A Woman's View of Polygamy. While a party of Mormons were on their way to Utah, the Chicago Times savs the following incident occurred at the rail road depot in that city:

One buxom, bright,eyed lass, who seemed to have taken a liking for a bystander who was scanning the party at the Uentral depot, approached him and wodestly inquired if he was married. This question, so promptly put, with a welicate white hand resting on the young map's shoulder, naturally brought a blush to his face and he was compelled to anever in the negative.

s Why dont you marry ?" was the woman's next question.

Jusiver .--- " Because I prefer to remain sjugle."

Female .-... " Do you not think you are placed in this world as a special agent 1. Divine Providence to wield a certain induce in your life for society ? This 1. l lence caunot be of nermanent benefit 1, society unless you hand it down to is ure ages. Why do you not take a wife is a last only propagate but hand down ir name to future generations ?"

Rather disconcerned as to his ability dl these contingencies, the young man willed that he was " hard to please, and ". I never yet meta lady who could fill h · requisite qualifications." Female .- "We have, by the new dissupsation of the Latter Day Saluts, overone all these objections. If you marry a lady in our church and if she does not p'zase you in all points, or even il' she unes, and you wish variety, you can marr, another, or marry more."

Bystander, That is an excellent doctrine und suits my views; but suppose for instance I should marry you and then should see some other lady or ladies that I should like to marry, would you not be - jealous; would you not make a row and abuse the new candidate for the honor of matrimonial alliance with me ?"

you conform with the strict rules of our Church as regards marriage. The cardinal rule is that in marriage man and woman do not unite together merely for the gratification of the ust of flesh, but for a higher purpose-namely, the propagation of our species in our Church. By rapid increase we expect to wield a tremendous influence on the Western continent in the coming generation. In this to a great extent we depend on the conversion and emigration of the musses most frequently than in any other. They have ascertained, in the same way, the number of times all combinations of letters occur in the examples taken. They have then selected twenty-three from those which occur most frequently, and they propose to have these-such as "the" "and," "ion," "ing," "en," "er," etc., cast as single types, thus saving time and labor. This latter improvement is likely to have a trial without waiting for a new machine. Satisfied With the Terms

A certain good natured old Vermont farmer preserved his constant good nature let what would turn up. One day when the blacktongue prevailed in that State one of his men came in bringing the news that one of his red oxen was dead. " Is he?" said the old man; " well, he always was a breechy cuss. Take his hide off and carry it down to Fletcher's. It will bring cash." An hour or se af-terwards the man came back with the news that "line back" and his mate were head with or sumption of the discrimination one of his men came in bringing the both dead. efit of the afflicteu: If wover, Pa., Feb. 16, 1859. Draw Sirs: Having realized in my family impor-tant benefits from the use of your valuable prepara-tion – Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public. Some eight years ago one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were enter-tained. I then provined a bottle of your excellent Ralsam, and before site had taken the whole of the contents of the bottle there was a great improve-ment in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have also been benefitted by it. JCAOB SECHLER. HANOVER. Pa., Feb. 16, 1859.
