However, you do this, when suddenly the large black dog, aforesaid, sinks his teeth into your right leg. This, you are informed, is the "Masonic grip." You are then placed in a wheel, and shut up. This wheel is run swiftly round the room 47 times. It stops and you are lifted out, being too dizzy to help yourself. Of course you cannot clearly distinguish inything; but you seem to be surrounded by heads, arms, legs, chairs, windows, carpets, tables and gas-lights. Singular Fight between an Eagle and a Fox.

Strathmore, correspondent of the Northern Ensign, records a singular encounter between an eagle and a fox on a hill called Benalskie. The eagle was devouring the carcass of a mountain hare, when fox sprang from a bush and seized the intruder, which had come to rob him of his prey, by the wing. A well contested struggle ensued, in which the bird made desperate attempt to defend itself with its claws, and succeeded in extricating itself from its enemy's grasp, but! before it had time to escape Reynard seized it again by the breast, and seemed more determined than ever. The eagle made another attempt to overpower its antagonist by striking him-with its wings, but that would not compel him to quit his hold. At length the eagle attempted to take wing, but Reynard was not to be cheated in this manner. At last the eagle succeeded in raising the fox from terra firma, and in a few minutes he was suspended by his own jaws between heaven and earth. He was now placed in an unfavorable position for fighting, but his courage did not seem to forsake him; as he firmly kept his hold, and seemed to make several attempts to bring the eagle down; but alas he soon found the strong wings of the eagle were capable of raising him above the clouds. There was now no way of escape unless the bird would alight somewhere. The eagle made a straight ascent, and succeeded in raising to a considerable height in the air. AGE OF MASONRY.-From a recen statement in a Moscow paper, it seems that St. John's Lodge No. 3, of that city, has recently celebrated the 809th anniversary of its existence, it having been erected by charter from King Malcolm, in 1057. We should like to see the muster roll of that Lodge, beginning more than eight centuries ago, and running along with the ages to the present time. What kings and kingdoms have risen and fallen since the gravel was first sounded in its East. How the world has changed, and what progress has been made in science and art. Eight hundred years is the lifetime of a Lodge.

On Mr. Greeley's visit to Richmond, to become one of the bail for Jefferson Davis, a newspaper of that city says that it is the first visit he has paid to that city for thirty-one years. In 1836, he passed renton, North Carolina, for the purpose of being united in matrimony to a lady, a schoolmistress, born in the North, but then engaged in teaching in that place. He was married by a Richmond clergyman; and on Sunday last, Mr. Greeley heard this clergyman preach in Richmond, and renewed an acquaintance began so many years ago.

D., writes to the Cincinnati Gazette to say that a great number of living animals are to be found in a spoonful of some kinds of sugar, especially Porto Rico. He says the best way to see them is to put a spoonful of sugar into a saucer of cold coffee, and set the saucer on a table near the window, on the side of the house from the sun, then put the face near the saucer and look across it towards the window, and you will see them moving all over the top of the coffee.

To MAKE GOOD YEAST.—Take a dozen large potatoes, a pint of hops boiled in gallon of water, mash the potatoes well, add a teacupful of sugar and one of salt, one pint of yeast. Let it rise a day, then put it in a jug and cork it loosely; put about half a pint to a gallon of breadraising.
