PICKING POCKETS AT FUNERALS.-An interesting girl of sixteen years was convicted in the New York Court of Special Sessions, of pocket-picking at funerals. It appeared from the testimony of one witness that a death occurred in his house, and at the funeral the prisoner came in, pretending to be a mourner, and her movements around the room led him to suspect her motives. While all were engaged in prayer he noticed the prisoner glide to the side of a woman, who was deeply affected, and insert her hand in the woman's pocket. The week prein the woman's pocket. The week pre-vious a death had occurred in his broth-fore introduced to the people of Columbia. er in law's family, and he saw the prisoner there, and after the funeral was will be found all the latest novelties, in over two hundred dollars was found to have been stolen from one of the mourn-

-The Petersburg, Va., Ecpress says: A venerable freedman, passing through Bank street at an early hour the other mourning, just in front of the writer of Flavoring Extracts, Corn Starch, Farina, this, planted his foot on a five dollar bill, and there held it, fearing to stoop and pick it up, least some one should see him and claim it. We saw the alriot trick, but not having owned as much as a fivedollar for many months, passed the old darkey unmolested. Hour after hour elapsed, and there the unfortunate finder stood, firm as a rock, the enormous brogan entirely covering the five-dollar greenback. At no moment could he see the out a contest with some disputant. Finally darkness came, to the great relief of the sable gentleman, and he quietly transferred the V. from its lowly place, and exalted it to a position in the folds of his capacious pocket.

DISAPPOINTED LOVE .- To a man, the disappointment of love may occasion some bitter pang; it wounds some feelings of tenderness; it blasts some prospects of tender felioity, but he is an active being, he can dissipate his thoughts in the whirl of GUM GOODS. varied occupations; or, if the scene of Stalls and Pencil Erasers. sociations, he can shift his abode at will and can fly to the uttermost parts of the earth, and be at rest. Her lot is to be wooed and won; and if unhappy in her love, her heart is like some fortress that has been captured and abandoued and left desolate.

FIVE DAUGHTERS .- A gentleman had five daughters, all of whom he brought up to some respectable avocation in life. These daughters married, one after another, with the consent of their father. The first married a Mr. Poor, the second a Mr. Little, the third a Mr. Short, the fourth a Mr. Brown and the fifth a Mr. Hogg. At the wedling of the latter, her sisters, with their husbands were present. After the ceremonies of the wedding were over, the old gentleman said to his guests: I have taken great pains to educate my daughters, that they fastidious epicurean. might act well their part in life, and from their advantages and improvements draught, also the best wines. I fondly hoped that they would do honor to the family; and now I find that all my pains have turned to nothing but a poor, little, short, brown, hogg. -

LIVES LOST BY THE REBELLION .-The Department computes the number the quart or done up in every style of deaths in the Union armies since the PETER REISINGER, of deaths in the Union armies since the commencement of the war at 350,000 and of the Southern soldiers at 225,000 making at least 525,000, lives that have been lost, a part of the costly price paid for the defence of the nation's self. At Gettysburg, 23,000 Union soldiers were killed, wounded or taken prisoners-our greatest loss during the campaign. Gen. Grant's losses, from the time he crossed the Rapidan until Lee's surrender, were about 90,000.

-Arlington Heights still remain in the possession of the government, but it is said the wife of tien. Robert E. Lee has recently written to a friend that suc intends to return there, if she is obliged to live in the "black quarters." This is indicative of the strength of her adetermination to reassert what she considers the rights of herself and husband to this historic property; but among the other obstacles she will probably encounter is the fact that twelve thousand Union soldiers have been buried upon its soil.

" ATTENTION, SOLDIERS OF OUR LATE ARMY."—Many Discharged Soldiers have claims of which they have no knowledge. By sending for a Circular to L. Brown & Co., of No. 2 Park Place, N. V., information will be furnished which may be valuable.
