Nothing but wisdom and firmness can now avail-to shake the dragon of official corruption from the national throut, and the people look to every member of Congress to do his duty. Should this government pass wholly into the hands of its enemies, no one can predict the humiliating friends." But a restive people, suffering under present evils, may be led to commit the destinies of the country to those whose hands are yet stated whith our blood, and whose history shows that no barriers that laws or constitutions pre-sent will deter them from accomplishing the be-hests of their leaders. "I sincerely beg your indulgence for the earn-est expressions I feel impelied to use; but the cause and the occasion seem to warrant the use of liquid fre, if by such means Congress can be but particily impressed with the duties and the perils that demand their attention.".

540 Miles of the Union Pacific Railroad, We kept hearing of it all summer, and late into the autamn-how ten miles of. track were laid per day, until the foot of the Rocky Mountains was reached, 517 miles wost of Omaha, and one thousand miles west of Chicago. We had supposed that the contractors might stop there-that old Boreas would have blown such a frosty breath out of the bosom of the frowning Black Hills, and followed it up with such a snow blanket that railroad building would have waited for spring and a warmer sunshine. But no: onward was the word. and to-day the locomotive is within ten miles of the highest summit in the mountain-chain that separates the Atlantic and Pacific States, and during this year of our Lord, 1868, much more than half the distance between the Missouri River and the any cause, for the only grounds the British Bay of San Francisco will be spanned by a first class Railroad.

The intervening stage trip between the two ends of the atic Railroad line will be but a romantic holiday excursion, and we have no doubt that the passenger traffic in that direction this year will be a full carnest of the imcompletion of the work perhaps two years later. The Union Pacific Railroad is especially fortunate in many ways. It is true that, unlike any other line, it will be a monopoly; but nothing less than a monopoly could have commanded the large resources necessary to carry it through, and as it was, all but a few far-seeing capitalists declined to stake their fortunes on the result.
