Advertisements, to secure immediate in-vertion, must be handed in on or before Thurs-day evening, each week. To TRAVELERS.—The trips of the Ferry-boat across the Susquehanna, at this place, ceased on Wednesday, on account of the ice. NEW TOLL House.-The toll house for the new bridge across the Susquehanna river, at this place, is nearly completed. It is quite an improvement on the old

HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY.—Some of our young men are canvassing the project of organizing a Hook and Ladder Company. The move is a good one, and if it should be successful, will prove a decided auxiliary to the efficacy of our fire

M. E. MISSIONARY SOCIETY .- On last Sabbath, the missionary meeting of the M. E. Church Sabbath School was held, at 3 which $24 was returned by the children as their contribution for the month of November. The occasion was very impressive, and highly gratifying to the large concourse of visitors present.

CONVICTED .- Geo. W. Alexander, recently the revenue collector in Berks county, has been convicted of receiving bribes from several distillers, who defrauded the Government out of the tax on whisky, The parties to the crime were the principle witnesses in the case. There is still another indictment pending against him.

How to RAISE A CROWD.—Ruise a brick in the sidewalk, put a little terrier in the hole, and make believe you are hunting rats. The destructive element is so strong in man as well as "purps," that you will draw a crowd in a few minutes big enough to fill an ordinary meeting house. How to disperse them: Raise a collection, or try to, for the benefit of a church, or for any charitable purpose whatever.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Col. C. S. Kauffman sold, on Saturday evening last, in consequence we have five long hours a portion of the property (Fairview Farm) until bed time to devote to amusement and as advertised in these columns by him, as study. The endearments of home constifollows: Tract No. 1, containing about 12 tute a world of pleasure in themselves and acres, with double two-story brick dwelling house and other improvements to Henry E. Wolfe, for $480 per acre. Tract No. 2, containing 73 acres was sold to Mr. John Strine, for $286 per acre. Tracts Nos. 3 and 4 were withdrawn.

The property of Mrs. Charlotte Elder, Locust street, after being bid up to $5000

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—On Monday last the Agricultural and Horticultura Society, of this county, met at Lancaster. The reading of, essays on fruit and grain culture occupied a good share of its time. It was resolved that the Society publish a paper, to be called the Lancaster Farmer, for the advancement of the Agricultural interest of the county. Several committees were appointed to conduct the same, and the award of printing was given to S. A. Wylie, Esq. The first number will be issued on the first of January next.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD. — The Pennsylvania railroad has at last effected a consolidation with its two main Western connecting routes: the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis roads. The effect of this combination is that it brings under one management property valued at two hundred and eighty millions of dollars, and reaches for freight and passage, from Philadelphia to Chicago, Cincinnati and St. isa atil management is se and to none.

OFFICERS ELECTED .- The following officers were elected on Thursday evening last, in Columbia Lodge, No. 286, A. Y. M., to serve the ensuing Masonie year, commencing on St John's day next: Dr. J. A. E. Reed, W. M.

J. Alfred Myers, S. W. J. A. Jordan, J. W.

D. F. Griffith, Sec. E. K. Boice, Treas. Trustees-A. J. Kauffman, W. W. Upp.

Chas. II. McCullough. The officers were duly installed the same evening, by District Deputy Grand Master, Chas. M. Howell.

THE CITY OF COLUMBIA.—It is the duty of every citizen to urge the importance of 'his own town, and since "town' and "borough" sounds so small, and works an injustice to the enterprise and business character of our people, we must have Columbia known as one of the cities of Pennsylvania. Some may contend that her population is not large enough, &c. The population of Columbia is between eight and nine thousand, almost double that of Lancaster when first incorporated. Lancaster was incorporated as a city in 1818, with a population of about five thousand. Columbia is far better than this, and we call on all citizens to lend a hand in taking the proper steps to number her among the cities. Who will move in the matter? VULGAR LANGUAGE.-There is as much connection between the words and the thoughts as there is between the thoughts and actions. The latter is not only the expressions of the former, but they have a power to react upon the soul, and leave the stain of corruption there. A young man who allows himself to use one vulgar or profane word, has not only shown that there is a foul spot upon his mind, but by the atterance of that word he extends that spot, and inflames it, till, by indulgence, it will pollute and ruin the whole soul. Be careful of your words as of your thoughts. If you can control the tongue that no bad words are pronounced by it, you will soon be able to control the mind, and save that from corruption. You extinguish the fire by smothering it, or by preventing bad thoughts bursting into language. Never utter a word anywhere which you would be ashamed to speak in the presence of ladies or of the most religious man. Try this practice a little while, and you will soon have command of your-

A DEVOTIONAL SCENE .- Our reporter attended church on Sunday, (we will not say which one.) and was seated immediately behind two of Eves fairest daughters. The sermon was quite interesting, but his attention was somewhat diverted therefrom by the following conversation between the ladies in question:

Mary Ellen (anxiously)-Betsey Jane, isn't my chignon coming off? Betsey Jane (pettishly)-No! Can't you move a little further? You are creasing my lace flounces. Mary Ellen (moving a little)-Don't you think Susan Brown looks drendful homely. What big feet she has, and how she waddles into her pew! Betsey Jane-Was there ev-, Oh! there's Stouch! Isn't he a perfect Adonis? How

I do wish he would look our way. Mary Ellen (smiling sweetly)-Ah! I see him. He's looking towards us. Betsey Jane (angrily-Ho isn't looking at you, so you needn't act like a fool. The minister's going to pray. We omit the ladies' names in respect to their feelings. turer, can address him at this place.

JUPITER.-The planet Jupiter, with his belt and satellites, can now be plainly seen with the aid of the telescope any clear evening. This planet, the largest in the solar system, is about twelve hundred times greater than the earth. As seen through the telescope, it presents a dish about the size of a tea-plate, traces of its belts being visible near and parrellel with

GIRARD'S SECRET .- Stephen Girard, han whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say in his old age:

"I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule, too, to advertise in the dullest as well as the busiest senson, long experience hav-ing thught me that money thus spent is well had out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost."

Columbia Progressing.—We learn from our Columbia friends, that a company is about to be organized in that borough with appropriate capital for the erection of manufactories upon an extensive scale. What is the nature thereof the public is not fully advised. The advance of our neighboring town in population and business is wonderful indeed, and reflects great credit on the enterprising gentleman who have "pushed things." It is outstripping Lancaster far away. Our capitalists are engaged in stock and gold speculations, and matters of that sort, and while they are adding dollar to dollar for themselves, are, for the most part, not doing anything to cause the citizens to remember, after they have gone to their fathers, that they ever lived! We must wait for the next generation.—Father Abraham. COLUMBIA PROGRESSING .-- We learn the following from our exchanges:

Ellwood Bates, a young man employed on the railroad, near Chadd's Ford, was killed on Tuesday last, by a derrick falling on him. He was engaged in hoisting a stone, when the apparatus gave way, crushing him in its decent.

On Sunday last, as Wm. G. Taylor, of West Chester, was walking across a field, near the borough, he stepped upon a "stubble," which ran through his shee and into his foot, and then broke off. He was obliged to call in a physician, and suffered considerable pain before it could be extracted.

On Tuesday morning last, Mr. William F. Givin, druggist, of Downingtown, while chopping wood to kindle the fire, the handle of the axe struck a pistol which was in his coat pocket, causing the cap to explode, and the charge took effect in the fleshy part of the leg, inflicting a painful but not dangerous wound. Mr. G. will be confined to the house for some days.

WINTER EVENINGS .- The delightful vinter evenings are again with us, and already the gatherings around the fireside are growing interesting and attractive. The nights now come on at five o'clock, and when associated with mental and moral improvement, they lead us a step higher than the ordinary level of life. The whisperings of a mother's love, the kind counsels of the gray-haired sire, mingling, as they sometimes do, with younger and happier voices, give to the family circle an attraction and value which are not to be found elsewhere among the haunts of men.

Why men will sometimes wander from their homes and firesides to seek for happiness and enjoyment elsewhere, when every grace and affection is natural and centered there, is not only a wonder, but a mystery. There may be instances where nomes are not as happy and attractive as they should be. Cases of misplaced confidence and love, which alas, are destined, too often, to be turned into gall and bitterness; but these are but rare. There is no place, as a general thing, where the same measure of worldly peace and comfort can be found, as around our own fireside, he it ever so humble in its character. The plain hut of the fisherman upon the storm-beaten shore, is often preferable, so far as trassures. of the heart are concerned, to the dwellings and habitations of kings and princes. Where the light and joy of pure, unadulterated love reside, there is all of that gladness and peace, which the soul, in this world, has a right to anticipate. But our winter evenings are productive of vast and infinite improvement, when Louis. The Pennsylvania road is one of they are property appropriated. Reading, the wealthiest in the country, and in enter- | conversation and reflection-an interchange of those thoughts and sentiments which pertain to our higher interests; just comprehension of our true character and destiny-these, of right, belong to the lessons and teachings of the fireside, and bring the family altar nearer, if possible, to the throne of God. A word or two spoker in season, and the breathing of the pure spirit of prayer, in kindred gatherings. have often shed illuminations on the pathway, which have lighted men in triumpi to the grave. Let us therefore cherish and value our winter evenings at home. They have a comfort not found elsewhere, a religion without pretense or bigotry, a general philosophy which will bear the test of critsism, and a hope that carries as far beyond the ordinary trials and struggles of this

LECTURE DEFORE THE ORDER OF AMERICAN MECHANICS, BY G. T. FORES, Esq.-On Tuesday evening, last notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather quite a concourse of our citizens assembled at the Odd Fellow's Hall, to hear G.T. Fobes, Esq., who by earnest solicitation delivered a lecture before the order of American Mechanics, the subject being 'Work." We cannot do the lecturer justice from the crowded state of our columns, but will simply recur to the lecture as a whole, avoiding the specification of the many well-taken points. He opened by a division of his subject into four distict sections, and then proceeded in his happy style to substantiate and enforce his conclusions. He grappled with the grandeur of labor, in every phrase, and as a fellowworker aroused an interest and attention, seldom, if ever before, secured from an audience. He urged the importance of work as a moral obligation, and portrayed the beauties of honest industry in such an elegant style as to stimulate the mechanic to renewed pride in his calling; and his illustrations and comparisons were so spirited and vivid as to show the "upper-tendom," who boast of a profession, the atter uselessness of their claim to superiority over the "hewers of wood," and could not fail to convince all that the minister, doctor, lawyer and orator, are but laborers, and that no honorable distinction exists; but to the contrary, from the very nature of things, that an equality is unavoidable, and that the prosperity and good of society depends upon the tact of mechanics, and their estimate of their own honest toil. "Work" was held to be the corner-stone of every success and as the mother of every nation and tongue, from time immemorial. The lecture had a religious bearing, also, and work was made typical of God, and idlenessa votary of satin. This portion of the lecture was peculiarly adapted to the thinking and industrious, and was so presented as to have a telling effect in days yet unumbered. The entire lecture was delivered in one bour and twenty minutes, and the audience during the whole time, seemed wrapped up in the speaker, and every expression found the mark to which it was aimed. We never listened to a lecture filled with grander truths, or presented in a more oleasing light. The audience manifested heir delight by meditative attention, and we are sure that no one left the Hall unmonefitted. We are pleased to learn that Mr. Fobes purposes delivering this lecture throughout the State before the various Councils, and we bespeak for him the emiient success that he merits. His lecture should be heard by every Council, for we believe that it is calculated to enhance the Interests of every mechanic, while it cannot fail to stimulate enterprise and energy in the communities where it is delivered.

H. H. Heise, Esq., has leased his valuable ore mine on his farm near Silver Spring, to Atkins & Bro's., proprietors of the Pioneer urnaces and rolling mills, Pottsville, Pa., who purpose entering upon its working as soon as the machinery and necessary labor can be secured. Messrs. Atkins & Bro's. are calculated to "push things," and while we are glad that Mr. Heise has secured a lease to such responsible and energetic men, we hope that they may realize their greatest expectations, and that their labors may meet a just reward.

THE NEW BRIDGE. The bridge across the river at this place is so far completed as to admit of the crossing of passengers and vehicles, but orders have been received to allow no person to cross over it, under any circumstances. Persons have been cross ng on foot for some time, by securing pass, but now, when the river is closed and there is no other way of crossing than by the bridge, this privilege is denied the traveling public. We deem this action of the bridge company unwarranted, and a great wrong to the public, as we think no evil can arise from passengers crossing on foot.

Religious .- Rev. H. S. Alexander will preach in the Presbyterian Church of this place, next Sabbath morning, at 101 o'clock. Rev. W. S. H. Keys, in the evening, at 7 o'clock,

There will be regular services in the E. E. Lutheran Church on Sunday, at the usual hour. Subject in the morning, "The Great Salvation." Evening, "The inevitable ruin of those who neglect such Salvation." Heb. 2-3-" How shall we escape if we neglect so great Salvation."

Rev. S. W. Thomas, of Philadelphia, will preach in the M. E. Church, on Sunday, morning and evening, at ten o'clock and seven o'clock. Rev. S. H. C. Smith, the pastor, dedicates a new church at Lebanon, on this occasion.

[From the Daily Spy.] AN INQUEST ON THE BODY OF ABRA-IAM SHULTZ .- An inquest was held on the oody of Abraham Shultz (who was injured at the foot of Locust street, on last Thursday afternoon,) by Samuel Evans, Esq., on the 5th and 6th inst. It appears from the facts elicited before the Coroner's Jury, that the deceased was first seen just after he crossed the Reading railroad track, in a one horse wagon going towards Locust street at slow trot, and urging the horse forward by gently dropping the reins, which were slack upon his back. After getting on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks he kept too near Snyler's property, which rendered it more difficult for the wheels of his wagon to mount the rail, the consequence was when the attempt was made to cross the track, the wheels slid along the rail further than they otherwise would have done, if the crossing had been made in the usual way. The horse took fright, it is supposed, from the noise made by the sliding of the which partially unscated the deceased; before he could recover his balance the horse gave a second jump, which threw the right forward wheel under the wagon bed which tilted it up about a foot and threw the deceased headforemost over the left front wheel, his body falling partially under the wagon, the left hind wheel of which passed over a portion of his body and left side of his head. The deceased fell to the ground a few feet northeast of the foot crossing between Snyder's and Fendrich's, at Locust and Front streets. He was immediately picked up in an insensible condition and carried into the drug store of Dr. Herman. where Dr. Daniel I. Bruner rendered every service within his means to relieve the patient. No fracture of the skull was apparent, and it was supposed he was laboring from a concussion of the brain. After he was taken to his home in Washington borough, and a more thorough axamination made by Dr. F. Hinkle, it was discovered that the left lower jaw was both dislocated and broken, and the bone of the jaw had been forced into his throat, causing a wound of an inch in length, which injured some of the vital organs. The passage t the lungs was affected and air was forced between the skin and flesh on his breast and other portions of his body. The injury in his throat seemed to be the immediate cause of his death. There was a scalp wound but the skull seemed not be injured neither did any portion of the body show external wounds or injury. The injury was certainly a very remarkable one. The unfortunate man died on Friday morning, the 4th day of December, at about three o'clock, at his home in Washington borough.

He was a married man, twenty-five years, one month and five days old. A verdict in Case of Abraham Shultz. MESSRS, EDITORS .- I notice the report of this case, a point or two which may need a more particular explanation. In the ex amination which I was called to make, more particular explanation. In the examination which I was called to make, I found the case as stated as to the main facts, therein published. The concussion of brain, if any, was very slight, and would not have caused death, but the injury resulting in death was that of the eighth pair of nerves, especially the nerve of respiration, called the pneumogastric nerve, paralyzing its power and in a great measure suspending the action of the windpipe and lungs, togother with severe luccrations of Exophagious, or swallow.

The wheel of the wagon in its passage over the head and face had fractured the lower jaw, forcing it inward, and causing a direct compression and pressure upon these nerves and contagious vessels, lacerating the Exophagious with a dreadful wound, thereby permitting the air to pass into the tissues along the course of vessels down into external chest. The wound in the throat, permitting the air to pass down to the throat, caused what is known to the "practice" by the name—Emphysema, and is a rupture of the sides of the air cells, and sometimes occurs through violent coughing, or great exertions affecting those particular parts.

This wound was so obvious, that on my discovery of it, I catled the attention of Dr. Howard S. Case and another gentleman of intelligence and experience, who were by, to notice its character and extent. From this injury alone, he must have died. The hemorrhage therefrom was very profuse, passing down into his stomach, and out at his mouth, nose and ear. When I first saw him, his breathing was lond, with a violent sputtering, as, if choking, but the moment I found the dislocated and fractured part, and reduced and adjusted it into its place, the breathing became natural and moment I found the dislocated and fractured part, and reduced and adjusted it into its place, the breathing became natural and ensy, and there was no manifestation of great suffering, as before, and he so continued, quiet and easy, until life was gone. I deem this explanation due myself and the friends of the deceased.

F. HINKLE.

New York, October 13, 1867.—Dear Sir:—It is with much pleasure that I say to you that I consider the Plantation Bitters of untoid value. In the fall of 1867 I was taken with Chills and Fever, with the most severe pain in my chest and head. It was with great difficulty that I could breathe. My lungs were greatly distressed, and there was severe pain in my right side, by spells, I could hardly get up from my bed. I called a Doctor, who attended me all winter without the least benefit. About the first of August I commenced using your Plantation Bitters—a wine-glass full three times a day—and have used it most of the time since, and I am now well and strong, able to do all my own work and the care of a large family.

BOUQUET VASES,

"TRUE MERIT WILL ALWAYS HAVE ITS REWARD."-It is certain that no truth has ever been more satisfactorily demonstrated in our midst than the above, as may be seen daily in the immense demand for that invaluable and popular tonic and stimulous, Mishler's Herb Bitters. It is the one thing needful for persons whose surroundings are unfavorable for good health, because it is a perfect protection against all morbid influences productive of disease. The present is the most filting season for reinforcing the organs of our bodies, and insuring our health during the "cold term." We are all more or less negligent, but there are many persons who are always behind in this matter, consequently each change in the season comes along before they are prepared for it, and sickness seizes upon them, followed by all its train of ills. Begin now to ward off disease by using Mishler's Horb Bittors coory day regularly, and all the characteristics of good health will spring up within and continue with you.

Boston, Mass. MEDICAL. DR. H. C. McCORMICK,

No. 57 WEST KING STREET. LANCASTER, PA. (Late Dr. D. McCormick's.)

Treats private diseases successfully with his new remedies.

Also weakness from indiserctions of youth, either male or female. The medicine is pleasant to the taste and smell. No change of diet, Patients not wishing to present themselves can have medicine sent to their address by describing disease in their letters. Strict servey observed in all cases. A YER'S CATHARTIC PILLS!

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A LAXATIVE MEDICINE.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reasons for it is, that it is a more reliable and har more eliable and har more elieutud remedy than any other. Those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and richads, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calonal or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar conting preserves them ever fresh and makes thom pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscena to purify the blood and stimulate it into health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure.

For Dyspersia of Indicessia, the strangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills and plantary to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Dyspersia of Indicesses, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Billious Fills, transcenters, such diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints when the specific to the alting the decise of complaints are quired, to change the decise of complaints supports.

system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Drorsy and Drorsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drashe purge.

For Supraission a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and refleve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowls into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
