Saturday, November, 13, 1869. Wise and Otherwise.

How I Came to be Married.

It may be thung but I've done it. I've got rib and baby ! Shadows departed ; oyster stews, brandy cock tails, sugar boxes, boot-jacke s. abscording shirt buttons, whist and dominous Shadows present-hoop skirts, band boxes, ribbons, gaiters. long stockings invenile dresses, tin trumpets, little willow chairs, cradles, bibs, pap, sugar tenie, paregorie, hive syrap, thubarb senna, salta: custor foil. Godfrey's cordial. equills, doctor's bills. Shadows futuremore nine pound babies, more hive syrup.,

erc., erc., etc. I'll just tell you how I got caught. I was the durndest most ten custard, bashful fellow you ever, did see; it was kinder in my line to be taken with the shakes everytime I saw a pretty girl approaching me, and I'd cross the street any time rather, than face one. It was not because I didn't like the critters, for, if I was behind a fence peeping through a knot hole I could look at one long enough.

..... Well; my sister Lib gave a party one night, and I stayed away from home because I was too bashful to face the music. I hung around the house whistling Old Dan" Tucker, dancing to keen my feet warm, watching the heads pop up and down behind the window curtain, and wishing the thundering party would break up so that Leould get to my reom. smoked a bunch of segars, and, and as it was getting late and mighty uncomfortable. I concluded to shin it up the door post.-No sooner said than done, and I soon found myself in bed. "Now.' says f let her rip, dange till yer wind gives out and cudding under the quilts Morphens grabbed me. 1 was dreaming of cott shell crabs, shrimps, stewd oysters, &c , when somebody knocked at the door .-Rap I laid low. Rap, Rap, Rap! then I heard a whist cring and I knew there was a whole raft of girls outside. - Rap, Rap, Rap, then Lib sings out. 'Jack are you there?'

Yes " says I then came a roar of lauzbter. Let us in, says she.

Then ano her laugh. By thunder! I began to be riled, :Can't you let a fellow alone ?"

'Are you abed?' says she. 'I am' saysale says.'Get up. says she. 'I wou't says I.

Then another laugh. 'Get out, you petricoated scarecrows,' Ieried, 'san't you get a beau without pulling a lellow out of bed! I won't go home with you-I won't-so you may clear out! and throwing a bootcatethe door I felt bet-Bar prominely Oh I mortal buttons I heard a still small voice very much like my sister Lib's, and it said : "Jack you'll have to get up, for all the girl's things are in there.

Oh! Oh, what a pickle! think of me in bed, all covered over with muffs, shawls, bonnets and cloaks, and twenty girls at the door waiting to get in ; if I had time to think I should have fainted on the spot, as it was I rolled out of the bonnet ware and ribbons in a hurry. Smash went the millinery in every direction. I had to dres in the dark for there was a hole in the door, and girls will peop and the way I jumbled about was death to straw hats. The moment came; I opened the door and found myself right among the women.

Ohd iny deal leghorn' cried one, my dear, darling little winter beaver!' cried another; and they pitched and they pulled, this way and that, and one bright eyed litlet piece. Sal. her name was, put her arms around my neck and kissed me right in the mouth. Human nature couldn't stand that, and I gave her as good as she sent. It was the first time I ever got a tuste and it was powerful good. I believe 71 could have kissed the gal from Julius Casar to the 4th of July.

'Jack,' said she, 'we are sorry to disturb you, but won't you see me home?" . - Yes said I - I will - And I did, and I had unother smack at the gate too. After that we took a kinder turtle doving after each other; both of us sighed like a barrel of eider, when we were away from each other."

It was at the close of a glorious summer day-the sun was setting behind a distant hug pen-and the chickens were going to roost-the bull frogs: were commencing their overing sought the pollywogs in their native mud-puddles were preparing themselves for the shukes of night-and Sal and myself sat upon an antiquated back-log listening to the music of natures; such as tree-toads, roosters, grunting pigs, and now and then the mellow music of a distant Jackass, was wafted to our cars by the gentle repliyes that sighed among the. mullen stocks, and came heavily laden with the delicious todors of henroosts and pig styes. The last lingering rays of the setting sun, glancing from the brass buttons of a solitary horseinen, shone through a knothole in the hog-pen, full in Sal's face dying her hair to an orange peel, hue, and showing off my threadbare coat to a bad advantage ... One of my arms was around her waist, my hand resting on the small of her back-she was toying with my jet black looks of auburn huer She was almost gone, and I was ditto. Sho looked like a grasshopper dying with she hiccoughs, and I felt like a mud turtle choked with a codfish ball. says I in a voice as musical as the notes of a dying swan, will you have me? She turned her eyes heavenward clasp ed me by the hand; had an attack of the heaves and blind staggers and with a heaves and blind staggers and with a sigh that, drew, her shoe sittings to her throat said yes. She gave clear out and squatted in my lapses Well, to make a long story short; she soot the day, and we practiced for four weeks every night how we would walk into the room to get married, till we got so that we could walk as graceful as a couple of muscovy ducks After this we was married.
