It is very rarely that we feel inclined to call the attention of our readers to. any of the gift'arrangements with which our papers have lately been flooded; but this scheme of what we may call the Crosby Art Union, is so largely and generously conceived, as well as so handsomely and unequivocally indorsed by the leading citizens of Chicago, that we unhesitatingly give it our cordial approval. The cost of the Opera House was $600,000, and the individuals who are disposed to purchase such a property at such a price, are rare, even when its accompanying stores offices and studios rent for $30,000. What in this case was to be done? Mr. Crosby or those who may be associated with him are sagacious men. They originated this Art Association; so broadly and liberally arranged, it can scarcely fail of insureing itself a positive success. In the first place, they offer to every subscriber, not alone a share in the Opera House, with the chance of ultimately becoming its sole proprietor, but a possibility of obtaining also other very valuable premiums. These consist of Bierstadt's great painting,"The Yo Semite Valley;' Cropsey's "American Autumn;" Schussele,s national work, "Irving and his Friends;" as well as works by the lead-ing artists of the country. The first seven are in actual value $43,000. That this is a positively genuine offer no doubt can exist, as the artists give it their unhesitating and cordial approval. Under any circumstances this ought to guarantee | MEN'S and BOY'S WEAR DEPARTits purity and intention; but when such a series of prominent citizens of the Western Metropolis permit Mr. Crosby to use their names in his advertisements as a proof of his good faith, such a guarantee is immeasuarably strengthened .----At the tame time we may call the at tention of the timidly speculative to the fact that every purchaser of a share receives an engraving of at least double the value of the money which he has paid. The whole scheme is so magnificent in all its arrangements that we shall indeed be surprised should Mr. Crosby not speedily realize the whole of the amount required by him. U. H.
