LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Local Paragrapns.

Marrietta has but one daylight.

The banks will be closed to-day.

"Notices to Quit" and blank Articles of Agreement for sale of real estate.

Investments in stocks and skating parties do not yield very liberally this winter.

The 15th Annual Ball of the Columbia

Fire Company will be held on Monday evening.

S. W. Milfill, with an organized engineer corps in charge left for Delaware on Monday.

John Gell's property will be offered at public sale this day. Capitalists should attend.

The Hutchinson family held another social very pleasant.

Dr. McCloskey, a resident of Missouri, and a subscriber to the Spy is on a visit among his friends in this section.

A York paper says there is a good bit of gas in that town, which does not pass through the metres.

The old year went out "like a lamb"; it remains to be seen whether the New Year will come in "like a lion," thus verifying that old prediction.

The editor of the Herald evidently dislikes the manner in which we deliberately extract from his local. He claims, and we'll try to forego the temptation in the future.

Market was held yesterday morning, this being considered a general holiday. The attendance of the farmers was large, and productions offered in abundance notwithstanding the special tax.

Prof. Schmidt's orchestra performed at the Columbia Fire Company's fair, at the Hutchinson social, and at several private socials during the week. His orchestra also performed at Altoona a few evenings since.

From Rohrerstown.

Rohrerstown, Dec. 28.

Having noticed that you are publishing communications of a local character from nearly all parts of the county I trust that a short communication from our village will be acceptable. Rohrerstown on the Pennsylvania Railroad is accessible by three trains from the west and four from the east daily. Our town though seemingly an ancient place is not more than about forty years old. It has three streets passing through it from east to west, and four from north to south. The village contains a large rolling mill owned by Col. D. W.

Paterson of Lancaster, and when in operation affords employment for about forty men; at present it is not in operation, and makes business quite dull. We have two hotels—one kept by Mr. M. Dietrich, the other by Mr. Bruckhart. There are also two dry goods and grocery stores in the place, and a confectionery establishment kept by Mr. Landis who was very amply prepared with all kinds of confections and supplied all who made demands on him during the holidays. The German Reformed and Lutheran congregations have a very fine church in the town though it yet minus a bell; an effort is being made to raise the required amount of money to purchase one. We hope they will succeed.

Our graded school is a success. The High school department is taught by Z. L. S. Snel-der and the primary by H. G. Newcomer. The building is a new one and is supplied with many of the modern improvements. Dr.

S. G. Gray is the only physician in the town and is kept very busy at the present time

Christmas.

The observance of Christmas was very general, and with the religious services, the traditional calls, and heart-felt congratulations, the days were spent in a very happy and festive manner.

The Churches held services as usual in the City; several important services were omitted, from the fact that we went to press on Thursday afternoon instead of Friday as usual. The Sabbath School of the Reformed Church held a very pleasant service and festival on Friday morning. A large Christmas Tree had been erected, from which were taken and distributed to the children. A few persons —not children—also shared in the distribution. The regular Christmas service was held at the Reformed Church, and a pleasant time was spent. The children were decorated with wreaths, and festooned, and the pulpit in graceful arch were the letters "Glory to God in the Highest."

The Paul's Episcopal Church was a great beauty. The decorations, as reported in last week's Spy were completed, and many additional ones. An attractive ornament to the tree was an anchor, formed of box-wood, and twined with ivy. The large tree was surmounted by the bright "Star of the East" and illuminated by nearly one hundred and fifty candles. The children were all in their strength, the children being very numerous. The effect of the entire scene was very pleasing.

The singing by the school was very fine, and the hymns selected suitable for the occasion. The Christmas made a short

PERSONAL.—William Hinkle, Esq., nephew of Dr. F. Hinkle, and bride from Kansas City, Mo., have been spending a few days with Dr. and Mrs. F. Hinkle. From our Kansas exchanges we learn that the couple were married on the 14th of December, and that the nuptials were celebrated with imposing ceremonies. The party started on their bridal tour immediately after, accompanied to the depot by a vast concourse of friends.

They arrived safely here on the evening of the 24th, visiting in their trip St. Louis, Cleveland, and Pittsburgh. While here they were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Hinkle in becoming style, and received the congratulations of a host of friends.

From here they go to Philadelphia. A visit to New York, Boston and the Canadas was contemplated, but the advice of friends induced them to return from Columbia to Kansas City.

They will bear with them to their Western home, the heartfelt congratulations of their friends here. The romantic nature of these greetings will tend to make life more pleasant, and keep ever green the memory of that blissful hour when they were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. His house is brightly lit
