Down with the Dogs.

The following we clip from the Philadelphia Herald, of the 30th ult. The same will apply to this section:

"Mad dogs were never so plentiful as now. In fact, the city fairly swarms with them. We do know that the lives of citizens depend upon the course which the proper authorities may see fit to take in regard to this important matter, for important it certainly is. We therefore most respectfully, but most earnestly, invite the attention of his Honor, the Mayor to the subject, and hope he will at once take such steps as will lead to the suppression of what is now to be regarded not simply as a most intolerable nuisance, but a source of continual apprehension and danger to citizens, and more especially to women and children. It is high time that the thousands of good-for-nothing curs which are met in every portion of the city were disposed of, and the only effectual way of getting rid of them is to hand them over to the dog-catchers. Already a number of persons have been bitten. Whether fatal results will follow, cannot of course be determined now, but the probabilities are that such will be the case. Let the dog nuisance be abated, and that speedily, in order that no more lives may be sacrificed and that citizens may be enabled to walk the streets without the apprehension of being attacked and bitten by a rabid cur."

The Young-Dana Scandal.

As we expected, fuller accounts from New York tend to mitigate the gross and exaggerated impressions concerning the conduct of Mr. Young of the Tribune, which the first dispatches were calculated to produce. The only serious charge which can be sustained against Mr. Young is that he did clandestinely send the Associated Press dispatches to the Philadelphia Post. But this, as a western contemporary well remarks, is no worse than what the New York Associated Press has done itself, when it furnished dispatches to the commercial news agency before delivering them to the western press according to contract. Mr. Young in trying to establish the Philadelphia Post on a firm basis, did "strike" various politicians for money to aid him in his effort; but we fancy this is nothing so very startling nor even so very dishonorable. There seems to be no good reason why partisan journalists who are poor should not seek aid from influential men of precisely the same shade of politics who are rich. If the vail were lifted, which hides the actions of men, it would be found that perhaps the majority of party journals have been guilty of this sin, if it be one. As to the charge against Mr. Young of "selling the influence of the Tribune," it is not sustained by the letters published, and is probably untrue.

While the course of public opinion is thus tending to palliate the conduct of Mr. Young, it is setting rather heavily against the conduct of Mr. Dana, in prostituting his paper to the base use of publishing private correspondence. The letters on which the charges against Mr. Young are founded were made public by an act of the basest treachery and ingratitude on the part of the person to whom they were written. Dana allowed himself to become a party to this treachery, partly in order to create a sensation at any cost, and partly we fear, from a desire to revenge himself on the Tribune Association for his own ejection thence, some years ago, for conspiring, it is said, to usurp Greeley's place. There is danger that the Sun will undergo somewhat of an eclipse for a time on account of this malicious "shine."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Destruction of the Mammoth Skating Rink by Fire.

The destruction of the Mammoth Skating Rink, at Twenty-first and Race streets, Philadelphia has caused a feeling of universal regret. The building itself was not only one of the finest and largest of its kind in the country, but the establishment had come to be regarded as one of the institutions of the city. Ever since the departure of cold weather it had been used for the purpose of a velocipede school, and had become a favorite place of general popular resort. Few places in the city were better known to the mass of citizens. Almost every night it was thronged with persons either indulging in the healthful exercise of velocipeding, or of witnessing the performances of those who were engaged in this pleasant recreation. The great Odd Fellows' ball which was held in the rink on Monday night last proved its admirable adaption to such purposes.

It was intended by the Rink Company to have used the vast structure for summer concerts and other purposes demanding a great amount of room. It is only a few weeks since that, for the purpose of fitting the building for concerts, and balls, etc., a new floor had been laid over the entire skating area, at a cost of some four thousand dollars.

Mr. Post, the enterprising proprietor of the Velocipede school, lost his entire stock of velocipedes, valued at $2,000.

The building belonged to a joint stock company, known as the Philadelphia Skating Rink Association. It cost $80,000, and was insured for $40,000—one-half in New York and the balance in Philadelphia companies. The structure was commenced in November last, and was finished in January.

The Rink was an extensive structure, and was said to be the largest on this continent. It was 290 by 150 feet in length and width. The height from the floor to the roof was 60 feet at the highest part. The roof was sustained by nineteen magnificent arched trusses. The clear span was the longest of any in the country. Right and left of the entrance on Race street were dressing and refreshment rooms for ladies and gentlemen. Over these there was a long room, 150 by 50 feet, for promenading, dancing, etc.

SPECTACLES.

EASE AND COMFORT.

THE BLESSING OF PERFECT SIGHT.

There is nothing so valuable as perfect sight, and perfect sight can only be obtained by using PERFECT SPECTACLES, the difficulty of procuring which is well known.

Messrs. LAZARUS & MORRIS,

OCCULISTS AND OPTICIANS,

Hartford, Conn., manufacturers of the celebrated PERFECTED SPECTACLES, have, after years of experience, experiment, and the erection of costly machinery, been enabled to produce that grand desideratum, PERFECT SPECTACLES, which have been sold with unlimited satisfaction to the wearers in Massachusetts,

Rhode Island,
Connecticut,
New Hampshire,
Vermont and Maine,

during the past nine years.

Those celebrated Perfected Spectacles never tire the eye, and last many years without change!

Messrs. LAZARUS & MORRIS, have appointed MR. CHAS. P. SHREINER, Watchmaker and Jeweler, their sole agent for this place.

L. & M. would caution the public against unprincipled persons, who represent that they have our Perfected Lenses for sale, as neither here or elsewhere do we employ peddlers, or supply any but our duly appointed agents.
