A Clergyman Killed Going to a Funeral—The Corpse Restored. The Lacrosse Republican has a correscondent who was recently visiting at West Bend, Wisconsin, when he learned the following facts, which are substantiated by Hon. E. O. Thorpe, who resides at West Bend. "On Saturday, the 3d instant, at West Bend, the Rev. Mr. Miller was called to go into the country, a few miles from town, to preach the funeral sermon of Mrs. Lambert, who was supposed to be dead. She was arrayed in her funeral attire and place in her coffin. It appears that Mr. Miller was the owner of a fractious horse, that was sometimes unmanageable, and would run away. He was to pass through a timber country, and on account of snow drifts the road was almost impassable, and from this fact the horse succeeded in throwing the minister from the cutter.

From appearances Mr Miller was thrown with great force upon a large oak stump that was filled with short knots .-----One of these knots came in contact with and severed the juglar vein. When he was found life was almost extinct from loss of blood. He was taken to the nearest house, and medical aid at once procured, but he only lived a short time .---The cutter was found some distance from where the accident occurred, and the horse detached from it. But the most singular development of this sad and mysterious affair is yet to be told: Further information proves that Mrs. Lambert was not dead, but had been in a trance for two days presenting every indication that life had departed. She is now improving, and expected very soon to recover. She states that she could hear every word spoken, and could realize the preparation her friends were making for her funeral, but could make no re-Her grave had been dug. She now lives, and the minister who had been called to preach her funeral sermon now lies buried in the same grave made to receive her last remains.

THE RINDERPEST IN ENGLAND .-The United States Consul at Sheffield. England, writes to the department of State under date of Larch 6, 1866, that the steady increase of mortality among has now extended to the sheep, which is a proof of its contagious character. The Archbishop of the Diocese has recom mends that a day be set apart for special prayer and mortification under the heavy chastisement of the cattle plague, and among the exercises to be used on the occasion, strange as it may appear to dissenters, who form a large portion of the popuation, is the communion services.

Where the Fashious Come From. Mrs. Stowe, in the Chimney Corner of the April Atlantic, tells us where the fashions come from. The leadership of fashion is entirely in the hands of a class of women, who would not be admitted into good society in any country. Women, who can never have the name of wife, who know none of the ties of family, these are the dictators whose dress, equipage and appointments give the first law of France, and through France to the civilized world. Such was the confession of Monsieur Dupiu made in a late speech before the Franch Senate, and acknowledged with murmurs of assent on all sides to be the truth. This is the reason why the fashions have such an utter disregard of all those laws of prudence and comomy which regulate the expenditures of families. And we all nue, &c., approved June 30, 1864, and agree with Mrs. Stowe that "somewhere between the fast women of Paris and the harron of the levy, return and collection of the indaughters of Christian American families, come tax approved by said act be postthere should be established a cordon sanitaire, to keep, out the contagion of manners; oustoms and habits, with which a noble minded, religious democratic people ought to have nothing to do."
