.THE newspapers of the State put an immense hole into Mr. Strang's boiler bill, and now Mr. Strang himself has exnloded.

SINCE Grant has expressed his partiality for Quakers, it is said that all the members of the Indian Ring in Washington have purchased broad brim hats:

. THE Rhode Island election was held or Wednesday. The Republican ticket, headed by Seth Padelford for Governor, was successful by about 3,800 majority.

JACK HEISTAND jokes over his defeat for the Marshalship, in his paper of Tuesday, under the guise of a telegraph despatch from a correspondent. It won't do, "Histed."

THE New-York - Tribune wants Congress to indulge in a little retrenchment. but adds: "We feel sure that the great pressure of important public business at the close of the session will prevent their finding time to attend to it."

We have from Georgia accounts of the visit there for the Spring months of prominent Northern men. The list of names presents a curious collection, including among those present or expected. Secretary Seward, Senator Sprague, Thurlow Weed, and others.

IowA is the only State of the Union which is out of debt, and has a surplus balance to her account of over a million dollars: The Republican party has held this State ever since it has been a political organization. Let Pennsylvania take the hint.

Right.

A bill to discourage and punish prizefighting has bassed both branches of the Michigan Legislature. Among other things, it punishes by fine and imprisonment any one who shall "give or publish notice of a prize-light

THE Internal Revenue Department has issued a circular directing assistant asses ors when making charges against persons suspected of returning fraudulent schedules of gains, profits or incomes, to notify such persons fifteen days, prior to the date of the bearing.

PLANTERS in all parts of Texas are actively engaged. Corn is generally planted, and a greatedeal of it is already up. A larger breadth of land will be put in cotton than any year, since the war. The freedmen have generally gone to work, and there is less complaint of their idleness than usual.

CHARLES SNOWDEN FAIRFAX died on Sunday at Barnum's Hotel, Bultimore, aged forty years. He was chairman of the California delegation to the last Democratic National Convention, and had been five years clerk of the Sucreme Court of that State. He was the decendant of the last Lord Fairfax, and entitled to the distinction of tenth lord, had he claimed the position.

Crime. Both Houses of the Pennsylvania Legislature on Tuesday passed a bill authorizing the Governor to commute death sentences to imprisonment. This bill has been passed too hastily. It was put through both Houses in the same day's session, and yet it involves consequences to the public welfare and safety which demanded, what they certainly have not received, a very deliberate and thorough consideration by every member of the Legislature.

The Connecticut Election.

The Republican victory in Connecticut is complete. Marshall Jewell (Rep.) is chosen Governor by 811 majority, while the rest of the Republican State ticket appears to run decidedly better than the Governor: We shall not be surprised to find the average Republican. majority nearly or quite 1,000. The XVth Amendment is thus nobly approved.

The Tenure of office question having been settled, we may look for removals and appointments to go on rapidly. The delay incident to that question has given the departments time to prepare the lists and the President, in some cases, to revise them. The suspense has been an agonizing one to those applicants who have remained in Washington watching their chances, and probably not a few have come to settled convictions concerning the degrading and unprofitable nature of office-seeking.

General School and the "Rings." From what has from time to time been said and published in and out of Congress about Congressman Schenck's complicity with Whiskey Rings, &c., we cannot conceive how Mr. Schenck can longer avoid asking for a committee of investigation if he desires to retain the good opinion of his fellow man, Gen. Schenck must not think by a dogged silence or affected indifference to public opinion that he can live down the clamor and complaints, and that all will be overlooked and forgotten in time. It is due to himself, to his constituents and to the Republican party that he should clean his skirts and prove himself entirely innocent of all that is imputed to him. His failure to do this, will only turn suspicion into fact, and he be made to suffer in consequence.

Senator Billingfelt.

It is with great pleasure ,we observe this sterling Republican is generally spoken of as likely to be returned to his seat in the State Senate, by a confiding constituency. He is certainly one of our best citizens, and is esteemed by all who know him as a man of the purest integrity. Whilst occupying a seat in the Senate during the past three years, he stood firm and true to his convictions of the right. It is rarely indeed, a people are so fortunate in selecting a representative who, having been tested and found to be metal with the true ring, the people should insist upon returning him to field where he has earned so much credit for himself and his constituency, by a

But, out in Tennessee, unembarrassed by official position, and surrounded by rebels for whose good opinions and votes he is anxious, he can venture to the farthest extremity, and utter the treason that rankes in his breast. In this very speech he repeats those threadbare protestations of affection for the Constitution, with which the world is familiar, and gives the customary maudlin sentiment about the stars and the flag.' If any other man had spoken thus, we might comment upon the inconsistency of preaching excellence of the Constitution and professng devotion to it, while denouncing the war and regretting that the rebels were not permitted to destroy both Constitution and country. But it is not worth while o attempt to reconcile Andrew Johnson with himself, or to demonstrate further his knavery and folly. We are glad, however that he is showing his hand. There may be some honest men who still regard him as an injured and much maligned individual. His open declaration of sympathy with the rebellion vindicates the course of the Republican party and of Congress in their treatment of him; and it fastens upon him the ignominy of having played the hypocrite and of having uttered falsehoods during the time that he stood before the people of Tennessee as a loval man, and the champion of truth and right .- Bulletin.

The Legislature Gift Humbug,

The usual papers for signatures are being handed around, and every member s expected to contribute according to what he has made during the session, towards giving a slop bowl, tin cup or some other necessary donation to the speakerers and clerks. THE President of the United States may owe something to the leading politicians who supported his election; but he owes far more to the People, who would have him for their President, and wouldn't hear of any one else as a substitute. Before his inauguration, Gen. Grant advised many friends that he had resolved to have Cabinet officers of his own choice, and to devolve on them respectively the labor and responsibility of scrutinizing and passing upon the claims or merits of rival candidates for office. This was a just and wise resolve, and we regret that it has since been overruled, to the detriment of the President's health. In behalf of the great body of the People, who expect no office and seck none, we entreat the President to recur to his original, wise, and just resolve, renew it, and henceforth abide by it .- N. Y. The Mill Murder—Startling Reve-lations—Twitchell makes a Con-fession—He charges his wife with the murder of her Mother—Mrs. fwitchell left for parts unknow: _Intense_Excitement.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 3 .-- George S. Twitchell, Jr., sentenced to be executed on the 8th inst., for the murder of his motherin-law, Mrs. Hill, made a confession this morning to his siritual adviser, Bringhurst and Prison Inspector Perkins. He says:

"I went to my room on the night of the murder and, instead of going to bed, lay down on the lounge and fell asleep. My wife was in bed at the time. I was aroused where I found her much excited, saying; where I found her much excited, saying; "I have had a quarrel with mother and killed her; save or help me to hide it." We then threw the body out of the window. I went down stairs and washed my hands. I went down stairs and washed my hands. My wife went to bed, where she remained until the servant girl arrived. We were in bed about twenty minutes. I made a solemn vow to Eternal God that night that I would never reveal it, but I cannot keep it any longer. I am sorry that I said I knew nothing of it, but I did it with the vow in my mind to save my wife. I now make this disclosure that I may have peace with God.

[Signed] GEORGE S. TWITCHELL, Jr." This morning Mrs. Camilla E. Twitchell left the city under circumstances which would appear to lend countenance of truth to the arraignment of her by her husband for the murder of Mrs. Hill. About a week ago she visited the condemned man in his cell for the last time. She then had a conversation with the Rev. Mr. Bringhurst. in the course of which she manifested the iveliest concern as to whether her husband had said anything to his spiritual adviser which would implicate her in the murder.
Sde inquired especially if Twitchell had made any statement about the crime. Mr. Bringhurst responded that he had. Then sion, to which she again received an affirmutive response. Mrs. Twitchell then inquired if her husband had made any statenent concerning herself in connection with the murder, to which she likewise received an affirmative response. "Yes," said Mr. Bringhurst, "he has told me all about it." Then," exclaimed Mrs. Twitchell, "he is Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall-bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calome! Liver Complaint is one of the most prominent cau.es of Consumption.

Schenck's Scaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the sikali in the Seaweed, which this preser'ption is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric junc, to dis-solve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much: they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derauge the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Rumove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consamption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Cauarth, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and slonned are made healthy.

the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to neu up, and the patient gets fteshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspopsia, Schenck's Scawerd Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless. outgrows the disease and gets well. This is she only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadel-phia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrupripens the morbid matter in the luurs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seawed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

less the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs are in some way diseased, either tubercles, absecsses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the pricent begins to gain in fiesh, and as soon as the oody begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fieshy and well. This is the only way to cure consimption.

The following remedies are all old and well established, and thousands have been benefitted by their

THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE. A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy and effectual for preserving the hair. FADED OR GRAY HAIR IS SOON RESTORED TO TIS ORIGINAL COLOR AND THE GLOSS AND FRESHNESS OF YOUTH. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair is checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands attrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of foulling the hair with a palsy sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. An interesting letter is published in the Malico-Chururgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drugt a ma acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this invaluable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, and yet so irritable as renders other substances of the the tonic class unavailable or injurious.
