THE "Young America" fire company have disbanded—cause, Chief Burgess took and locked up their engine. Right, Jac ob perhaps they did more harm than good.

THE RAFTING SEASON .- There is every prospect of an unusually early commencement of the rafting season, and we may soon expect an inundation of the hardy sons of the forest.

-----BULLETIN BOARDS .- We see that couple of our citizens have taken up our remarks on the placing of bulletin boards in our borough, and petitioned Council to allow the crection of the same.

PENNSYLVANIA CANAL.-Mr. Joseph S. Gitt has, for some time, been surveying along the Pennsylvania Canal. This canal is to be made ten to fifteen feet wider, and at the same time is to be made deeper. The towing path in many places is to be raised. Quite a strong force of workmen are now engaged on these improvements.

THE 22d IN COLUMBIA.-Monday the 22d of February, passed off quietly in Columbia. It was generally observed as a holiday, nearly all the stores and places of business being closed. No public demonstration took place. The weather was wet and disagreeable-especially in the after noon.

EXCURSION RATES FOR THE INAUGU-RATION :- The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will issue tickets at reduced prices from all points on their road on the 2nd and 3d of March, good to return on the 4th, 5th and 6th inclusive. Excursions tickets may also be nurchased from Baltimore to Washington and return, on the 2d, 3d and 4th of March, good to return three days from date of sale.

MILITARY .-- We would be pleased to see a good military company organized here, and suggest that a meeting be called at an early day for that purpose. We have material to form several companies that would reflect credit on the town, and it only needs the proper effort to be made successful. The Zouaves should have been made a permanent organization.

TO CORRESPONDENTS .--- It is a waste of time and paper to send us communications written with pencil and on both sides of the sheet. We have not the time to rewrite them, and consign all such to the waste basket without reading. It is too late in the day for any sensible writer to prepare matter for the press in that manner.

READING .- "Young America" will have a reading room in Columbia, if older ones will not. Masters Rob. Crane, Charlie Mayer and others, have fitted up and stocked the basement of dwelling corner of Second and Walnut streets, with good books, papers, &c., that they, as well as others who wish to call, may spend their evenings in profitable and instructive amusement. This is certainly very commendable on the part of the little fellows.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS .-- List of letter remaining unclaimed in the Columbia Post Office, up to this date. Persons calling for these letters will please mention that they are advertised in the SPY :

take one from a distant city, and when they Ladder." wish to see what is transpiring in their own leighborhood, they beg or steal the local paper from some citizen more liberal than hemselves. Many men of this kind are engaged in business and frequently grumle because people do not patronize "home industry" when they practice the very bing of which they complain. THE MILDNESS OF THE PRESENT WINTER .- It can now be said that we have assed through the mildest winter ever experienced since the year 1841, and we may look for a very sickly summer. Our authorities should be active in having our streets and alleys cleaned. Some of them re in a filthy condition and already emit a stench. One of our most prominent physicians informs us that typhus, typhoid and intermittent fevers result from foul air. so that even if we are spared from an epidemic next summer, we may be afflicted with the treacherous typhoid unless we keep the streets clean. FIRE .- Fire broke out on Sunday even ing, directly after our churches had been called, in a frame stable belonging to the Pine Creek and Seven Stars hotels, owned respectively by Cornelius Tyson and P. S. McTague, situated on Front street, between Union and Perry streets, entirely consum-ing the building and contents. The firemen were promptly on hand ; the "Young America," a company composed of boys, with a crank engine, run to the river, filled their engine, and were loudly cheered when they threw the first stream on the fire. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. UNITED BRETHREN GENERAL CON-FERENCE.—The General Conference of the United Brethren in Christ, will commence in Lebanon, Pa., on the 20th of May next. This is the highest body in the church, and all legislative authority granted in the Constitution of the church is vested in this body. It meets every four years, and is composed of three delegates from every annual Conference which are chosen from among the ministers who have ordained to the office of an Elder for three years previous to the sitting of General Conference and who for that length of time have been a member of the Conference from which they are elected. In selecting these delegates the entire membership, male and female, has a vote. The delegates just selected to represent the Pennsylvania Annual Conference are Rev. J. Dickson, Rev. J. M. Bishop and Rev. W. B. Raber.

> THE VOTE FOR THE TORCHES .--- We have been requested to state that the vote for the torches will not be announced until after the close of the Fair. The voting will cease at 10 o'clock this evening, when the votes will be counted, and the result announced. Each voter will mark plainly on an envelope the number of votes, and placing the money and the name of the Company voted for inside the envelope, will seal it and deposit it with the person who receives the votes. The result of the contest will thus be unknown to any one, not even the person in charge, until the envelopes are opened and the votes counted. Envelopes and cards will be furnished gratis at the Fair. Let every one vote for his or her favorite company.

SONS OF MALTA.-Lodge 400, Sons of Malth, of this place, celebrated Washington's birthday by giving a banquet at Findley's Continental Hotel, About thirty persons participated on the occasion, which came off very pleasantly, and was greatly enjoyed by every one. The whole affair was con lucted in the best taste; but the tables whereon was displayed a most tempting array of creature comforts for the "inner man" presented the most attractive feature: and we must say that they were unrivalled

n general looks, as well as in the choice viands they groaned under. Great credit s therefore due to the proprietor of the COLUMBIA has some good stores, a fact that is well known to the people from the surrounding country, who visit our town to make their necessary purchases. We do not know a better place to buy clothing, boots, shoes or any kind of notions, or gentlemen's famishing goods than at the store of I. O. Bruner, Front street, above Locust, Columbia. Mr. B. buys and sells for cash, hence he can sell at cheaper rates than those who buy on long time. Call around and examine at I. O. Bruner's, NORWAY OATS .--- We published an aricle on Norway Oats in our paper of the 13th inst., showing the great humbug in that commodity, as practiced by Jones & Clark, New York. THE AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE COM-THE AMERICAN LIFE INSURANCE COM-PANY OF PHILADELPHIA:—This institution which has been for many years well known among our citizens, is one which presents superior claims to public confidence. Being both a stock and mutual corporation, it possesses the advantages of both without the objectionable features of either. The stockholders are personally liable for the security of policy holders, and the mutual policy holders, without sharing the risks, participate to the fullest extent in the profits participate to the fullest extent in the profits participate to the fullest extent in the profits of the Company. The income last year was double that of the preceeding year, and its outgoes consist mainly of death losses and dividends to mu-tual policy holders,—which have been for many years 50 per cent. HIGH HEELS .- The Scientific American tells its readers, what every physician and student of physiology knows, about the silliness and harmfulness of wearing high heeled shoes. When the heel is raised, as is the prevalent custom, the bones of the thigh, pelvis and leg, as well as the foot, are thrown into an abnormal position : and while the bones maintain their plasticity, the effect of such unnatural tension is sure to be perpetuated in the shape of crooked shins, bandy legs, elephantine toe joints and a cramped, ungainly gait.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS .- A stated seeting of the Town Council was held on Friday, the 19th inst., at 71 P. M., Mr. Upp, President, in the Chair. Present-Mess

Baker, Crane, Craig, Detwiler, Hippey, Shreiner and Upp. The minutes of Jan. 15th were read and approved. The Finance Committee reported $896.50 received by treasurer since last meeting, and a balance in treasury of $1422.90.

The Market Committee reported slow pro gress in the erection of the new Market House. The contractor has not conformed skin of the child and of the adult. to the plans and specifications in building the two ends and sky-lights. Notice has been served upon him by the Borough Solicitor to the effect that he should conform to the plans and specifications, otherwise the building could not be accepted, but such correction has not yet been made. The estimate of the Regulator, of the amount of work done on the market house, for the month ending February 19th, is approyed and the payment of $2377.93 of the same recommended. A retaining wall is necessary on the line hetween Market street and the lot owned by John Read, as the fence on the line between the two properties has fallen down since the grading of the street. It was recommended that the posts on the market stands be increased in size to six inches square, and to extend at least two feet six inches below the surface of the pavement. In the original plan and specifications they are only four inches square. The cellar under the north-east part of the hall has been fitted up for the accommodation of vagrants, and sundry repairs made about the hall building.

The Fire Department Committee reported that the Vigilant Fire Company appointed a committee to confer with them about the purchase of the three hundred feet of hose still due them.

The Pavement Committee reported quite number of pavements needing repairs, several of which the Supervisor had been directed to look after. Mr. Detwiler's preamble and ordinance, relative to the repeal of the action of Council, vacating Sixth street from Cherry to Lancaster 'avenue, was then considered, Objection having been made to the preamble, it was withdrawn. The ordinance was adopted. An application of Edward Pleasants, for LAW OF LABOR .- It will be seen by the correspondence in another column that Rev. W. S. H. Keys, of the United Brethren Church, of this place, will deliver a lecture, entitled the "Law of Labor," in Odd Fellows' Hall, Columbia, on Tuesday, 16th of March. Mr. Keys is one of the most eminent, as well as eloquent divines, in this part of the country, and is fully able for and conversant with the subject he has taken for his theme. No person should fuil to hear him. We have no doubt but Odd Fellows' Hall will be packed on the occasion.

THE ORDER OF UNITED AMERICAN MECHANICS.-This order is increasing quite rapidly in our State, eleven new Councils having been instituted in Lancaster county alone during the past year. The State Councillor, George W. Jinkins, has appointed J. K. Snyder, of No. 8, Deputy for that county. The next session of the State Council, Juniors, will be held on the 16th of April in the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg. The State Council. of the Senior Order will meet on the same day in Harrisburg, and are expected to occupy the Senate chamber.

ANOTHER FIRE .--- Monday morning, a little before one o'clock, our citizens were aroused by the cry of fire, which soon brought forth our fire department and a large number of people. On repairing to the spot, we found the fire originated in an unoccupied building on Commerce-street, belonging to D. L. Baumgardner, and known as the rope-walk. The building was entirely consumed; loss tritling. It is hoped that the scoundrel who is doing this incendiary work may be caught and hung. We learn that an attempt was made to fire the Susquehanna Planing Mill but a watchman frightened the party off.

LARGE FUNERAL .- The funeral William Gleaves took place on Friday after noon, 19th inst., from the Franklin House, and was largely attended. Susquebanna Lodge No 80, I. O. of O. F., turned out in a body to pay the last tribute of respect to their ancient brother. Mr. Gleaves taught school in this borough for many years, and was at the post of duty only a week or two before his death, notwithstanding he was in his eighty-seventh year. He had a kind word for every one, and was known by every school scholar in town-even by the little ones who were scarcely able to ar-ticulate, "Daddy Gleaves." All the public schools of our borough turned out to the funeral, and it was a sight that we will not soon forget, to see such a large concourse of scholars following to the last home of man, the remains of a beloved teacher.

WINTER.-O, for a genuine winter! Not the winter of all seasons in one such as we now have, and call winter, but a good oldfashioned one, such as we used to enjoy in by-gone times when one could blow to warm the fingers and freeze to his heart's content-when cold weather meant the thermometer at or below zero-if it went down to twenty-five below zero, all right. In those days we used to see the beautiful turnouts, and listen to the jingling of the sleigh bells which made music to charm the wintry breeze, and the still more melodeous music of the merry belles who rode in the sleighs and music to charm the ears of attentive listeners. O, ye gods and little fishes! does not the recollection of scenes like this make the heart young again and almost cause us to think that we are there once more?

No, we repeat, no one had the presence of mind to do this, or we might have seen a blush on several pretty faces as they glanced at the stray lock lying on the gravel, for more than one we thought had a look of guilty conscious-ness that she might possibly be the owner of it. there are but two landscapes in the world that can compare with ours. The distance is greater than by the usual route, but I was desirous to view the country in that quar-ter, which I had heard much extolled for its fertility and beauty, nor was I disappointed. If there every was a land flowing with nulk and honey that must be the spot. The inhabitants, their houses, in short, everything around, denote abundance. Every meh-of ground is espable of cultivation, and all is a con-tinued garden. Tis the paradise of America. Caldwell pro-poses to erect, in Leavenworth city, on the Richards-Abernathy lots, on Delaware street, lately purchased by him, was this morning awarded to James A. McGonigle, whilst the architecture of the same will be under the supervision of Mr. Stillwell. These buildings are to be three stories high, and twenty-four feet wide by one hundred and ten feet deep, respectively. The amount of Mr. McGonigle's bid was $15,000, and the well known energy and ability of this gen-lleman as a builder is the most assured guaranty that the buildings will prove an ornament to the city. ornament to the city.

Our Public Schools

Our Public Schools. Messus, Entrons – In my last, I infi-mated the bare possibility of County Super-intendents being influenced in the grading of certificates by the fact of the applicants having attended Normal School; I remem-ber that in 1835-39 and 60, the Superinten-dent of one of the interior counties of the State was, during the summer term, the paid Principal of the County Normal School, and that the fact was severely ani-medvened upon at the time, and that some one remarked that his examining the stu-dents of said school, the ensuing fall, when they applied for schools in the county, was like unto "a miller inspecting his own flour," and I thought at the time that the comparison was very apt. Now, I per-ceive that the present Superintendent of the same county, in his last annual report, says: "I opened a Normal Institute for, three months, that those who wished could have the benefit of my feeble efforts; my school numbered 57, (probably he means the scholars numbered 57, most of whom did well. I have no doubt but that their efforts will tell on the future progress of our schools." (I hope that "but" is a typo-graphical error, or it might make him the butt of some one, who would feel like ex-pressing the hope that his Normal class was not taught such grammar.) I will merely remark that it was not in human nature for that Superintendent to examine applicants for schools last fall, without

I will merely remark that it was not in human nature for that Superintendent to examine applicants for schools last full, without feeling some partiality towards those 57 who had paid him their matriculation fees. Did other equally meritorious applicants suffer thereby? Enough of Normal Schools for the present. Changes in our school law are about being proposed to the Commissioners by Superintendent Wickersham, but "it is scarcely proper to discuss them in this place." Why not, pray? Is it from the fear that the people might not endorse the proposed changes, and might advance such arguments against their adoption, as would outweigh with our legislators all the Super-intendent's arguments in their favor? I have no notion of this manner of ignoring the people when their dearest rights are being made the subject of legislative tink-ering, and I feel a presentment that another onslaught upon our school law is intended, which, like the one of two years' Since, would not bear discussion by those most interested, viz: the people, and therefore, "only a few copies for Senators" were printed, (not published,) before the bill came up for action. KEVS, DEAR SIR:-ON various occasions, your fellow-citizens have expressed a de-sire to have you address them on some one of the great practical interests of the day. We, the undersigned, therefore, have taken upon ourselves the responsibility of signifying to you our earnest wish, and re-quest that you deliver a lecture on the "Working Man and his Interrefs," at such time as you may find it convenient, with-out interfering with your most useful daily labors in the Church. As to any arrange-ments looking to place and conditions of lecture, these will be made by your friends, merely stipulating, that whatever pecunit cure a copy of that proposed amendment, although I applied personally to Superin-tendent Wickersham, and also to two memtendent Wickershan, and also to two mem-bers of the Legislature, each of whom promised to try to procure me a copy. Does any one suppose that amendment (?) would have been enacted into a law if prop-erly discussed through the press, making, as it does, "Bourding school misses and beardless boys" (I don't quote from the amendment) a committee to pass judgment upon the qualifications of those who haught before they were born? Now, are we going to have some more such amendments sprung upon us, at an hour too late for discussion? The Superintendent says "Parents even lecture, these will be made by your friends, merely stipulating, that whatever pecuni-ary result may grow therefrom, you will please accept in consideration of your labor, and as a small expression of the high es-teem entertained for you by your neigh-bors and fellow-edizens.

discussion? The Superintendent says "Parents even think more of getting money than knowl-edge tor their children." And why should they not? If the parent loves his child, he will seek to consult that; child's happiness, and the happiness of any one must depend largely upon the estimation in which he is held by the community in which he moves, and as long as society remains what it is, just so long will the parent continue to show his love for his child by "getting money" for him in preference to knowledge. Look around for a moment, in this, or any other community, and show me one case in which respect is shown to a man on ac-count of his superior fund of knowledge, and I will show you a dozen brainless fel-lows, to whom the hat is instinctively vaised by society on account of their wealth. A sailor, soon after being paid off after a long voyage, was accosted by a foot-pad, who demanded his money, threatening to "blow his brais out" is he refused. "Blow away," said Jack, "better be without brains than without money."
