Poetry

Written for the "Spy."
Oh! Please Give Me a Penny.
BY THE UNKNOWN.

"Oh! please give me a penny,
Said a little girl so fair,
And a weakly old man said,
Her garments were neatly mended,
Though very scant and old,
Her little fair feet were bare,
And purple with the cold."
Oh! please give me a penny,
Or a little piece of bread,
My mother's sick and starving,
And cannot raise her head,
Said she her heart was breaking,
Her weary life most o'er,
And soon she'll pass the river,
To a peaceful, happy shore.

Communism

For the "Spy."
The Duty of a Christian towards his Country.

Christianity and patriotism are closely allied. It is morally impossible for any one fervently to love God, without at the same time, sincerely loving that land where the Lord has cast his native lot, and where the Lord has given him protection, and the varied blessings of life. That country must be morally degraded and tyrannical indeed, which can awaken the hatred of its native born citizens, or of those, who have fled to it for refuge. But a land like ours, that favored happy land of America, which the Almighty has signally blessed, above the nations of the earth; which has been an exalted light to the perishing heathen; this land of America distinguished for humanity; for science, for virtue and religion; the golden bond of whose Union has been the admiration of all nations, civilized and barbarous, and which Union has been cemented by the toils of many of the wisest and best men; these United States which have done and are still doing so much good in the world, that any one should hate such a country, and plot its destruction, shows the basest, the most disgusting ingratitude. There is no religion in that. "Buy some," there is no longer a Union, there is no Government." Then why don't you go where there is a Government? Go and join the rebels. Don't stay cowering under the protection of this Government which you hate and deny. If your sympathies are with the traitors, go and join them. Sell off, and get protection from the Secessionists.

PART 2ND.

We have a dozen rooms or more, and in some two or three year handsets, balls and chains, confederate jewelry.
Some in our cells, some on boards, some with blankets and some without them.
And they get to sleep the big bugs often route them.
They can never sleep peace though oftentimes so noisy.
For the vermin are so thick and big, the lice them of the vermin.

PART 3RD.

The bread we usually get is of a very good sort. It is the staff of life, but our staff is rather short. We have a kind of mushy flour, once in a week or so, from the poor contract of Hual Canshaw & Co.
Our beef is so lean and dry and tough, that when we eat it, it is like eating a piece of wood.
The beef is so strong and tough, that our axes often break.
The beef is so poor and weak, we were killed to save their lives.
The beef is so made into sausages, the sausages are so strong and tough, that our axes often break.
The beef is so poor and weak, we were killed to save their lives.
The beef is so made into sausages, the sausages are so strong and tough, that our axes often break.
