We would not so often call attention to Harper's Weelly if we were not well satisfied that it is the lamity paper published in the United States, and for that reason, and that alone, we desire to see it underrained and root out a certain kind of hierature too prevalent, which blunts the morals of its readers, vitiates their taste for sensible reading, and is altogether bad is its effects.—New Landon Advertiser.

Its fresh leaves, its clear type, is a entertaining variety, its severe but just criticisms upon the follies of the times, its elegantly written and instructive articles, and its able correspondence, all combine to make it the model newspaper of our country, and one that every family most prize. Its condensed weekly sum; mary of Forcis and Domestic Intelligence is altogether superior to that contained in any other journal.
