The News.

The President has vetoed the freed men's bureau bill. It was returned to the Senate Monday afternoon, accompanied by a message, in which the President states his objections. The points made by the President are these:—First. That the bill gives the executive too much power. Second. That the measures provided for in the bill would entail too much expense upon the Government. Third. That the legislation provided for in the bill is not necessary. Fourth. That the bill is unconstitutional.

A Fenian Congress is now in session in Pittsburgh. A messenger of the United States Express Company was robbed of $40,000 in St. Louis on Saturday.

Gen. Grant has revoked the order for suppression of the Richmond Examiner, and has issued a circular to department commanders to furnish information relative to papers which utter disloyal sentiments, with a view of their suppression.

Cortinas is said to have beaten Canales in Mexico lately. The Rio Grande is very unsettled. Sergeant N. Winslow, United States cavalry, was murdered below Brownsville, carrying dispatches. II. J. F. Burglerster was also killed while going to testify in the Brownsville affair. Escobedo surrounds Monterey. He has not taken it. Gen. Negrete is at Brownsville. Some of Juarez' men have joined Maximilian.

A gentleman having occasion to pass through Arlington at dusk on Saturday, saw a lovely figure standing with folded arms at the foot of a tree. Struck with the sorrowful attitude of the person, he walked past him, and saw that it was R. E. Lee, standing in the street that passed through the middle of his old estate. Mr. Lee has applied to the President for the restoration of his estate, which has virtually become a National Union soldiers cemetery. The expectation is general that the President will order its restoration.

Maximilian's treasury is empty. His Ministers say the very existence of his empire rests on the procuring of a loan of $100,000,000, negotiations for which are in progress in Paris. Bzaine has recently loaned Maximilian $300,000 out of the French funds. The present strength of the French army is 26,000. Between 16,000 and 17,000 Mexicans have been executed by the Imperial courts-martial since the 1st of January. During the past week $300,000 in fractional currency were issued to national banks, and $57,000 to assistant treasurers and others. There is still an urgent demand for more, especially in the south. The Printing Bureau is instructed to print $100 daily of all denominations, until further orders.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad was held on Tuesday. The report of the directors shows that the net earnings, during the year '65, were $1,189,110.95. A resolution approving of the establishment by the company of a line of steamships between Philadelphia and Liverpool, in connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad, was adopted.

L. L. Dawson, an alleged defaulter from Illinois, was arrested in New York on the 25th. Gen. B. F. Butler is reported to have paid Smith & Bros., of New Orleans, the $30,000 he was charged with taking from their vaults, with interest and damages, making the whole repayment $150,000. Smith & Carr's Kerosene Oil Works, in Brooklyn, were burned on the 20th. Loss $50,000. No. 13 Cedar street was burned the same afternoon. Loss $30,000.

Messrs. Seward, McCullough, Dennison and Welles sustained the President's veto message in Cabinet meeting.

Soldiers for Omece.

It is reported that quite a panic prevails among the department clerks at Washington, growing out of the rumor that it is the intention of Government to soon fill their places with the scarred heroes of the battle-field. The application for "something to do," from this class of the people are so numerous, that it is felt, where the Government can give them employment without causing positive distress to those already in its employ, that it should do so. The principle would be as correct in itself, and as easy of application to the military offices of a minor character, through the country, filled by able bodied men from civil life, as to the departments, and we hope that the reported intention of the government as to this deserving class of men will be carried to its extent.

Editorial and Miscellaneous.

The funeral of John R. Beatty, formerly a resident of Columbia, took place on Monday last. He died suddenly at Harrisburg.

The amount of revenue paid by Benjamin Mishler, Proprietor of the celebrated Mishler's Bitters, in the month of January last, was three thousand, nine hundred and eighty dollars and fifty-two cents.

The case of J. Becker and others for making fraudulent whisky returns has been settled by paying $42,216, with all the costs attending the case, and paying a portion to Geo. H. Ethla, the informer.

Why should every lamplighter be named William? Because Bills run up so quickly.

Oh, why your cheeks become so pale, Your eyes are dimmed with tears, And why do you look so sad, my wife, It kills my heart with fears.

Dear husband, the cause I'll tell you, For indeed it is so strange, Error since we have been wed, Your looks have been so changed!

Then do not grieve again dear wife, For now I'll tell you the cause, And get the clothes I always got, From Evans and Worral & Co.

Most of the miseries of life result from our straying from the path which leads to content.

"One bumper at parting," as the man said when he ran against a post.

Joe and Bill Benton went to New Orleans with a flatboat of corn. Joe wrote to his father thus:

"No Orleans, June 5.—Dear Dad market is dull and corn is mighty low and Bills dead."

What is the difference between a tunnel and a speaking-trumpet? One is hollowed out and the other is hollowed in.

"Come, rest in this bosom," as the turkey said to the stuffing.

Josh Billings says:—"There is 2 things in this life for which we are never prepared, and that is twins."

A little girl of three, very fond of her boy-playmates, was repeating her prayer after her aunt. When she came to the close, she exclaimed, "Auntie, don't say 'A-men,' say 'A-boys!'"

A captain, who had a sound-sleeping mate, caught an Irish boy in the middle watch frying some pork and eggs he had stolen from the ship's stores, to whom he called out, "You lubber, you; I'll have none of that." "Faith, captain, I've got none for ye," replied the boy.

"What are you about with my microscope, George?" "I've been shaving, father, and I want to see if there are any hairs in the lather as yet."

A Paris butcher has obtained authority to open a shop for the sale of horse flesh, on the condition that he will construct a special slaughter house for the horses, the flesh of which is to be sold for food.

A new novel by Bayard Taylor is now passing through the press and will be before the public very soon. It is named "The Story of Kennett," the scene being laid about the village of Kennett Square, Chester county—the author's native place.

National refinement is indicated, to no small extent, by a delicate appreciation of the comparative merits of perfumes; and it is a proof of the critical taste of the American public in toilet luxuries, that they have adopted as the standard article of its class, Plalou's "Night Blooming Cereus." Sold everywhere.

The Grand Masonic Lodge of Pennsylvania has authorized M. W. Grand Master Orr to draw upon their treasurer for the sum of one thousand dollars, in aid of the Grand Lodge of South Carolina. In addition to this, considerable sums have been donated by the New York and Pennsylvania Lodges in behalf of local lodges in Columbia, S. C., and elsewhere.

A widow lady named Mrs. Henrietta Watts, from Dayton, Ohio, accompanied by her children, arrived in Chicago on Wednesday. On the cars she formed the acquaintance of a man, who, after many enquiries as to her history, proposed to marry her. To this she consented, and they proceeded to a hotel for that purpose. While there the man, by the practice of strategy, got possession of two hundred and fifty dollars belonging to Mrs. Watts, and absconded, leaving her entirely destitute in a strange city.

A negro woman of St. Louis, being taken with cholera, sent for a doctor, who wrote a prescription and laid a weight upon it in the shape of a piece of coal, and told the messenger to take it to the apothecaries and have it pounded and given in three doses. On calling next day, he found his patient well, and found that she had taken the coal instead of the prescription.

How to Loop Up Dresses.—The looping up is managed thus: Six strips of broad black braid is sewn at equal distances and in straight lines down the skirt; each is sewn to within fourteen inches of the edge of the skirt; a hook is attached to the end of the braid, and an eye is added inside the skirt; eighteen inches from the bottom of it. When it is desirable to shorten the dress, the braid is looped over and fastened to the inside; but when the skirt is to hang down, the braid can be fastened to a small loop which is sewn outside the skirt, and at the extreme edge of it; the braid will then form straight lines all around it. Buttons and loops may be used if preferred, instead of hooks and eyes. The braid should be two inches wide.

What Newspapers Do for Nothing.

The following should be read and pondered well by every man who takes a newspaper without paying for it.

My observation enables me to state, as a fact, that publishers of newspapers are more poorly rewarded, than any other class of men in the United States who invest an equal amount of capital, labor, and thought. They are expected to do more service for less pay, to stand more sponging and deadheading, to puff and defend more people without fee or hope of reward, than any other class.

They credit wider and longer, get oftener cheated, suffer more pecuniary loss are oftener the victims of misplaced confidence, than any other calling in the community. People pay a printer's bill with much more reluctance, than any other. It goes harder with them to spend a dollar in a valuable newspaper, than ten in a needless gewgaw; yet every body avails himself of the editor's pen and the printer's ink.

How many professional and political reputations and fortunes have been made and sustained by the friendly though unrequited pen of the editor? How many towns and cities have been brought into notice and puffed into prosperity by the press? How many railroads now in successful operation, would have foundered but for the "lover that moves the world?" In short, what branch of industry or activity has not been promoted, stimulated and defended by the press?

And who has tendered it more than a miserable pittance for it's mighty services? The bazaars of fashion and the haunts of dissipation and appetite are thronged with an eager crowd, bearing gold in their palms and the commodities there needed are sold at enormous profits, though intrinsically worthless, and paid for with scrupulous punctuality; while the counting room of the newspaper is the seat of jehing, cheapening trade, orders and pennies. It is made a point of honor to liquidate a grog bill, but not of dishonor to repudiate a printer's bill.

Railroad Rates of Travel.

The following "rules of the road" are based upon legal decisions, and ought to be universally made known. The courts have decided that applicants for tickets on railroads can be ejected from the cars if they do not offer the exact amount of their fare. Conductors are not bound to make change. All railroad tickets are good until used; conditions "good for this day only," or otherwise admitting time of genuineness, are of no account. Passengers who lose their tickets can be ejected from the cars unless they purchase a second one.

Passenger. A passenger who is ejected from the cars, and is obliged to comply with all reasonable demands to show their tickets. Standing on the platform, or otherwise violating the rules of the company, renders a person liable to be put from the train. No person has a right to monopolize more seats than he has paid for; and any article left in a seat while the owner is temporarily absent entitles him to the place upon his return.

A RUNAWAY LOCOMOTIVE.—Yesterday morning owing to the switch at the Relay on the Northern Central Railway not been properly fixed, the locomotive with the passenger train, which left Calvert Station, at 9 o'clock, ran on the track of the Western Maryland railroad. A locomotive of the latter company, was waiting the arrival of the train, a short distance from the track of the Northern Central. Observing the approach of the other locomotive, the Engineer of the Western Maryland, desiring to prevent his engine from being demolished, started it and jumped off but in a few minutes the Northern Central locomotive ran into and damaged it considerably.

The platforms of several of the passenger cars were broken somewhat by the collision that ensued. The engines were not stopped until they had reached Brooklandville, a distance of three miles.—Baltimore Telegram, 20th inst.

THE BURNING WELL.—The burning well, twelve miles below Franklin, in the Allegheny, still attracts a good deal of attention: It continues to burn with unabated fury, lighting up the country for many miles. Each night its brilliancy is noticed at Franklin, Reno, Oil City, Clarion, and all the neighboring towns. The steady heat which it produces has produced singular effects in its immediate vicinity. At the distance where the temperature is suitable, a circle of green and beautiful grass rapidly grows up, and is from two to four inches high.—Some hickory trees, standing within its range, have commenced budding out in all the luxuriance of summer. The scene is one of the most magnificent; and at the same time most interesting which can be conceived.—Reno Times

The completion of the double track through the Howard Tunnel, Northern Central Railway; (six miles from town,) on the 81st ult.; filled up the only remaining gap between this place and Baltimore, and since then trains have been running the entire distance on the double track. Another unfinished portion at the Gap powder Creek had previously been put in running order by the completion of a magnificent iron bridge across that stream.—York Gazette.

The proprietors of a large distillery in Canada, are on trial for swindling the government out of $180,000, by smuggling whisky into the States.
