BER WOUNDED.

Over two hundred accidents from kicking and running away of horses occurred during the past year, in Lancaster county alone nearly all of which resulted in injuring the drivers, killing some, maining and wounding others, and in most cases, breaking costly carriages and hurting the

Of the above, nine-tenths were tame family horses. The safety bridle will put an end to all such needless accidents, and with the Safety Lines the speed of every horse is easily much increased.

At the special meeting of the Saddlers of Lancaster city, Nov. 27, 1855, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
WHEREAS, The usefulness, power and safety of Dr. Hartman's Safety Bridle and Lines have been publicly demonstrated demonstrated in the presence of from one thousand to fifteen hundred persons to their entire satisfaction; and since it was proven at the Millersville horse exhibition on four of the most vicious and confirmed on four of the most vicious and confirmed kickers and runaways, that with the Safety

Resolved, that in view of the above facts we deem it our legitimate duty, both indi-vidually and collectively, to exert all honorable means to at once introduce the Bridle and Lines, because in doing so we in a very great measure prevent all acci-dents with horses, while with the old and lefective bridle we put in great jeopardy

The lines only require to be made to order, and these can be made by any saddler for a trifle more than the ordinary

Loetry.

Written for the Columbia Spy. Under the Willows. BY EVA ALICE.

'Tis Winter! and the sky is dark and dreary, Sad are my thoughts, and my heart is weary; With a dismal sound now the rain drops fall,

And the icicles cling to the garden wall. The meadows are brown, and the trees are bare, and the fierce winds shrick through the frosty air The birds and the flowers, have pass'd away

And sadness dwells in my heart to-day. Bleak! dead! and so cold seems each hill and plain; And the hail stones beat 'gainst the window pane From the scenes without, I now turn away: Yet darker, still darker, the shadows play.

The bright flowers within, they too have flown, Flowers that I fondly called my own, And "my birds" sweet songs are now heard

They have flown, all flown through my cottage doc The angel of Death, with his gloomy pall, Has shrouded the gleam of the once bright wall And without and within, all seems forlorn

Sorrow, to-day, is my dismal guest: And the gloom has settled deep in my breast; In you valley-churchyard, the mounds are new And there my poor heart lies buried too.
