We know that our friend W. will constantly keep on hand the latest style of make and material and we confidently predict that his customers will receive general satisfaction, no matter how fastidious their taste. He can be found at No. 819 Arch street, Phila.

HALLOW'EEN.—On Tuesday evening last, our young folks were out in their glory, distributing corn, removing signs, tearing away street-crossings, and porforming all sorts of foolish antics. Some forming all sorts of foolish antics. Some young ladies were promenading the streets with their mouths full of water, hoping to meet their future protector, when one with a very large waterfall, was rathor surprised by bringing up square against a gentleman of color. She soon emptied her mouth and started home, terribly frightened to think that she was destined to wed an "American citizen of African descent." Some of the performances were carried to extremes, such as throwing mud against the doors and windows, and those having the impudence to engage in it should be punished.

That, the offal from Mr. Wike's slaughter-house was, at this time, throw into a small pool of standing water, in the open small pool of standin comes from the sources above mentioned some way or another.

SUCCESSFUL SURGICAL OPERATION. -We witnessed a surgical operation performed by Drs. Hottenstein and Craig, on Thursday last, on the left eye of Mr. Al. C. Grier, son of Dr. J. II. Grier, of Nippenose Valley, Lycoming County, and brother of W. H. Grier, foreman in this office. Mr. G. has suffered for many years the inconvenimees of being cross-eyed, so much so, that it has ever been source of great annovance to him. He had seen notices of to order, sti styles of boots and shoes. He the successful operations performed by has also received a new assortment of hats the above named Physicians, in the Spy, and concluded to give them a trial. He rejoices now, from the fact that his eye is straight and natural. The straightening of the one shows a slight defect in the other, which will probably be operated on in a few weeks. The operation was in every way successful. It was performed in a few minutes and without pain. Mr. G. says that he feels himself under many obligations to Surgeons Hottenstein and Craig for their success in his case. They performed a similar operation on two
