The News.

Eighty-seven cases of arms belonging to the New York Fenian Senate, have been seized at Eric, Pa.

The health of Jeff Davis is improving: Dr. Wm. Wilson, an enterprising and s distinguished citizen of Bethlehem, died at his residence on Monday afternoon. At a special election for member of the City Council, held in the Thirteenth uel Wylie, Independent Union candidate, received 148 majority over Golonel Schley, the regular nominee.

In the United States Senate, on Thursday, the Military Committee reported a bill to provide for the equalization of bounties to soldiers in the late war, accompanied by a report in regard is set down at $242,834,875.

The West Chester Democrat in com menting upon the Stonewall Jackson celebration at the South, says, among the toasts drank was one

"Henry A. Wise: Prisoner of war-unforgiven, unforgotten," to which this distinguished individual responded as follows.

"I don't know that I am a prisoner.—
[Laughter.] I am bound by no chain. I have a pass to go where I please upon the soil of my native land. At least General Grant says so. I may be arrested but I wanted no man living to tell me whither I might go, [Cheers.] I have the proud satisfaction of saying that I fought until we had won the privilege of being paroled. [Applause.] There is no authority here or elsewhere to arrest me or to stop my mouth so long as I obey the condition of that parole I shall stand so long as I live. [Applause.] You call me a prisoner of war; I am not prisoner of war. If a prisoner at all, I am a prisoner of peace. Among the last shots fired by infantry at Appomattox were then fixed by the troops that I had the honor and pride to lead; and here at Appomattox peace was brought about.

You call itlost; it is not lost. If it is lost, the cause of civil liberty is doomed, for it too, is lost. There was a Paradise lost and a Paradise regained, and there will be a Paradise regained, and there will be a Paradise regained in this country. The blood that has been spilled is too precious. I should not believe in God if I did not believe that a special providence would yet give victory to and secure the triumple. "I don't know that I am a prisoner.

I should not believe in God if I did not believe that a special providence would yet give victory to and secure the triumph of civil liberty in this country.

"One thing can be said, there was one man who could not be driven to do that which he did not consent to do. As long as one man in this commonwealth—a voice."

I should not believe in God if I did not be liver to do not be advertisement in another column.

which he did not consent to do. As long as one manin this common wealth—a voice, ['What Common wealth?'] What Common yealth? There never was but one Virginia. But I tell you Old Virginia is not at home. She will come back some of these days, and then the devil take the hindmost. I am watching, and will tell her when she comes what has been done in her absence. Fill say, 'Mamma, your children did not do watching, and will tell ner when she comes what has been done in her absence. Fit say, 'Mamma, your children did not do that.' It was done by imposters and pretenders.'—Again I say, there is but one triders.'—Again I say, there is but one triders.'—Again I say, there is but one triders.'—Again I say, there is but one triders.'—Adain I say, there is but one triders.'—A dentist of our acquaintance says it is much easier to take the "Tartar" off a woman's teeth than off her tongue.

—The Printing livision of the Treasulous of the United States. Perhaps you may delean boots on your streets sooner than bow to usurpation. If I had triumphed, I should have favored stripping them all maked—[laughter.] Pardon! They might have appealed for pardon, but I would have seen them damned before I would have granted it. For myself, the boot being on the other leg, I take no oaths, I ask no pardons. (Prolonged Cheers.)

The printing livision of the Treasulous of the United States. Perhaps you may for the United States. Perhaps you may for the United States. There is few advantages arising from Sanitary measures to be cnacted for the prevention of cholera' to our shores. There is Fessender, Harris, Conness, Wilson, Salislers, Partington has it, the mantle department.

That is honest and outspoken to say tive man, and the sentiments expressed by him meets with a hearty response from almost every leading rebel in the South. The lenient policy pursued be appointed. by the President, has made them impudent and defiant. Wise was not so blatant immediately after the surrender of Lee. Then he anticipated different freatment both for himself and his comhanged as a traitor, but seeing now that there is no danger of that, he again assumes the character of the bully and ories-AIf I am a traitor, why don't they try me and hang me." Were we President of can go where he pleases—taunting and flagon of this famous extract. Sold every insulting Northern Union men, and reit erating his treasonable doctrines with impunity. The struggle is not yet over with him. He still looks forward to their who has been traveling, extensively ultimate success. Had the South been throughout Alabama and Mississippi Successful, he would have stripped the during the past few weeks, we have a Northern people naked! What North tern, man doubts this, in the face of the much larger amount of this staple cereal fact that thousands of our brave, noble has been sown this year than ever before, Union soldiers were murdered and starved and the blades are already two feet high: to death in their pestilential prison pens ! As for pardoning them, (the North,) he would have seen them dumned before he would have granted it !" Of course he would; and yet in the face of their record of barbarous cruelty during the rebellion, and this frank confession of one of their representative men as to the treatment they would have administered to Northern people had they been successful, what are we asked to do? close inspection you made of Treasury; White thouse, War Dep't, &c. Idid expect a graphio description of the place where Miss digrris stood screened by the book case and clock, when she brought stamp, but there is deep significance to those masculines of the libertine school, who care not what misery they entail, so that they may have somewhat of which they can boast among animals (miscalled' men) of their own species. While speak. ing of Uncle Sam's banking establishment, the "Cashier's Room" is well worthy of a few moment's observation. The large burglar proof safe is a wonderful specimen of mechanical ingenuity.-Here, drafts payable in New York may be obtained free of charge. Once a month the Clerks of Depts., having families in the States, take advantage of the facilities offered to send maney to the loved ones at home. The western front of the Treasury will be, when finished, one of the most magnificent in the Union. Some of the stones cost $4000. 'Tis said the old State Dept. will be taken down to make room for the northern extension of the Treasury. In the event of the State Building being demolished, the White House, after being made fireproof, will be appropriated to state purposes. If this should take place, it is in contemplation to build an Executive Mansion in a more healthy locality. Now Mr. Editor, let us walk into the White House, to be the occupant of which so many have spent years of intrigue with eringing, unserapulous politicians. The east room now denuled of its lace curtains, which vandal relie hunters had clipped and spoiled, looks quite plain .-Congress has made liberal appropriations to put the Mansion in proper order. You are well aware no person can see what is worth seeing in this city in one day, if the object is to see with comfort and to profit thereby. The Smithsonian will of the following simple rules. Sond a directed envelope and stamp to Manage LUCILLE of the full employment for one day. Tis now undergoing the necessary repairs after that destructive fire of January, 1865. Of course the splendid Gallery of Indian paintings can never be restored. Another interesting place to visit is the Patent office. You are aware a spacious wing of this building has been set apart for models. The statues and busts of the illustrious dead, Washington, Lincoln and Webster, arrest the attention of the passer by. The clothes worn by Washington, with his camp equipage. The coat worn by Jackson at New Orleang, with many precious relies, merit a close inspection. If any of your young friends wish to spend a pleasant day they can find place and opportunity in this building. On leaving this Chamber we find ourselves in the midst of the Lobbies, who are always busy, with them we have no business. As we proceed we find on either hand, stands covered with photographs, paper, weights &c. On reaching the Rotunda, you find there many like yourself, citizens of the States intent in seeing all that can be seen in the shortest time imaginable. Of course you don't expect me to describe the paintings by which we are surrounded I confess my nability, much less to describe the lifelike figures looking down from their lofty eminence in the Dome. A graphic sketch of the overhanging Group (if mistake not) has appeared in a letter from "Correspondent" to the Spy. I have admired the research or plagiarism which gave me so much information .-As the House is in session, we had better take a look at the people's Representa tives. Speaker Colfax rules impartially with unceasing watchfulness. Here the American people rule through their Representatives. It has been well remarked, that a more intellectual Congress, has never sat in this or the old ball. Before I bid you adieu, permit me to change the scene, and, introduce you to a smaller and less pretentious liouse, the Hamlin M. E. Church. On Sunday last the Rev. Jesse T. Peck from California dedicated this house to the service and worship of Almighty God. at which time worship of Almighty God, at which time he preached a most excellent sermon.—

Upwards of $2,000 were subscribed towards paying off the debt incurred in erecting of the house. At 3 o'clock the Rev. Mr. McAllister of New York, preached and at 8 o'clock p. m. the Rev. PATENT MEDICINES.

If faith would cure disease, our physicians' occupation would be gone; the afflicted need only read the advertisements in the papers to be 'made whole;' but the nostrong prepared by these pseudodectors does not often "lack up" the faith inspired by their advertisements. We do not mean to concern all so-called patent medicines, for some have been found to be very valuable. In this class we would include toe's Cough Balsam, for coughs, croup, hoarsness, dec. and Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, for indigestion, dyspepsia and all troubles of the stomach or bowels—they have been tested in thobsands of cases. Our dealers all sell them.

Velpenn's Remedy for Cholera. The lavorite remedy of this successful practitioner [See Velpeau on Cholera.] Its small bulk, energy and reliability commend it to residents in the country, travelers and prudent people everywhere. DR. TEBBETT'S PHYSIOLOGICAL Hair Regenerator.—The wonderful popularity of this Preparation is unprecedented.—
It is becoming the standard article over everything of the kind, and is the only unobjectionable Hair Preparation in use; without it no toilet is complete;
if once used it never will be dispensed with.
It positively restores White, Gray, or faded Hair, to its original color, lustre and beauty.
It often produces a new growth of beautifut Hair on bald heads, and always stops its falling off.
It frees the head from all dandruff, itching and lumor.

Odor.

It is neal, does not soil the finest fabric or skin.

As a dressing, it is unrivaled, delightul.

No other preparation has either the meritor popularity; wherever it goes. Every bottle warranted.
