TELEGRAPHIC SUMMARY.

Bishop Stevens met with a severe accicident at Bethlehem, on Sunday last. While passing along the sidewalk in South Bethle-hem, at a point where the walk is graded several feet above the road, from which it is divided by a low parapet, he stumbled and fell into the road. On being taken up it was ascertained that the Bishop had sustained a fracture of one arm, and also of one leg, which is broken near the knee, Ho is at the residence of his brother-in-law, Professor Henry Coppee, and is receiving the best surgical attendance and care.

The following State Legislatures will be called on during the coming winter to reelect the present incumbents in the United States Senate, or to elect others: New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Maine, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Nevada, Nebraska, New Jersey and Delaware. New York will, in all probability, return E. D. Morgan. It is understood that Governor Fenton's name will be used as a candidate, and also Judge Noah Davis, Congressmen elect from the Monroe and Orleans district. In Pennsylvania there will be a sharp canvass for the place of Buckalew, who will have to give way for a Republican. Among the candidates already named are Glenni W. Schofield, Galusha A. Grow, John W. Forney, Benjamin Harris Brewster, James K. Moorhead, Wayne McVeigh, Thomas Williams, Wm. H. Kemble.

Thomas Armstrong, of the firm of Armstrong, Cater & Co., of Baltimore, the oldest active merchant in that city, died on Saturday last, aged ninety. Baron James Rothschild, head of the house of Rothschilds, bankers, died in Paris on the 15th inst. General Grant, a number of Senators and Representatives, Generals Hancock and Thomas, and Admirals Farragut and Porter, will go to Fortress Monroe, on the 20th inst., to witness General Humphrey's experiments on the monster guns. OLD WOMEN.-If a whimsical or ridiculous story is told of any one, it is sure to relate to an old woman. If a man lacks wit, or is any way eccentric in his ideas of neatness and propriety, he is called an old man. A deficiency of firmness of purpose, or timidity of intercourse with the world subjects one to a similar epithet; and yes what does the common sense of this saying. mother? A being filled with devoted and who would not practice self-denial that she amount to? Simply this, that a man is like his mother. And who, pray, is a real disinterested love for her offspring. Did any any one hear of a selfish mother? of one might minister to her children? Here then, is a trait that is really old womanish and the only one, in our mind, that distinguishes the peculiarities of venerable females from those of selfish bombastic Obedience. Whenever the truth of God-to whom all sovereignty, majesty, and power belongand the commandments of men come in competion together, we must say, as the Apostles said: We ought rather to obey God than man." And when this is done, it must not be called disobedience to superiors, but it is obedience to them, because it is obedience to God, who is above them. And if we be put to sufferings for this, then therefore the Apostles says to servants, if they suffer anything of their musters in cently and patiently, they suffer it for Christ. So that if men's commandments be contrary to God, we must in that case sub mit ourselves patiently to God and suffer rather than obey them.
