CHESTER County items, from Record: John Pyle, of Chatham, was seriously in-jured on Friday, the 7th inst. It appears that the lad who was about 'S'or 9 years of age, went in company with a cousin of the same age, into the meadow where the horse was pasturing. Young Pyle carried small stick in his hand, with which he struck the horse. The animal turned and kicked, striking him just below the temple. His cousin ran crying to the boy's mother saying her son was killed. The mother went immediately to the field and found him lying souseless on the ground, covered with blood. Dr. Mulberry was called in he found the boy's pulso very low and the limbs quite cold. The cut on his face was an inch and-a-half long and into the bone. The child was senseless until the next day; though so badly hurt, hopes are entertained of his recovery. This should serve as a warning to parents-too much care cannot be taken in regard to animals.

APOPLEXY .- On Sunday, the 9th instant, on his way to Stottsville, he was seized with an apoplectic fit when he had gone about half a mile from home, and fell down in the fore part of the wagon with one hand and arm hanging outside. The horse went on a mile or two while Mr. F. was unconscious and was stopped by a neighbor-Mr. F.'s hand and arm which hung outside were considerably torn and bruised?

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE HON. THAD-DEUS STEVENS.—Goy., John W. Genry, at the close of the address which hosmado at the Harvest Home, held at Bainbridge, on Thursday last week, paid the following tribute to the memory of our late Representative, Hon. Thaddens Stevens: Fellow Citizens : I cannot with propriety retire from the stand, without recalling to your minds the sad and melancholy cir-cumstance which was announced yesterday norning, and briefly to assist you in pay ing honor to the memory of our departed friend and fellow-citizen; Hon. Thuddens Stevens. He has passed from the busy seenes of busy earth, in which he was an active participant for more than thirty-five years, to that bourne from whence no trav-eler returns. Few men having occupied public position, and continued in it for so ong a period as he has, have attracted so large a portion of public attention, maintained an equal degree of mental, distinction, and carned a name that will live with such shining lustre after death. His enlarged views, ardent patriotism, and eminent powers as a statesman and parlia mentarian, were felt and acknowledged by all throughout the Republic. He doubtless had his faults, as all other men have, but let his faults be buried with him. He may have committed errors, but "to err is human." His whole career has been chequered with great events. Often compelled to act on the impulse of the occasion, in circumstances greatly diversified, where it was impossible to travel upon beaten tracks, and when the sky of our national existence was overcast with threatened alamities, unshrinking, without a moment of doubt or hesitation, he met cach terrible issue as it arose. Triumph did not elate, or failure discourage him, and finally he vas permitted to live to see the dawn of a brighter day. The niemory of his many virtues; his great and cultivated intellect, and his eminent abilities as a jurist and a legislator; will never die; it will survive the recollection of man, and forever live in the records of our courts, our State and National legislatures, and in the history of our country to which he was so ardently attached, and which he has so long and so faithfully served. His reputation having passed into history, the voice of political party is hushed in it is the property of his country, whose destiny seemed to consti-tute him her guardian and defender. Rapidity and excellence of construction have been secured by a complete division of laborand by distributing the twenty thousand men employed along the line for long distances at

THE EARNINGS OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD, from its Way or Local Business only, during the year ending June 30th, 1868, mounted to over

The price is 10.2, and at the present are of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost. A very important consideration in determin-ng the value of these bonds is the THE LENGTH ing the value of these bonds is the THE LESGTI OF THE THEY HAVE TO RUN.

It is well known that a long bond always commands a much higher price than a short one. It is safe to assume that during the next thirty years, the rate of interest in the United States will decline, as if has done in Europes, and wo have a right to expect that such alt perfect, securities as these will be held that such alt perfect until the second of this Government, which, in 1897, were bought in at from 20 to 21 per cent. above par.
