time in April.

THE five Major Generals of the Army rank in the following order : Halleck, Meade, Sheridan, Thomas, Hancock.

A DESPATCH was received here on Thursday, announcing the death of ex-President Johnson, at his residence, in Greenville, Tennessee. It had no foundation, however, save in the fact that he is very sick. It is understood that he is suffering from a paralytic stroke, and is not expected to recover.

THE war in Cuba continues with unabating fierceness. Engagements between the hostile forces are now of almost daily occurrence, and there is hardly one among these in which the Spaniards do not claim to have come off victors. But notwithstanding these numerous victories, and notwithstanding the frequent arrival of fresh troops from Spain, no progresseven according to Spanish accounts---is made in the suppression of the revolution.

The poor Georgians have taken another turn at the Constitutional Amendment concerning suffrage. This time the Senate tried to ratify it, but failed by the casting vote of the presiding officer. Meantime, the legislators who ran away from the House to delay its action are involved in a sore strait. Gov. Bullock orders that the Treasurer pay no money on their warrants for salaries till they come back and attend to their business. What a pity that bright idea had not struck them out in Indiana, a few weeks ago ! Between their hatred of niggers and their need of money, the Democrats would have had a hard time, but we know which influence would have carried the day.

Washburne Away, the Rings will Play.

For one reason we regret Mr. Washburne's appointment as Minister to France. We suppose that the state of his health renders his honorable exile necessary, but shall we not sadly miss our Treasury watch dog? Mr. Washburne is not regarded as of the very highest calibre as far as ability is concerned, but that, as guardian of the Treasury against the bold attacks and insiduous wiles of the "rings," he has been universally regarded as the right man in the right place, and has won a name that any representative of the people ought to be proud of. Scarcely any one doubts the sincerity of his attempts to keep the robbers out of the Treasury, and nobody doubts their success. Mr. Washburne has been worth many millions to his country, and that is a more worthy title to immortality than that of many a man whose name fills a greater place in the annals of the time.

The Collectorship of the Port of Philadelphia.

The question of Collectorship of the Port of Philadelphia, says the Bulletin has | ed, one of the political lions of the west, been solved by the nomination of Hon. Henry D. Moore, a selection from among the several good names presented to the President which will be highly satisfactory to the entire community. A brief sketch of the new Collector will interest our readers. Henry D. Moore is a native of Goshen. Orange county, New York, where he was born in 1817. He received his education in one of the public schools in New York city, and began his business life, at the age of sixteen, as a tailor. Female Applicants.

The President's appointment of three women as Postmistresses- (the word is abominable, and wouldn't Postofficers be better ?)-has attracted to Washington a rush of female office-seekers. Some of them are in pursuit of places as Internal Revenue officers, others as Custom House functionaries, and others in other branches of the service. It is to be hoped the office-hunting mania will not spread among

Bad for Bigamists.

The Illinois Legislature has passed a bill which provides that any woman marrying a man without a knowledge of the facts, any man having a wife already living, shall have the same claims for alimony and maintenance upon such bigamist as she would have if her marriage was legal and she had been duly divorced from him according to law. Conress stamps out the greenback heresy; Frant hastens to make this the first law to receive his signature ; and now Secretary Boutwell announces that he has plenty of money, that the receipts from imports are increasing, and that he means to use at least a part of his large surplus in buying

Two Meals a Day.

If any man or woman of forty-five or over, pot engaged in hard natural labor, especially the studious, sedentary and indoor livers, would take but two meals a day for one month, the second not being later than three in the afternoon, and absolutely nothing afterwards, except it might be in some cases an orange or lemon, or cup of warm drink, such as tea, broma. sugar-water, or ice cream, there would be such a change for the better in the way of sound sleep, a feeling on waking of having rested, an appetite for breaksfast, a bouyance of disposition during the day, with a geniality of temper and manner that few, except the animal and the glutton, would be willing to go back to the flesh pots of  $\mathbf{Egypt}$
