to build branches. BAL MASQUE.-The Laurel Hook and Ladder Company propose to give a grand bal masque in Odd Fellows' Hall, April

Shenk. of Rapho township, this county, informs us that he recently had a chestnut tree one hundred and fifty years old, dug up on his premises which produced the enormous auantity of ten cords of stove wood. PUBLIC PARK .- Rumor says the Trus tees of the old Columbia Public Ground Company will convert the triangular lot tately purchased by them, between Fifth and Sixth streets, into a public park, for the benefit of our citizens. It such be a fact, we heartily commend the enterprise and sensibility of the projectors. Such an institution, properly laid out with paths, shrubbery, &c., would be an ornament and convenience to our borough. EASTER .- This annual festival occurs this year on the 28th and 29th inst., at which time the forty days fasting known a-Lent will cease, and the hungry multitude again be priviledged to indulge in the good things of life without limit and without restraint. Colored eggs will be in demand samong the juveniles, and those which are anot colored among older folks, and we presume our friends in this borough will have their usual season of innocent enjoyment.

ORE MINES LEASED .- Mr. II. II. Heise leased, a few days ago, an extensive ore mine, lately discovered on the farm of Martin Dambach, about one mile south-east of Columbia. SURGICAL OPERATION-EXTRAORDI-NARY .- One of those rare cases of surgery known as "resection of the upper jaw bone," transpired in our town on Tuesday, 23d inst., under the hands of that prince of surgeons, Dr. Hinkle, of this place.

The subject of this formidable operation was Mrs. Michael Wisler, on Locust street. 410. Some three years since there commenced a formation in the cavity of her upper right jaw, of what is known to medical men as encephaloid (brain-like) tumor, the growth of which was fearfully rapid, encroaching on the surrounding bony structure of the mouth, filling the nostril, pressing up into the orbit of the eye, and extending back to the throat, forming a tumorous mass the size of a large lemon. Finding that an operation was the only means of saving her from a speedy and dreadful death, she determined to place herself in the hands of Dr. Hinkle, for its removal; and Tuesday, the 23d inst., was fixed for this important work. With a wonderful fortitude, she deliberately made her preparations for the trying ordeal, "praying and working all morning" (as she said to a friend who called to see her just before the operation), and when placed under etherization, with a beautiful trust in God, she sank into that state of unconsciousness, from which she never awoke until the great work was over.

The operation consisted in making an insision from the mouth, back and upwards to the ear, then turning this fleshy part up over the eye and forehead, so as to admit the delicate saw and bone cutting instruments, that severed the jaw bone in front of the ear, close to the inner corner of the eye, and down at the lower part of the nostril forming three different divisions by the saw,after which the whole right half of the upper jaw bone was lifted out, carrying away entire, the large tumor which was threatening her life. This done, the fleshy cheek was then turned down and skillfully refitted to the parts, and after some little delay the heroic subject returned to consciousness with the very words of prayer and trust on her lips with which she had entered the lethean state.

The operation was perfectly painless, and was a complete success, adding new laurels to the fame of our great surgeon. At this writing, Mrs. Wisler is in a fine condition, with the prospect of entire recovery and long life before her. Dr. Hinkle was assisted by Dr. Wiest, of Hanover, York county, and Dr. S. A. Bockius and Mr. E. K. Smith, of this place.

We are glad to note, in this connection, that Dr. Raub's son, from Quarryville, lower end of this county, was successfully operated on, a few days since by Dr. Itinkle, for the removal of a large tumor, and is doing well. These facts are full of interest to the suffering everywhere. No superior skill can be found anywhere, for the alleviation of pain, than what Columbia boasts.

The Columbia Rolling Mill. MR. HOLTOR:-If you will allow a laborer use of a small portion of your columns will make a statement to the people of

Columbia:

I am a puddler by trade, and worked at it whenever there was any work to do, but have been out of work for some time past. The Columbia Rolling Mill stopped work on the 12th day of October, 1867, and to this time, now seventeen months, it has run but two and-a-half months, making one thousand tons of rails.

A short time before the 15th day of September last, I was told the mill would commence running soon, so I left a good situation to go to work at my trade. I commenced work Sept. 15th, and the mill stopped bee, 4th, 1868, running about two and a-half months, and since that time I have had nothing to do; and but for my friends charity, my wife and children would have starved.

I am still out of work, and the owner of the mill will not say when it will starr again. If he had told me, on the 4th of December last, that the mill would in all probability stand idle, I might have had some kind of work to do; but not a word was said, how long it would stand. If there was no demand for rails, or if the prices would not permit, there might be some excuse, but such is not the case. All other rail mills are running on full time, and t suppose making money. I understand Mr. Matby had an ofter of four thousand tons of rails at a fair price, and three-fourths cash, but waiting for higher figures he lost suppose making money. I understand Mr. Matthy had an ofter of four thousand tons of ruls at a fair price, and three-fourths cash, but waiting for higher figures he lost the whole contract, and it was given to another party at four dollars a ton less.

I have no hault to find with John Q. Denney, the manager, but consider him a gentleman and a good business man, and if he could have had the control of it, the mill would never be idle, except while making repairs. Mr. Maltby will not rent the mill, but wants to sell, and has been holding it for a buyer for two years past, and has no more prospect for one now than he had two years ago. It is a burning shame on the people of Columbia that it mill, costing over two hundred thousand dollars, and which, when in full operation, would put twelve thousand dollars a month, for labor alone, in our town, should be allowed to rot down as the Columbia Rolling Mill is doing. The reader may say, "Mr. Maltby can do with his own as he pleases." This is a deplorable fact, for were it otherwise, there would not have been as much distress among our laboring class as there has been during the past winter. Now, I call upon Mr. Maltby, in the name of the laboring men of Columbia, and for the interest of the borough, to either run his mult, sell it, or rent it to some one who will run it. It certainly would be much better for the mill to wear out than rust out, and as long as it sidle, he will never get a customer for jt. o wear out than rust out, and as long as is idle, he will never get a customer for it It was a severe loss to our borough that Mr Case ever sold his interest in the mill; when

Case ever sold his interest in the finit; when Mr. Case had an interest, we worked five days to where we have worked one since Mr. Maitby has had it. I beg of Mr. Maitby to throw aside this short-sighted policy, (or some of his old fogy advisors,) and give us work.

Puddling. HELMBOLD'S PREPARATIONS .- There HELMROLD'S PREPARATIONS.—There is scarcely a corner of the civilized world where you cannot find at least two things—a copy of the Bible and Helmbolds' Preparations. The latter medicines are really distributed over the world; their acknowledged efficacy making them valuable wherever disease is to be found—which, also is overwhere. They are not "natent medicines are the property of the property o is everywhere. They are not "patent med-icines," but skillfully and scientifically de-pend upon their chemical adaptation to the laws which prevail in the human economy. Their universal and long continued success is the best proof of their value. The Principal Depot for their sale is at Helmbold's new store, 594 Broadway, next he Metropolitan Hotel. THEY insure almost everything now They insure almost everything now: houses, furniture, books, cattle, horses; and there is started, in Philadelphia, a company to insure "glass," looking-glasses, glass in store windows, &c.

And farmers are talking of getting up a company to insure "crops" in case of failure through unfavorable weather. All this is well; but how much more important is Life Insurance? What's glass, or cattle, or crops, or anything edge, in comparison to life? And though life itself cannot be shortened or prolonged by insuring, even in "The American Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia," its money-value, so far as it can be computed in money, is made good by this excellent system of mutual help. Dr. F. Hinkle, agent, Columbia, I'a.

It is seldom that we use the columns of this paper to "puff" or notice the "thousand and one" articles known as Patent Medicines." We, however, vary from our rule in the present case, that we may call attention to the article known as "S. T.—1800—N., Plantation Bitters." We desire it understood that we do so without any solicitation or promise of benefit from the proprietor or other interested parties. We simply do it as an act of duty towards those who are laboring under physical disability, weakness, and the various complaints arising from impurities of the blood. Having used the Buters at the instigation of a friend, (and, we confess, with some misgivings at the outset,) we found them a most valuable medical compound, and to our great satisfaction, accomplish the object for which they were used.
