New Buildings .- Mr. Michael Liphart, builder, has commenced the erection of five brick buildings on Fifth street, between Cherry and Union streets, for James Burrells. They are to be two stories high, with back buildings, and will be completed in about four months. They will addborough. Mr. Liphart has now some fourteen buildings under way in different parts of our town.

VACATION -The church Conneil of the Lutheran Church have given their pas-tor, Rev. W.-H. Steck, a vacation of four weeks during the hot season. There will consequently be no service in the church during the next four Sabbaths, except the regular evening prayer meeting, at halfpast six. Rev. Steck is a hard worker and faithful pastor, and well deserves the vacation granted him. We hope he may return to his flock refreshed in body and spirit, to resume his labors among us;

Busy Bodies The above mained class of individuals are quite numerous in every community, and yet are detested by everybody. They are always loud in their pretentions of honesty and virtue; aye, more, they daily predict that something is about to transpire, especially that for which. they in the narrowness of their soul, (out) of pure envy or malice,) most desire. Poor creatures! let us pity, but never be deceived by them. They are true to their own development—badly made up! The law of eternal progression will produce wonderful changes with such-so it will with the granito rock.

STREET SPRINKLING .- Hew much the comfort of our citizens would be increased by having in our town a street sprinkler we need not attempt to describe, for all realize how agreeable the introduction of such an "institution" would be. The cost attending the same would not be great. A small subscription from those having stores or dwellings upon the principal streets of the borough would keep our streets free from dust during the many weeks of warm and dry weather we shall most probably yet have; and nearly every one, we think, would be willing to contribute to so good an object.

THE LOCAL NEWS .- Concerning this important feature of the SPY, ,we take the language of an exchange, that we have so frequently requested our friends in the various sections of the county to send us the items of local news transpiring in their midst, that we hardly know how to again set forth the importance of the matter in a new light. It is the local news which gives character and value to the county newspaper, and without this they are more or less insipid. Therefore, we again request, send us the local news, and if you cannot, write well, no matter; we will see that the composition is all right; if we are only fur-

Is LAGER INTOXICATING. The question as to whether lager beer is intoxicating, so often raised, as often decided, but never at rest, is now under consideration in one of the 'western towns. In some sections we have noticed the grain already out and hanied in, and by the end of the present week the greater ortion will be safely deposited in the barns of the husbandman. The crop from all appearances is a good one, and the weather has been very favorable for harvesting. Should the crop turn out as expected, the poor, as well as the rich, may rejoice at the prospect of cheap bread. It is illustrated with a number of ne cuts, and in style and make-up it is equal to the best; We, find, the, name of J. P. M'Guigan, formerly of this office, as one of the publishers.

MUSICAL .- Columbia is blessed with musical amateurs, ready to get up a mid-night serenade at short notice. On Saturday night they were out in full force, and the upper end of town had a benefit. As the sweet (?) singers made their weary pilgrimage to those places they favored reinforcements of devotees joined them at every step. 'Auld Lang Syne? was the favorite, and it s long since we heard such a performance, and excuse all farther efforts. We hope the repose of this quiet neighborhood will not disturbed by the would-be musicians in the future. 1.1.1.12.22.2.2117.47.22

MATRIMONIAL INSURANCE COMPANY. -We see it stated in an exchange that a matimonial insurance company is soon to go into operation in Harrisburg. It will insure men against getting bad wives, and women against getting bad husbands. If some of our friends in Columbia will take the agency of this company for Columbia and vicinity we will insure them an immense business, and in fact we know of one individual already who will take out a policy as soon as business is commenced.

ATTENTION, SANITARY COMMITTEE.— We yesterday noticed, in taking a walk over town, that the alley running through the borough, between Walnut and Locust streets, produces a very unhealthy odor. This alley has a number of slaughter houses built upon it, said to be built in the best manner, yet from some cause there is still enough blood and filth, it seems, to create a very unpleasant and unhealthy effluvia. This should be looked after by the Sanitary Committee at once, and the nuisance abated. The gutters and alleys in other parts of the town also need attention. We fear the warm weather has had bad effect on the Sanitary Committee.

AMERICAN HOUSE BILLIARD SALOON AND RESTAURANT, -Jacob Wall has refit ted and made extensive repairs in the Old American House restaurant, and in connection with it. he has opened a splendid billiard saloon. He has two of the Kayanagh & Decker's tables, beautiful in style and finish. These tables have been apwho say they are superior to any other make-improved catgut cushions. GOOD WINE .- The wine manufactured by the Conestoga Vineyard Company, Laneaster, Pa., appears already to be gaining quite a reputation. We heard it spoken of is the purest wine in the market. We have: had some experience in the manufacture of wines, and can say for the Conestoga Vineyard Company, that their wine is equal to to be pure and madulterated. Persons in sickness or in health, who are in search of good wines, should not overlook this Company. All their wines, &c., are warranted.

A STRANGE AFFAIR.—Several-weeks-since; a manifered and process of the toll gates in this county, and, shouting that he had not time to stop, threw his and were informed that no such person as an account. pocket-book at the astonished and indig-nant gate keeper. The keeper of the gate there. picked up the pocket-book with fear and trembling, and, suspecting that it was an "infernal machine," did not dare to open it until Saturday last, when to his astonishment and delight, he found seven dollars in genuine greenbacks. It remains a mystery who the man is, and what was his hurry. He must certainly belong to the whisky ring; nobody else could afford to pay gateage so lavishly.

A NORRISTONIAN SCALPED.-We clip the following from the Norristown Inde-pendent, in reference to the young man, J. G. Bones, whose death we announced some time since: "J. Grier Bones, son of Mrs. Sarah Bones, on Cherry street in our town, formerly of Dowingtown, Chester county, Pa., left here a year ago this summer and communication, we make an exwent to Lawrence, Kansas, and has been this case, and answer the letter. employed as a telegraph operator! A short time ago he went with a party of young men on a buffalo hunt from Cayota, Kan-isas, when they were all lovertiken by a squad of Arapuhoe Indians; who killed two of the white men instantly and afterwards shot a third with an arrow: Among the two killed at first was J. G. Bones of our town, a young man twenty two years of age, of great promise and kindly disposi-tion. Mrs. Bones is a worthy woman, and is not only sorely depressed at the sad intelligence of the douth of her soul but is also awaiting with anxious solicitude further intelligence from her husband who is also in the western region, and has been missing for the last six months! These people are highly respectable and have a wide cifele of acquaintances in Norristown, Chester and Lancaster counties, where they have at various times resided. The deceased was large man, very quarrelsome, and a perfec terror to the boatmen. He has been fre quently arrested in this place.

Journalism .- "The Daily Columbi Spy," a handsomoly, printed newspaper 191 by 28 inches in dimensions, has made ts appearance within the last few days It advocates the election of Grant and Col fax, and is published by A.M. The Spx has been published as a weekly journal for many years, but the inreasing business of the flourishing townof Columbia now demands a daily—a want, that apparently will be satisfactorily supplied.—Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS!-We received a communication yesterday, animadverting severely upon the School Board, for employing strangers as teachers, "while others, as well qualified," amongst our own citizens, were rejected.
We are not in the babit of noticing anonmous letters, in any way, but as this is evidently written in good faith, and probably in ignorance of our rule, requiring the real name of the writer to accompany every communication, we make an exception in In the first place, then, by electing these nine men as School Directors, we delegate to them all our right to dictate in the choice fund, and can only call them to account in case of actual violation of the school law; but at the same time, we agree with our unknown correspondent, in the opinion that when different applicants, of equal capacity and fitness present themselves to the Board, preference should be given to our own citizens-our own, tried teachers first, and next, the pupils of our own schools; first, and next, the pupils of our own schools; and such we are informed, is the course pursuad by the School Board of this place. Whether there has been any deviation from this time-honored custom in the choice of teachers for the coming session, we know not, but have no doubt that our correspondent can obtain any information he desires on the subject-by-applying to the Directors in person—that would be the proper way.

Manheim is turned into a miniature New York. For 25 cents the traveller is carried over the dusty road from the railroad station to the camp ground: All sorts of vehicles are to be found, from the four-inhand to the nondescript of Rend Wolf & Co. —the Co. meaning a white pony and spare Rosinante, such as the redoubted Don

We may expect another scorehing day. We had the usual morning exercises in the Columbian prayer meeting tent, Rev. Bro Smith conducting. There was a blessed experience meeting at the stand at 8 o'clock. Brethren and sisters from Illinois, New Jersey, Washington, D. Yours, &c., Mone Anon MANHEIM, July 16th, 1868. Mr. Editor, I told you that Columbia had choice ground to camp on. ' Now Tam happy to inform you, that not only Columbians but all those who attended at the stand for the evening service, had the pleasure of hearing a powerful and instructive sermon from the Rev. S. II. C. Smith, of our bor ough. His discourse was on the power and assurance of the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. The God whom Rey. Smith serves enabled him to present the Truth in an accoptable manner. Our prayer is, that God will make his labors in the church, both here and Columbia, productive of much Chunch Gossus. These animals are good. Although the lient was almost unlmost as destructive in their operations as bearable, yet such is the anxiety to hear ocusts. If they would come to annoy us that the seats around the stand are well crowded by those having camp chairs.

Well, Mr. Editor, the cry is "still they come." Every train that arrives brings its load of worshippers, who are quickly lost amid the streets and avenues of the great encampment. I hoped to be able to-day to give you as near as possible the number of tents on the ground. This is too much of a task; besides, lents are rising here and there, and for several days to come.

many more will be put up.

I saw, while passing over the camp, the Rev. Matthew Simpson, D. D., one of the Bishops of the M. E. Church. We hope to hear shim: preach before the close of the camp services. If I can inform you in advance of the time thought the Bishop preach. rance of the time (should the Bishop preach will do so, as I know some of our tow) vance of the time (should the Bishop preach) I will do so, as I know some of our town folks, are anxious, to hear, him, Dr. and Mrs. Palmer's happy faces are seen on the ground to-day. Like their Master, they go about do-day. Like their Master, they go about doing good. We had an experience meeting in the Columbia prayer meeting tent at 6 o'clock this morning, and at 8 o'clock there were interesting meetings held in many, of the larger prayer meeting tents. At 10 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. McDonald, of Boston, preached (from Acts Is chap, commoneing at 24 ver.) an excellent discourse. In the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Simmons, of Conn., will preach, and in the evening, the Rev. Mr. Gracey of the Phila. Conference. We were glad to welcome the Rev. Mr. Steck, of Columbia, to-day.

I must rot omit to mention that God, who is rich in mercy, sends us a refreshing breeze. While I write, to look out and see the forest trees swaying to and fro, and then to feel the cooling effects of that heaven-sent messenger, is enough to raise the heart to the Giver of every good and perfect gilt.
