BANK STREET.-Another week has come and gone and not a move made in reference to repairing Bank Street. It seems to be, as yet, the receptacle for all kinds of filth. There are some persons who still continue to throw their garbage in the alley. Who is it? If our devil, with his ink pot, can catch them, we know they will imagine a ray of sunshine never struck them.

CARRIED OVER THE DAM .- Henry Rodenheiser, Jos. Long and Wm. Metz, who were engaged in boating sand on the Susquehanna river, at this place, were carried over the dam, on Tuesday last, About 3 o'olock a sudden gust of wind came up, and their frail bark becoming unmanageable all were carried over the dam. They were rescued by some fishermen who happened to be not far off at the time. They made a very uarrow escape.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES .-- We have received a very neatly printed card from Prof. T. R. Vickroy, to attend the Second Annual Commencement of Lebanon Valley College, which takes place in the new College Chapel, at Annville, Pa., next week. The exercises will commence to-morrow, with a sermon by William S. H. Keys, a talented and able divine of this place. We regret that pressing business matters will prevent our being present at these interesting exercises. Prof. Vickroy is one of the best school managers we know of-a good linguist, a ripe scholar and clever gentleman. Under his care and guidance he has brought the Lebanon Valley College up to a standard of excellence to be envied by similar institutions.

A FIRST-CLASS CONFECTIONERY .-Among the many large establishments devoted to the retail trade in Columbia, we may mention the confectionery and ice cream establishment of Mr. Allen Richards. He has lately fitted up an elegant store, with handsomely furnished rooms attached. He has a very fine assortment of foreign and domestic fruits, nuts, cakes, candies, &c. He will serve families and parties with everything pertaining to either fruit or confectionery, and we would advise our readers, when in want of such merchandise, to give him their patronage. Read advertisement in to-day's paper.

A SWINDLE .- Reed & Co., New York, are sending out notices to parties, notifying then that they have drawn a present valued at $200, in the 2d Grand Distribu-tion of the Riverside Institute. We give below, a fac-simile of this notice, so that should any one receive them, they will take warning and treat them accordingly:

GRANT AND COLFAX .--- Mr. Albert D. Richardson, author of the "Field, Dungeon and Escape," "Beyond the Mississippi," &c., is about publishing a complete history of the life of General Grant. It will be the est work of the kind yet issued, as it will contain over twenty-five full-page engravings, with an elegant steel engraving o Schuyler Colfax, and condensed sketch of his life. Mr. Richardson is the only one who has sought the truth by labor, perseverance and travel. He has left nothing undone to get all such information as would enable him to give not only a life, but a real History of the Man. He has interwoven with it a thousand reminiscences and incidents connected with the General und his position ; bundreds of mementoes of remarkable places and events ; fac-simi-lies of rare and valuable documents includng the unconditional-surrender and other letters from Generals Grant, Buckner, Lee and others, from the originals entrusted to him, (and which no other work has or can the past ten years, and with General Grant, never before given to the public; and, in fact, a mass of such incidental and important matter as will make the book not only exceedingly valuable and interesting now but tenfold more so in coming years. Had we now such a history of Washington and his times as this will be of Grant and his times, it would be invaluable.

AN ELEGANT ESTABLISHMENT.-We are always pleased to record enterprise whether it is in our town or in the neighboring cities, and though we have several very large stores in Columbia, the one of Mishler & Moers, at Reading, would be 'town talk " for months. The proprietors, during their sojourn in Europe in 1867, at various places took drafts of stores, which, proved, and the result is the erection of the neatest and most showy store in the State. It is located at No. 533 Penn Square. The front is principally glass, the windows being oval and resting on a marble base, and somely ornamented with flowers fres coed on glass, from an idea taken on the Boulevard des Capucines, in Paris. The cornices are very elegant, being principally carvings in walnut. The counters and shelvings are of walnut, interlined with ash, with a border of gilt. The ceiling is white, with sides of flowers of plaster of Paris. Two large seven-light chandeliers are suspended from the coiling, which give the store an effect to be seen and not described. The rear end is graced with a mirror costing $360; the carving upon the and Daniel are courteous, and men of taste, &c., &c., will certainly bechested. In very we know that all who call once will call rare cases something may be given out to again. Our readers will do well by reading

READING, MAY 21st, 1868.—This is to certify that my daughter has been afflicted with vomiting and subject to cramps in the stomach for several years. A number of friends pronounced the case one of severe Dyspepsia. Hearing of the carative properties of your Life Drops I was induced to try a few bottles of it, and to my great satisfaction and to the relief of my daughter, found it to be of great benefit in this case, and after using it a short time she was entirely cured of the alliciton. Mr. Editor: — I have just been examin-ing a series of political and outline charts for school room use, published by Messrs. Cowperthwait & Co., Philadelphia, and left at Mr. W. U. Hees' store by the gentleman-ly agent of this popular publishing house. An examination of these specimeus con-vince me that, in regard to mechanical exe-cution, they cannot be excelled. There is that in their completeness, blending of colors and beauty of finish, which makes them very pleasing to the eye, and pecu-liarly adapted for school room use. I recommend them to the notice of all teach-ers and school boards. EDUCATOR. COLUMBIA, PA., June 10, 1868. Schuyler Colfax. 25 FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.
