THE FAIR .- We visited the Fair now open at the Odd Fellows' Hall, last evening. The display was very fine and reflects creditably on the parties in charge. Carpets, shawls, spreads, quilts, and other articles of use as well as ornament are on exhibition. The carpet is home-made, and very good. The post office still attracts large numbers, Letters for everybody. In the centre of the Hall is a fish pond, with all kinds of fish in; five cents will secure a catch at one. Every fisherman gets a bite. The fruit and confectionery table is loaded, while the miscellaneous display is very fine. There is considerable fun during the ovenings. The greatest interest centres in the contest for the flag. Both fire companies are determined to have it. It is beautiful and is certainly worth a trial. Let us see which has the most friends.

OUR ADVERTISEMENTS.—Wm. G. Patton offers his large stock of Fall and Winter goods, including dress goods at low rates and quick sales. The Store Stand to let at Bainbridge should claim the attention of business men. Twenty-five valuable horses at public sale at the Franklin House, on October 19th, will attract large numbers of dealers. Prof. J. B. Kevinski advertises in today's Spy his extensive stock of music and music goods. Mr. J. B. K. has been doing one of the most extensive trades in the county. He is dealing in first class instruments only, and for this has a reputation which alone has a sufficient guarantee for purchasers. We called at his store rooms a few days since and examined his Prince & Co.'s organ; we pronounced it the best we have ever seen. He has several of Steinway & Son's planos-the best in the world. It may be of interest to mention that "Pattie Smith" is a partner or Mr.

SIGO REWARD-A CARD. MR. J. W. YOUM, EDITOR SPY-

Dear Sir:—Some nervous Republicans in the borough have accused me of giving out Packer votes on Tuesday last. Now, I will give one hundred dollars to any person who will sweat that he received either a Democratic State or Borough ticket from me, or who seen me giving any such tickets out.

Spending the money received from the County Committee for furthering the interests of the Democratic party; and this charge comes from some men who voted a puxed borough ticket. Now I received the sum of $20.50 from the Committe. I expended the money as follows:

pended the Honey as offices.

Pall Committee—3 men.

Fare for a man to York to Vote.

Ward Canvass Book.

Lett-ring 15 Poll Boxes.

For Distributing Tickets and Circulars.

Taxes Paid—(names can be shown).

$20.30 Balance on hand, 20 ets.

Balance on hand, 20 cts.

The Poil Committee I employed were all McGinness' men, although I was opposed to him, and they worked all day with straight Republican tickets, to which they will be willing to qualify.

I made my canvass according to instructions from the County Committee, and was the only member of the Committee who had his list fully prepared when called for by the Chairman, which he will vouch for. At the polls of the First Ward, it was found that not one name was left off of the Registry List; while in the other wards, a number were missing.

The party making these charges against me, attempted to defeat me at the primary election for member of the County Committee. A young fellow, named Williams, was my opponent, and his father, formerly Chief Burgess of the Democracy, and latterly of the Republicans, traded off Republicans for Democrats on Tuesday last. Pretty Republicans to accase another one of disloyalty to the party.

The candidate I supported for Constable,

loyalty to the party.
The candidate I supported for Constable, served his country three years in the army and east a vote for Lincoln against Me-Clellan, and for Geary against Clymer. A Democrat, who desired to be the Democratic candidate for Constable, was relieved from duty by a Republican despatcher, to use his influence for McGinness; and this Demhis influence for McGinness; and this Democrat used the argualent that Mu-ser voted or would vote for Geary on Tuesday last.

A certain distinguished gentleman, who failed to secure the nonination for School Director, but had his pet nominated for Council, is one of the aggrieved ones, because said pet was defeated by Bletz, to the time of 154 majority; at least 120 of the votes were Republican.

Party lines are never drawn at a borough election. The principle always has been to vote for the best man, and Republicans and Democrats uniformly avail themselves of that privilege.

THE Lutheran Fair will continue during this day and evening. The managers are meeting with great success. We hope our friends will give them a liberal patronage. The Firemne have an excellent opportunity of obtaining a beautiful flag.

Nick-Kuax from Lancaster. The fair, like the horse racing, is all over. Of course the myriads of ladies were all "fair women." and the other half "brave men," especially those who pulled off your best coat by way of requesting you to take a buss "right away for Lancaster." New York cabmen are mutes compared with these .- Amelia was not out on the ground, owing to a cold she had contracted in a moonlight ride from Litiz.-Although the unterrified did parade on the night "just before the election of Asa," Atlee is elected Mayor of the city. The parade was a success-seventeen in line, seven composing the band, and the remaining ten all boys, making "night hideous with their yells," save one, who was "too full for utterance" -an aid. a gentleman, of Herculean stature, who typified the Democratic principles by having a support on each side.-The old and young, as well as those of a speculative age, go to Stouch's Dancing Academy.-Flirtations are in vogue at the Sons of America Fair in Fulton Hall.—The Prothonotary elect did poll a handsome vote, but is not yet married as was reported .-"The Junta" meets regularly. At its last meeting an essay was be-stowed upon Byron .- Davis did not eulogize Packer, as the remaining unclaimed in the Columbia Post | Intelligencer said he tried to do all his power for Geary .-- Some of our poll committees were illuminated before the gas was lighted on election day. They cheered vociferously for Atlee & Packer, Sanderson & Geary, while a Democratic Castor and a Republican Pollux indulged in a fisti-cuff to decide whose was the next treat. Castor was "stuck" for the beer, which, by the way, run out while Mayor Atlee was being serenaded (i. e. out of the kegs).—The election of Atlee set some people crazy. One women threw a china pitcher out of the tho third story window just for joy. Another wo-man, more sensible than the others, spent all her spare change for pins, to pin red, white and blue all over her husband's clothes. The young ladies think Atlee is a

COLUMBIA, Oct. 8th, 1869. DEAR SPY : - A short time since, I made somewhat extended tour through Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, and Louisiana. I took a survey of the situation of affairs-lands, country and people, around the principal towns and cities in the above named States; and I must say, and say it, too, without bias or prejudice to any other portion of the country, that Southern, or South-western Virginia is, on account of climate, people, and cheapness of lands, about the best country to settle in. I spent several days in and about Danville, and if you, Mr. Editor, will permit me, I will give the readers of the SPY some account of the place and surrounding Danville is the principal town in Pittsylvania county, Virginia. It is about four miles from the North Carolina line. It is situated on the Dan river, and the Richmond and Danville Railroad, 165 miles south from Richmond, and contains about 5000 inhabitants. The town is pleasantly located on high ground about 250 feet above tide-water; houses mostly substantial brick structures, built with an air of comfort and convenience; five churches two seminaries, flouring mill, iron foundries, planing mills, first-class stores, and about twenty tobacco factories. The Dan River at this place presents one of the finest water powers in that State, and as yet is only partly developed. Here every facility presents itself for manufacturing on a large scale. The inhabitants are courteons, ciever and friendly, and will take the stranger by the hand and bid him welcome without inquiring his politics, his country or his creed. Indeed, I never med a more sociable or friendly people; among whom I may mention P. Bouldin, of the Times, W. M. Mosley, Wm. Robinson, Mr. Estes, E. E. Bouldin, Mr. Graves, Mr.

Hawkins, and many others whose names I do not now recollect. But I almost forgot Capt. Wood, under whose roof I was so hospitably entertained. All weary pilgrims traveling South will find comfortable quarters and good fare with the Captain, at the Wood's House. Don't forget this. Danville is one of the best tobacco markets in the world, and I may say that the best tobacco is raised and manufactured here. Leaf sells at thirty-five cents to one dollar per pound, and I saw some selling for one dollar and twenty-six cents per pound; a specimen of which I can show to any one who may call. Lynchburg is a noted tobacco market but the article finds its way to Danville from that place and vicinity. The surrounding six or eight counties of Virginia and North Carolina produce the finest tobacco in the United States, all of which finds a ready market at Danville. The factories now in operation give employment to about 700 hands. One factory alone pays a revenue tax of over one thousand dollars per day. I know one firm, Graves & Co., who had purchase! up to that time 1,500,000 pounds of leaf tobacco, and another firm, S. H. Holland & Co., 1,750,000 pounds. Then there are the factories for manufac-turing smoking tobacco. That of the Roanoke Company, J. B. Hawkins & Co., is the most extensive. Their "Love among the Roses," and the "Maryland Club" is perhaps their best brands, and have a very large sale. They manufacture about 1500 pounds per day which is neatly put up in pounds per day which is neatly put up in Cgr. Third and Cherry Sts., Columbia. hundsome packages with elegant lithographed lables. About 7,000,000 pounds of leaf tabacco changes hands annually. Money and Northern enterprise is wanted to more fully develop the town and country. They want good farmers and gardeners, a nursery, tannery, National Bank, butchers, carpenters, mechanics, skilled labor of all kinds, and persons to look after the coal and iron ore, while the splendid water power affords facilities for rolling mills, cotton, woolen, paper, and flouring mills. A rendy sale and easy shipments will be found for all the manufactured articles. The railroads now centering in Danville will, in a short time, make it one of the best business places in that State, outside of Richmond. The Norfolk and Great Western Railroad to connect with the El Paso, and the Pacific road will soon be the great through route, making Norfolk the terminus. This will be one of the grandest achievements of the times and will bring the inhabitants of the far off West, some three hundred miles nearer the seaboard. With this and other railroad improvements, now going on, all look to the great prosperity of the seaboard with this and other railroad improvements. The seaboard with this and other railroad improvements and the seaboard with the Danville and Southern Virginia. In company with Mr. Bouldin I rode in Democrats uniformly avail themselves of that privilege.

At our borough caucus, a young person, called a "boy" by A. J. Kauffman, said that the County Committee had nothing to do with the borough election. For the State and Committee man, but for Constable I acted on my own responsibility.

Packer's vote was not increased by my action in relation to Constable, and if the poils the result might have been different. The Democracy were present, and worked energetically, which action cannot be placed to my account, and I unbesitatingly pronounce any man who says I worked for, or gave out Democratic tickets, a deliberate lalsifier, and also entitled to the above reward.

The Democracy were present, and worked for, or gave out Democratic tickets, a deliberate lalsifier, and also entitled to the above reward.

The company at bury of Pittsylvania—most part along, or in the vicinity of Dan River. I found a rich and ferthe larming region and a most henutiful country, diversified by hills and valleys, the most charming, indeed, some of the pretiest farm land any one would wish to see. With some of our skilled and enterprising Pennsylvania farmers, the Valley of the Dan would soon be the land of Eden, and flow with milk and honey. Excellent plantations with good buildings and out houses, can be pursularly and the prices ranging from eight dollars to twenty dollars per aere. You may ask why this cheapness, or is there not some a buggy for more than thirty miles through drawback. I will answer by saying that the cause is all owing to the loss of slave labor, and the war leaving the county desolate and without money. Consequently large land holders are forced to sell their lands, or a portion of them to secure capital to cultivate the remainder. They do not seem to comprehend the situation of affairs, and their plantations have become very much dilapidated. The timber is of the best quality-Pine, oak, hickory, &c. All the land is susceptible of the highest state of cultivation, and will produce the best wheat, corn, oats, tobacco or cotton. Specimens of which I have. Fruit is also produced in great abundance—apples, peaches, pears, grapes, &c. The people know but little about farming. lands are poorly worked. They do not plough deeper than three or four inches, still the land produces well. Ploughing can be done at almost any season of the year; farm labor is scarcely ever suspended. No attention is paid to the dairy. Good butter is entirely unknown and cheese is not seen. Some of the planters depend upon their tobacco crop for everything and buy their corn, flour, and bacon with the "weed," when all this could be raised on the same plantation. Considerate farming, indeed. Oh! for a settlement of live Pennsylvania farmers in the Valley of the Dan. Then in twenty years hence how I would like to look in upon them. As to climate, I consider it far superior to this in every respect. The air is always dry and pure, and the changes are not so sudden or frequent. It is not excessively hot in summer nor yet excessively cold in winter, and fevers or epidemc diseases are entirely unknown.

There are very great bargains in property and mineral lands in Virginia and North Carolina. Mr. P. Bouldin, of the Dan River Land agency has some very fine property for sale, including about 4700 acres of excellent timber land, pine, oak, anp hickory convenient to railroad, which he offers at $5 per acre. The bark and timbe would more than pay for the land, all of which is susceptible of improvement Wood and all kinds of lumber find a ready market, while ground bark, and staves ar daily shipped to other countries. I stopped at the handsome residence of Dr. Wilson, some eight miles from Danville, and was very kindly entertained. He has a plantation of some twelve hundred acres of the very best land, and lives the style of a wellto-do Southern planter. His house is handas was first reported. They are candidates for School Directors, subject to the decision somely situated, with beautiful yard sloping down to the road-side, and the splendid graveled walks, stately oaks and nicely arranged evergreens give it an air of com fort and elegance. After partaking of his bountiful spread viands. I went on my way thanking the Doctor and his household for Southern hospitality.

I stopped over night with a Mr. Wade thirty miles from Danville, near the North Carolina line. He offers his plantation for sale. It is in fine order, buildings all good and of moderan style. There is about 500 acres, lies well and produces well. It has upon it a mine of Anthracite coal, which was worked during the war, and the article boated down the river to Danville and there used extensively at the foundries and nachine shops, where material was being manufactured for the Confederacy. Ten thousand dollars in gold is the price asked for the property. The coal mine alone may be worth more than this amount, or the property is cheap at this price without the oal mine. P. Bouldin, Danville, Va., has it for sale. Specimens of the coal I brought with me and may be seen at my residence, No. 211 Walnut street.

I would say to emigrants going South, do not stop to locate at Manassas, Gordonsville or any other place till you visit South-ern Virginia. Go directly to Pittsylvania county, and my word for it, you will be better pleased. But I have already trespassed upon your ime and space. Thanking you, Mr. Editor for the privledge taken, I am Yours respectfully,
