Cholera is spreading rapidly in Nashville, and everybody is leaving the city. There were 55 deaths on Friday.

The Oregon House of Representatives at auction in a few weeks. has passed the constitutional amendment

The President will hereafter decline to receive any committees or delegations presenting programmes for removals from and appointments to office.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' National (radical) Convention assembled in Pittsburg on Tuesday. Delegates were present from Maine, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota. Kentucky, Missouri, Texas, California, torrents of feeling and a perfect deluge Nevada, Utah and Tennessee. General of sense. General Barlow read the programme .---Rev. Gen. Moody made a prayer. The Star-spangled Banner was sung by a chorus of young ladies. The appointment of committees and other prelimina- iron was fusing. The child was instantly ry business was gone through with. A series of resolutions were offered by Gen. Collis of Philadelphia. Everything passed off harmoniously.

Judge Underwood expresses the opinion that the Virginia Legislatures at its next session, will inaugurate a movement looking to the adoption of the constitutional amendment.

It is said that Fred. Douglas will soon commence the publication, in Alexandria, Virginia, of a paper to be devoted to uni- selling the ladies corsets and such things, versal suffrage.

Letter From Haltimore, Baltimore Md., Sept. 25th 1866. DEAR SPX :-- Cold at last--this is the only exclamation gladdened humanity can utter after so long a season of hot and changable weather, at least, it is the first salutation one receives upon meeting another on the street or in the drawing as a Democratic landmark, is to be sold room. And it is cold-my teeth chattered furiously yesterday morning and the breath of boreas, though afar off, had the ments, and to day I am again winter clad in the habiliments of merino and wool. I an glad it is so,-glad for two reasons

-first because sickness will decrease, the cholera be less fatal (where it is,) and secondly, because it will have the welcomed effect of making all sorts of business good. If a man's business be not good, of course his patronage to his neighbor is dull, if the merchant is dull, the printer complains, and so moves the world in such an uneven why that every one is peevish and cross, and no one is ready to dress give his neighbor a civil answer. I long for cold weather; what say you, reader? The Somerset, one of the Liverpool Steamers came up to her wharf a week ago with cholera on board, but was soon ordered away by the health officers, and sent to quarantine, there she has been kept until the last few days when she was allowed to come up to the city and unload, having been thoroughly fumigated and cleaned by the health officers of the port. Her passengers going west were READ! READ! READ! allowed to pass on, while those of the city were sent to the harbor hospital, there to be kept until all danger of the disease shall be passed. The officers deserve much praise for the prompt manner in which they have worked in this case, in trying to keep the pestilence from our city, it having been free from it thus far, while all the country north and south, more or less, seems visited by it. Political matters are all ablaze-Know Nothings, Whigs, Locofocos, Democrats, Conservatives, Radicals South, Radicals North, and Union Men are all mixed up so that it is a hard matter to tell what I am myself, whether a Johnson supporter
