The Philadelphia Morning Post thus mildly comments on the popularity of the temperance and woman suffrage questions.

The popularity of Mr. William C. Claghorn could not have better proof than the enormous excess of his vote over that of his companion on the Temperance ticket.

Mr. George S. Ferguson, who is very popular, received 248 votes, yet the official returns show that Mr. Claghorn had 372, a clear majority of 124.

Mr. Claghorn may well be proud, and, indeed, had it not been for the high character of the gentleman on the Temperance ticket, we doubt if it would have had any votes at all.

Compared with the Female Suffrage ticket, this is a gigantic triumph. Miss Susan B. Anthony, for the Governorship of the State, received 1 vote, which was probably cast by Mr. Damon Y. Kilgore.

This gives Mr. Claghorn a majority of 371 over Miss Anthony, and yet she is a woman of superior abilities. The following tabular statement will be found valuable for reference in future political campaigns.

We compare the vote in the State for Mr. Claghorn and Miss Susan B. Anthony with that of Grant in 1869.

Table with 3 columns: Name, 1869, 1868. Rows include Grant, Claghorn, Ferguson, Anthony, etc.

A further analysis will show that Grant's majority over Claghorn in Pennsylvania is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Name, 1869, 1868. Rows include Grant, Claghorn, Ferguson, Anthony, etc.

It is important that these tables should be carefully studied, for as Colonel Forney has truly said, "One vote may lose the freedom for which our fathers died," and the lesson should be heeded by all thoughtful patriots.

A Monument in Columbia. In our local columns we refer to a laudable enterprise now fairly started. This contemplates the erection of a monument to commemorate the heroic deeds, the sacrifices and the sufferings of our sainted dead, who now lie sleeping in the cemetery in Columbia and vicinity, and in Southern battle-fields.

The living guardians of the sacred memories of the past decade. While this monument is to be a local memorial, it will also serve to perpetuate the names and deeds of that array of noble men, who to-day are numbered with the "serried sleepers at Arlington, or who lie in the gaping trenches around Richmond."

It will be for the one hundred thousand who fell by the wayside on the great marches of the west; for the countless and unnumbered thousands, the nation's precious blood, who rest afar off under unloving skies, without a loving hand to care for, or a tear to fall upon their passionless mound.

On Faneuil Hall, Boston, Mass., the late President Lincoln was buried. The Harrisburg Patriot is mad, and wants the statue of Washington to be removed from its pedestal, and kick Grant out of the White House, after which it will be for the one hundred thousand who fell by the wayside on the great marches of the west; for the countless and unnumbered thousands, the nation's precious blood, who rest afar off under unloving skies, without a loving hand to care for, or a tear to fall upon their passionless mound.

Thanksgiving. There is something anobling in the American Thanksgiving. It is the nation's grateful heart beat to the Creator.

If there is a land on earth where men should render thanksgiving for bounties received, it is this Republic. Here, happiness is general. The people do not sicken that a few pampered aristocrats might fatten. The earth and the fat thereof is mine, saith the Lord. What is His in His people's. Here the fatness of the earth belongs to the people.

No iron hand clutches the ripened harvest while the reapers die for bread. Here, the people are face to face with the Lord, and thank Him with pleasant looks and happy homes and grateful hearts.

It is the most hopeful sign of the nation's growing greatness to see her supreme ruler so reverently, and so simply acknowledge the care and watchfulness of a kind Providence. The Republic has been preserved for all mankind, against the combined attacks of foes within and enemies without.

With a simple trust in God, and a firm reliance on the justice of our cause, we can defy the allied armies of the world. We give place to the first and peculiarly appropriate proclamation of our soldier President.

By the President of the United States: A Proclamation. The year which is drawing to a close has been free from pestilence. Health has prevailed throughout the land.

Pennsylvania. Annexed is the official vote of the State at the October election in 1868, and the official and reported majorities for 1869.

Table with 3 columns: County, 1868, 1869. Rows include Adams, Allegheny, Beaver, Berks, etc.

The above result must be gratifying to every Republican, and highly flattering to Gov. Geary himself.

The campaign was quietly conducted, the general apathy which always succeeds presidential elections had a tendency to neutralize party zeal and local issues at different places kept many men away from the polls.

In spite of these discouraging circumstances, Gov. Geary has carried the State by a clear and honest majority of nearly five thousand.

It is useless to prate about the unpopularity of the Governor, as the result in Pennsylvania clearly proves that only a successful previous administration, and an able, fearless officer, such as Gen. Geary, could have achieved such a glorious victory.

Binkley, of Internal Revenue memory, and known as the pugilistic official, is about to settle in Norfolk; which is hard on Norfolk.

Ex-Governor Joseph Ritner, died at Carlisle, on Saturday last.

Letter from Quarryville. QUARRYVILLE, Oct. 19th, 1869. Editor Spy.—Your valuable and interesting paper having become quite a favorite in this vicinity, I have thought proper to send you a few lines of news from this place.

Our village, as you are no doubt aware, is the capital of Edon Township, but on the contrary, it is the center of the same and is in close proximity to the lines of Drumore, Providence and Coleraine townships.

It is the point at which line is obtained by all that portion of the County south of it, and also a portion of Chester County, and Cecil County, Maryland.

We situated immediately upon the dividing line between the original German and English settlement of our County, those South of us being of Scotch-Irish extraction, while those north are of German descent.

The latter were more fortunate than the former in the location of rich limestone lands along the Conestoga, Peque, Mill Creek, Beaver, &c., where the land was heavily timbered, and of natural good quality, while their Scotch-Irish neighbors, being no doubt influenced by the amount of labor necessary to clear away the heavy timber, the result was, that this German portion of our county grew more rapidly in wealth and political influence than the Scotch-Irish.

There was a discovery of the fertilizing qualities of our lime upon their light soils, has wrought a wonderful change upon the face of the country. Old fields once covered with ledge and briars, which were considered worthless, now produce crops of all kinds, fully equal to the best Pennsylvania lands. Old log houses now give place to substantial and stately mansions. Large and well-diced barns meet the eye in all directions, while at the same time, due regard is paid to the cause of religion and education by the erection of handsome churches and good school houses.

But one thing which greatly retards the prosperity of our section of the county, is the want of Railroad facilities for obtaining the coal and lumber, and transporting our products. Several Railroad projects have been on foot—first, the Columbia and Octorara, next, the Strasburg and Quarryville, and then the Quarryville and Octorara, running from this place to point on the Pennsylvania Railroad near Christiana.

There were several surveys made for the last named route, proving it to be a very practical one, of easy grade, not exceeding ten feet to the mile; and considering the large deposits of iron ore in this neighborhood, and along the line of the route, the necessary amount of local freight of coal, &c., which would pass over it, certainly recommends it to the favorable consideration of property holders, and persons of capital and influence in this section of the county. A considerable amount of stock has been subscribed to this road, and it is hoped that its friends will not permit it, like its predecessors, to be a failure.

We invite our friends and all subscribers to contribute to our local department, to make the Spy an interesting family visitor, we are organizing a complete local department for the whole county.

FOR FARMERS AND OTHERS.—The idea seems to be prevailing that cheaper farms can be bought in Maryland and along the border States than in Pennsylvania, and that the farms as a general thing are better and more productive than in this State. This is a very erroneous opinion, and is not altogether correct. In York county there are some excellent farms now offered at public and private sale. Of these the best which we have heard of is that of C. W. Miller, of McCall's Ferry, advertised in the Harrisburg Patriot, which is the best in Lower Chambersburg township, in good condition, with houses and all necessary out-buildings. The terms of sale are easy, and price asked quite low. Farmers and others who would give any opportunity their services, should take notice of this advertisement. The location is very desirable. The White Horse property is also offered to the attention of buyers generally.
