermont.
Wm. A. Buckingham, Governor of Connecticut.
E. D. Morgan, Governor of New York.
Chas. S. Olden, Governor of New Jersey.
A. G. Curtin, Governor of Pennsylvania.
A. W. Bradford, Governor of Maryland.
F. H. Pierpont, Governor of Virginia.
Austin Blair, Governor of Michigan.
J. B. Tomle, President of Military Board of Kentucky.
Andrew Johnson, Governor of Tennessee.
H. R. Gamble, Governor of Missouri.
O. P. Morton, Governor of Indiana.
David Todd, Governor of Ohio.
Alex. Ramsey, Governor of Minnesota.
Richard Gales, Governor of Illinois.
Edward Solomon, Governor of Wisconsin.

RESPONSE OF THE PRESIDENT.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, July 1, 1862.—Gentlemen: Fully concurring in the wisdom of the views expressed to me in so patriotic a manner by you in the communication of the 28th day of June, I have decided to call into the service an additional force of three hundred thousand men. I suggest and recommend that the troops should be principally of infantry. The quota of your States would be——.

I trust that they may be enrolled without delay, so as to bring this unnecessary and injurious civil war to a speedy and satisfactory conclusion.

An order fixing the quotas of the respective States will be issued by the War Department to-morrow.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

A Card.

The congregation of St, Peter's Catholic Church, Columbia, would respectfully suggest to the thieves, who, on the night of the 2d July, went into the church yard and meanly stole and destroyed the box-wood borders, that if the evergreens were needed for a public show, they might have been had for the asking, thus saving to them (the thieves) the shame of the crime, and to the congregation the mortification of having to look upon the ruin they have wrought. This is a second or third time that these premises have been so invaded and despoiled by shameless brutes, who, if discovered, will have to deal with the law. This card is not published with the hope that they may be ashamed of the act, but merely to warn the guilty. MANY MEMBERS.

THE COLUMBIA INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF COLUMBIA, LANCASTER COUNTY, PA.

CHARTER PERPETUAL.

THIS Company continues to insure Buildings, Merchandise, and other property, against loss and damage by fire, on the mutual plan, either for a cash premium or premium note.

The success of the Company has far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the Directors, and it will be noticed by the following statement that its affairs are in a healthy and flourishing condition.

Whole Amount Insured $772,707 34.

Balance of Cash Premiums unexpended, Feb 1st, 1861,	$365 18
Cash Premiums received during the the last year, less agents' commissions,	3,315 54
Interest received on money loaned last year,	29 35
		$4,210 07
Losses and Expenses paid the last year,	$2,704 21
Balance of Cash Premiums unexpended, Feb. 1st, 1862.	1,505 86
		$4,210 07

It will be seen from the above that the money paid in advance for policies has been sufficient to pay all losses and expenses and leave a surplus fund of over Fifteen Hundred Dollars, and that the Directors have never levied any tax upon the members of the Company.

A Complete Pictorial History of the Times

HARPER'S WEEKLY,

SPLENDIDLY ILLUSTRATED.

Price Six cents a number; $2,50 per year.

Critical Notices of the Press.

We would not so often call attention to Harper's Weekly if we were not well satisfied that it is the family paper published in the United States, and for that reason, and that alone, we desire to see it undermine and root out a certain kind of literature too prevalent, which blunts the morals of its readers, vitiates their taste for sensible reading, and is altogether bad in its effects.—New London Advertiser.

Its fresh leaves, its clear type, its entertaining variety, its severe but just criticisms upon the follies of the times, its elegantly written and instructive articles, and its able correspondence, all combine to make it the model newspaper of our country, and one that every family must prize. Its condensed weekly summary of Foreign and Domestic Intelligence is altogether superior to that contained in any other journal. Being published too, in a form for preservation and binding, if taken care of as it deserves to be, it will be found in future years as welcome a companion for the family and fireside as the day on which it was first perused.—N. Y. Evening Post.

SILVER MEDAL—1st PREMIUM—1859.
BRONZE MEDAL—1st PREMIUM—1859.

Awarded by the Lancaster County Agricultural and Mechanical Society.

THE subscriber call attention to the fact that the First Premium, a Silver Medal, was awarded him by the Lancaster County Agricultural and Mechanical Society for the best Shifting Top Buggy exhibited at the Fair of the Society in October, 1859; also, a Bronze Medal—First Premium—for the best sleigh.

At his Coach and Carriage Making Establishment, he continues to manufacture Coaches, Carriages, Buggies, Sulkies, and all other vehicles in his line. His reputation as a workman is fairly established, as he can confidently claim for his work the merits of beauty of form, elegance of finish, and strength of structure. One of the distinguishing features of his work is its durability; all vehicles of his build are constructed of
