AN ARYY OF INVALIDS .- We had always thought Lancaster county noted for the der of the list published in the Spy a few health and longevity of its inhabitants, but weeks since: if the record of the Examining Board can be taken as evidence the reverse is the fact. EXCURSION ON THE READING AND COLUM BIA BAILBOAD .- It was announced, on Sat urday, by the Superintendent, Mr. Crane, that there would be an excursion train run from this place to Ephrata and back on Sucday, the notice being short but few persons availed themselves of the pleasure of a trip over the new road.

We left Binek's hotel at 8.15 A. M., and on arriving at the P. R. Crossing we stopped a few minutes and had a view of the new passenger depot now in course of crection. At this point the Reading and Columbia Railroad crosses the Penna. Railroad. Passengers for Philadelphia taking the train which leaves Columbia at 1.20 P. M. will arrive in Philadelphia 5.50 P. M. Our next stopping place was Litiz; we proceded to the Springs, where we all refreshed ourselves with a glass of water, after which we were invited, by Mr. Tshuly, to the office of the R. & C. R. R. Co. The office is very well arranged, every department being comfortable and convenient. All appeared to be particularly interested in the Director's room, and, stepping inside, we were invited to indulge in a glass of Mr. Tshudy's premium current wine, which, we must confess, is the nicest and best flavored wine we have ever tasted. After enjoying ourselves for a short time at Litiz we started for Ephrata where we arrived about halfnast eleven o'clock. Ephrata Mountain Springe is one of the pleasantest places for summer resort in the country. Mr. U. S. Newcomer, the gentlemanly and accommoduting propietor, tries to do everything in his power to make his guests comfortable and happy. During our short stay we paid force, and keep the Army of the Potomac a visit to the observatory, from which we fully occupied; secondly, Beauregard and had a view of one of the richest and most Bragg were to send a picked force and capbeautiful valleys in the State. The Claim of the Meade Family.

A Pittsburg paper has the following refer ment by the family of General Meade: "It is said that the Meade family to which the Commanding General of the Army of the Potomac belongs, are entitled to an immense sum of money from the Government owing to some international financial ar rangement between the United States and Spain; the Government of the latter country ty required, that he should push on with having originally borrowed the money from his command. Such are the hardships of General Meade's father, who was a Pennylvanian."

The above statement of the St. Louis Democrat is not correct. The Meade claim against the United States has a different history. In 1810, Richard W. Meade, the father of the General, was lucky enough in a commercial adventure to run the blockade of Napoleon's fleet off Cadiz, in Spain, with two schooners loaded with American flour, thus relieving the Citadel of the great seaport of Spain, which was at the time in a starving condition.

The claim was at one time good against Spain. Florida, however, was afterward erock stewed cherries and apples, some ham, sold to the United States for a consideration, with the additional stipulation that four Government should pay certain claims against the Spanish crown, among others that of Mr. Meade

In 1839, the late Hon. Richard Biddle, of this city, after a most elaborate and thorough preparation of all the facts of the claim, urged the payment of it, in his own ener-Mrs. Shreiner-2 pair slippers, 7 pocket getic and cloquent style, before a commitandkerchiefs, a lot of old linen, a quantity | tee of Congress, but without success. CINCINNATI, July 29 .- Special dispatches from Columbus say that the question whether Captain Burbridge had authority to accept the surrender of Morgan will speedily be determined. He was not a regularly elected militis captain, nor had he any command at the time of Morgan's surrender. Burbridge, with a few companions, was acting as guide for Morgan, when the latter, discovering that our forces were closing in upon him, offered to surrender to Burbridge, in order that he might secure terms to suit himself. Burbridge at once granted terms which Morgan proposed. In a few moments
charge of the gang, refusing to recognize the terms of surrender. Morgan will doubtless be sent back to Columbus and lodged in the penitentiary. The draft takes place in this State in a few days.
