BY JAS. S. WATKINS. Hope, sweetest comfort, steady friend. Who e'en dost thy succession lend Whene'er my heart's oppressed; Oft I have found thy genial rays Dispel the clouds of darkest days,

And set my soul at rest. But, ah! on earth I dare not cast Hope's precious anchor, lest the blast Of Time and wind should shake, Of surging tempests I should fail,

The safest Hope 's in Heaven above, For God will ne'er deceive;
'Tis in His Son that I confide, And with His promise setisfied I safe and joyful live.
