delphia. Terms, $3 per annum. REJOICING.—A general rejoicing reigns throughout the land, relative to the prospect of the prices of everything assuming a downward tendency. Persons of limited means exc.especially jubilant, and we just heard our ex-dovil exclaim, "I can now buy a shirt !" Wondering at the singularity of the expression, and observing that he was comfortably clad, we inquired the cause of the remark. His answer was to the effect, that he had read in the papers that Stewart of New York, intended to re namber of butcher stalls and market ta-duce the price of muslin throughout the bles had been increased. LETTER FROM THE 195TH .- Ne received a letter from one of the 195th P.V. but it is to long for publication. Our correspondent compains of the wretched treatment they were compelled to undergo while in Camp Cadwalader, and on the road to the Reg't, According to his statement it is a disgrace to have the men treated as they are in that Camp. It is discouraging for persons to enlist, when they know they will be put under the command of such brutes as infest that place. Let the officials at present in command there be removed, and men having some feeling or their fellow men be placed there. The regiment is encamped at Martins burg, West Va., where letters addressed will reach them. MAN SHOT .- About 10 o'clock on Saturday night last, a well known desperado named William Robinson, shot John Whyle a peaceable citizen of our town .-The circumstances of the case are as follows: Robinson went into Mack's Brewery about the time referred to and asked for beer. Mr. Mack told him that he was out and would not tap any more that night, whereupon Robinson knocked him down. Mr. Whyle witnessing this unprovoked assault, told Robinson he ought to be ashamed of himself to knock such an old man down, when Robinson drew an eightbarrel revolver and fired two shots, one of which struck in left side, near the heart, and inflicted, perhaps a fatal wound. He kept on firing until six shots were fired from his revolver. He then procured a double barreled gun and fired two loads at been brought here by the P. R. R. Co., inthe door of the brewery, saying there were yet some Welshmen that he wanted to kill. A warrant was issued for his arrest and placed in the hands of Officer McGinnis, who, on Sunday morning went to Robinson's house to arrest him, but being apprised of the officer's approach, made his escape through a window, and was chased for about three miles but was captured, and brought before Esquire Hunter, who committed him to prison. When arrested, he had the pistol concealed in his boot-leg.

Two barrels were still charged. Robinson is from Baltimore and is known as a desperate character. He has made or, Rev, Jacob II. Witmer a several threats on the lives of some of our Marks, both of Mountville. as a desperate character. He has made citizens. He came to the election polls last fall, armed with a large dirk knife, steel knuckles, &c., where he made himself generally disagreeable, got into a fight and was stabbed in the back. From all we can learn Whyle is a peaceable citizen, has been in the army and was discharged for wounds received at the Battle of Fair Oaks. He is attended by Dr. D. I. Bruner.
