B. F. Appold, hearing that the party were trying to dispose of it, offered them five dollars, and what purports to be a gold watch, which offer was immediately accepted. The fact coming to the ears of McGinnis, on Monday, he forthwith arrested the party. Upon an examination had before the Justice, the defendants alleged that they traded a mare for the colt to a certain Widow Campbell near the Buck Tavern in Drumore Township, On an examination of "Bridges' Atlas of Lancaster County," it appeared that a person of that name lived near the Buck Tavern. On Tuesday the Constable went to Lancaster, thence to Mrs. Campbell's, and learned from her that the defendants had been there and traded as alleged, and also sold a horse for five dollars. The Constable at once surmised that the mare and horse were both stolen and gave directions turn, at Lancaster he saw a hand bill stafrom the Gov. of Md.

Lutherans vs. Catholics.

Michael Thomas of this place, a full-blooded but an ignorant German Catholic and correspondent for the Baltimore Catholic Voltseitung, reports in No. 14 of that paper, as follows; Several Protestants got converted into the holy, "only saving" catholic church, after having renounced all the heretic errors of the Protestant Church. Will this enlightened German please show us in what those heretic dogmas of the Lutheran Church consist, and how many of them there are? Will he also please prove that the Catholic Church is the only saving church and that all the members of the other churches are condemned!! other churches are condemned!! Since the protestant Prussians defeated

The peculiarity of this beautiful garment consists in its having a French Yoke (gore shaped) attached to the waist-band, both of which are of fine English Satteen. The effect of the Yoke is to lengthen the back, taper and give a more graceful slope to the dress producing a flowing and beautiful train and causing the over-skirts and dress to fit more closely to the form just below the waist, affording ease and comfort to the wearer. The peculiarity of this beautiful gar-
