SEWING MACHINES .- Mr. W. G. Patton at Maltby & Case's stere advertises Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines. He is the Agent in this place for these popular machines. Call and see them.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE .- Mr. J. .G. Hess advertises in to-day's paper, the splendid dwelling on Front street, in which he now resides, also the valuable building not on 2nd street.

J. M. Grider, agent for H. W. Gray, also advertises valuable real estate in this issue.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE .- Mrs. Jacobs sold her residence on Second street to J. G. Hess, for six thousand one hundred and fifty dollars.

Dr. S. Atlee Bockius has sold his residence on Locust, adjoining the Franklin House, to Dr. Joseph Cottrell, for five thousand five hundred dollars.

MALTBY House .- We insert to-day the advertisement of the Malthy House Baltimore. It is, without exception the best public house in that City. It is luxuriously furnished throughout, and the table cannot be excelled for good fare by any hotel in the Union. Our friends stopping at this house will find the truth of our remarks fully verified.

A SLIP OF THE TONGUE .- Recently a young lady went into a certain book store music entitled "When I sleep I dream of thee" but by one of those Iudierous "mistakes which will sometimes happen in the hest families," she astonished the young gentleman of the store by inquiring if he had the music entitled, "When I dream I sleep with thee!" The mistake brought a modest blush to the cheek of the fair inquirer-ditto to the young gentleman.

RAIL ROAD MATTERS .- The difficulties heretofore existing between the Reading & Columbia Rullroad Company. and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in reference to the crossing at this place, have at last been amically arranged as follows: The Reading & Columbia Railroad Company will cross the Pennsylvania Railroad track at Mill street, and take their south track as far as Bachman's planing mill, for which they trade the same length of track on the north side of said road now graded and ballasted by the Reading & Columbia Railroad Company.

We hope that this amicable adjustment of the difficulties between the two companies may, in conjunction with the Columbia & Port Deposit Railroad Company, lead to the building of a convenient passenger depot in a central part of our town. Such an arrangement would be builed with delight by our citizens.

COLUMBIA & PORT DEPOSIT RAIL-BOAD .- We learn that through the indefatigable energy and enterprise of Col. C. S. Kuttanan President of the Columbia and Port Deposit Railroad Company, that said road will be put under concract immediately. We can conceive of no improvement which will redound to the advancement and development of our town more than to see any of them encouraging a dispotent construction and completion of this sition to panic, by prophesying the advent many railroad enterprises, will eventually, as it certainly should, attract capitalrailroad communication, vast fields of irou ore, and carry coal from our Susquehanna and more direct than by any other route.

The lumber trade is secured to our town from its natural position, and this road will only be another artery of trade for our merchants. No other location in our State affords better facilities for the manufuture of iron and other products; and we expect to chronicle at no distant day, that our importance as a manufacturing community is excelled by very few towns in our Commonwealth.

OUR MUTUAL FRIEND.-T. B. Peter son & Brothers, Philadelphia, will publish from advance sheets on November 11th, "Our Mutual Friend," Charles Dickens' New Novel, complete and unabridged, with all the illustrations to match their previous editions of this popular Author's Writings. We predict for "Our Mutual Friend" a very generous reception, as it is one of his bost generous reception, as it is one of his best Books.

THE PAVEMENTS .- It is a very important matter that our sidewalks should be attended to before winter sets in. We have before called the attention of the street commissioners to the pavement on the south side of Walnut street above 2nd. The sidewalk in the upper end of Locust street is in a "sorry plight." Also in Front street is no ur of the sidewalk in the upper end of Locust street and numerous other places in our two hundred thousand have already been sold. Every Machine warranted to give satisfaction, or the money refunded. For sale at the store of Maltby & Case, Locust Street, Columbia, Pa. oct. 21, — W. G. Our authorities having the comfort and interest of the people at heart, should see to the repairing of the sidewalks and street crossings before giving too much attention to other matters of less importance.

TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT .-On Saturday afternoon last an accident happened to the Express train east on the Penn'a Railroad, nearly opposite Mrs. Kauffman's Mill, in a cut on the road. about midway between Lancaster and Landisville, by which nine persons were killed and two or three wounded. Fatal accidents are of such rare occurrence, on this road, that it seemed to take the people for the purpose of purchasing a piece of by surprise, and cast a gloem over the whole neighborhood. It is said by some that the accident was caused by the breaking of an axle, while others say the flange of one of the wheels gave way on the curve. The wheels were all examined before the train left Harrisburg and found to be perfect. The train was on time and running at the usual rate of speed, and the accident was one which it was difficult for human foresight to guard against. There were several persons of this town who got on the train at Landisville, and made the attempt to get into the fatal car but found it too full, and got into the one ahead, thus, probably saving their lives. Wm. F. Lockard, the Assistant Super intendent, together with other officers of Complete in one very large Volume of the road were unremitting in their efforts to minister to the comfort of the wounded and to alleviate the distress of the passen gers. They spared no exertions to secure the identification of the dead and to have them properly cared for and sent to their friends.

For the Sp., CHOLERA .- The Cholera nuisance, (not to speak it profanely) has abated-i. c. the evil of persistent papers, deficient in exciting news, of using large "headings," and capital display of type, telling of the ravages of this dreadful pestilence abroad has diminished of late. A fireman's parade or a good supply of rail-way accidents coming providentially to our relief. Now we are told that to be forwarned is to be fore-armed, but sometimes to be foretold most in apprehension," says the poet, but death is often caused by apprehension, and in alarming epidemics a great portion of the frightened to death are enrolled among the victims of the prevalent disease. Physicians well know this, and I am sorry road. Columbia being the centre of so of Cholera upon this side of the Atlantic coast. Their admonitions, however, with regard to our suitable and wholesome diet, ists to our town. This road will open to to the cleanliness and ventilation of our dwellings, will do us, individually, a great deal of good; and it will be very well if eal fields direct to the seaboard, cheaper through the whole country they can attract the attention of committees, and of borough and of city authorities, to the importance and absolute necessity of proper drainage, and every means of preserving a pure atmosphere. To this end we should all see to it that gutters, sinks and sewers, as well as back yards and cellars, are kept in clean condition-for this purpose we need not only our individual care, but, it may be, the visiting or inspection of street or health committees; but, chiefly we need, some cheap disinfecting agents, for gutters, &c., the usual expedients, lime, &c. being almost entirely inert. Chemists should inform the public upon this point.
