COLUMBIA PA. Saturday Dec. 22, 1866.

Advertisements, to secure immediate insertion must be handed in on or before Thursday evening each week.

The amount of national bank currency issued last week was $344,440.

The United States Treasury disbursements for the War, Navy and Departments last week amounted to $3,583,113.

The influenza is an epidemic in the Sandwich Islands. There is an average of twenty deaths daily in Honolulu.

The South Carolina House of Representatives has postponed indefinitely expressing sympathy with Jeff Davis.

A rolling mill, at Buffalo, N. Y., was burned on Monday. The loss is about $100,000.

About $60,000 worth of whisky, from Washington, Philadelphia and Richmond, was seized yesterday in Baltimore, for evasion of the revenue.

Dr. S. P. Moore, Surgeon General of the rebel Confederacy, is reported to have received a pardon.

Andrew J. Hunter has been elected U. S. Senator for Arkansas, for the term of six years from March 4th next, and John T. Jones has been elected for the unexpired term of William M. Fishback, resigned.

A disastrous tornado visited North-eastern Texas on the 4th inst., destroying an immense amount of property, and doing great damage to the surrounding country. Six persons were killed and a number injured.

The New Bowery Theatre and several adjoining buildings, in New York, were burned on Tuesday.

Further advices received from Europe increase and intensify the interest of the narrative of the pursuit of Surratt after he escaped from Rome.

Hon. C. V. Culver has been released from jail at Franklin, and has gone to Washington in company with the sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives.

Appointments to and Removals from Office. The bill reported from the Judiciary Committee December 5th, for the regulation of appointments to and removals from office, was taken up as the special order.

An extended and miscellaneous discussion took place on the bill, which was considered as if in Committee on the Whole, and various amendments were proposed, discussed and acted upon.

Mr. Stevens (Pa.) offered the following as an amendment: SECTION 3. And be it further enacted, That every person who has been or shall hereafter be nominated to the Senate for office, and who shall fail to receive the advance and consent of the Senate thereto, shall be incapable of holding any executive office under the United States for the term of one year after such rejection, unless two-thirds of the Senate shall relieve him of such disability.

The predecessor of any nominee rejected by the Senate shall still continue to hold his said office.

He spoke in support of his amendment. He said that during the last six months a class of the meanest men had God ever overlooked in making men had been appointed to office, and are now awaiting rejection or confirmation by the Senate. He had no doubt that a great many of them would be rejected, but if the President were allowed to appoint them to any other office he would reward them all. The President understood taking care of just such men. They were his national wards.

Mr. Stevens would punish them for their meanness in crawling through such slime. The very fact of their acceptance of office was evidence that they were too mean to hold it, and too dishonest to be trusted with it, and that for at least one year they should hold no office.

After considerable discussion the yeas and nays were taken, and resulted—yeas, 18; nays, 181.

An effort will be made again to pass Mr. Stevens' bill, with some amendments. There seems to be no doubt of its final passage.

The New Ironsides Destroyed. The U. S. frigate New Ironsides was burned at League Island on Saturday night last. She was built in Philadelphia, of Pennsylvania oak and iron, and was considered the best iron-clad in our navy.

The New Ironsides was launched at Kensington, in May, 1862, and did conspicuous service during the rebellion. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. The New Ironsides cost $1,500,000. She had a wooden hull, and was plated very heavily. She served in the South Atlantic Squadron at Charleston, where she suffered from the explosion of the torpedo boat 'David,' on the 14th of August, 1863. Her injuries were slight, however, and were readily repaired.

We have by ship at present in the service which has won more renown in so short a space of time than the New Ironsides. She was a capital sea-boat, competent to make a voyage without aid, and to hold her own wherever she went. She inaugurated a new era of naval ship building.

SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC. This medicine invented by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into cream, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Tonic unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are resorted to in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the Seaweed Tonic and three or four boxes of the Mandrake Pills will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. Schenck makes professional visits in New York, Boston and at his principal office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place or his pamphlet on consumption for his days of visitation.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of consumption, and the other when now in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, price $1.50 per bottle, or $1.00 per dozen. All orders and advice should be addressed to Dr. Schenck's Principal Office, No. 233 N. 2d St., Philadelphia.
