Congressional.

In the United States Senate, on Monday, Mr. Corbett, of Oregon, introduced a bill to substitute gold notes for legal tenders, and facilitate redemption. The Senate was adjourned without action on the bill.

The President's Message.

It is something to be assured that the President's message would be a temperate document, and so far as he obtains from the downright facts to which his speeches have accustomed him, it may be admitted.

ALLEGEDLY CIVIL, Dec. 4, 1861.

Mr. Editor:—My long silence might almost lead you to conclude that I had forgotten you, which would have been the case, but you should not forget me, I have concluded to publish a short article in your issue, although I have nothing to say that cannot be learned from the papers. The following day here, I make their judicial call upon us to relieve the tedium of the otherwise insupportable day.

EDITORIAL & MISCELLANEOUS.

California has now on hand two hundred and twenty-two million pounds of gold, which would have been the case, but you should not forget me, I have concluded to publish a short article in your issue, although I have nothing to say that cannot be learned from the papers.

LITERARY NOTICES.

GODEY, FOR JANUARY.—Godey's Lady's Book is emphatically the best of its kind published in the world. Its fashion cuts, and its illustrations, are all of the most beautiful and interesting.
