Indecision mars all success; there can be no good wind for the sailor who knows not to what port he is bound.

"IAM, indeed, very much afraid of lightning," murmured pretty young girl, during a storm. "And well you may be," sighed the despairing lover, "for your heart is made of steel."

Ir we scrutinize the living of men of genius, we shall find that activity and persistence are their leading peculiarities. Obstacles cannot intimidate, nor labor weary, nor drudgery disgust them.

A young fellow, eating some cheschire cheese, full of scippers, at a tavern one night exclaimed: "Now I have done as much as Sampson, for I have slain my thousands, and my tens of thousands." "Yes," retorted another, " and with the jaw-bone of an ass."

THE truly great consider first how they may gain the approbation of God, and secondly that of their own conscience; having done this, they would then willingly conciliate the good opinion of their fellow-men. But truly little reverse the thing; the primary object with them is to secure the applause of their fellow-men, and having effected this, the approbation of God and their own conscience may fol. low on as they can.

The Missionary Link gives an odd instance of the contrivance employed to circumvert heathen regulation. It says: "One of our native teachers was a widow and a young bachelor wanted to marry her. But, as an unmarried man cannot marry a widow, he was with all due ceremony married to a flower. When that withered and, died, he said it was quite proper that he should marry the widow which he did She has the faded flower, and says it is to be burned and buried with her when she dies.

Three brothers, bearing a remarkable resemblance to each other, recently went into the same barbershop, on the same day, to be shaved; one going in the morning, the other at noon; and the third at night. When the last one appeared, the barber, who was a German, dropped his rasor in astonishment, and exclaimed: " Vell, de man hash de fashtest beard I never saw; I shave him dis morin', shave him at dinner times, and he comes back now, mit his beard so long as it never ENERGY.-Energy is omnipotent. The clouds that surround the houseless boy of to-day are dispersed, and he is invited to a palace. It is the work of energy. The child who is a beggar this moment, in a few years may stand forth the admiration of angels! Who has not seen the lifegiving power of energy? It makes the wilderness bloom as the rose; whitens the ocean with sails; levels mountains; paves with iron a highway from state to state; and sends through, with the speed of lightning, messages from one extremity of the land to the other Without energy, what is man? A fool, a clod.

A GOOD NAME-Always be more solicitous to preserve your innocence than concerned to prove it. It will never do to seek a good name as a primary object. Like trying to be graceful, the effort to be popular will make you contemptible. Take of your spirit and conduct, and your reputation will take care of itself. The utmost that you are called to do, as the guardian of your reputation, to remove aspersions. Let not your good be evil spoken of, and follow the highest examples in mild and explicit self-vindication. No reputation can be permanent which does not spring from principle, and he who would maintain a good character should be mainly solicitous to maintain a good character void of offence toward God and toward man.

A DDRESS

To the Nervous and Debilitated. Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable: If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involun-tary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick seum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bettom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moping, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Doesany little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your check as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you ursue your business with the same energy? Do you have as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of nelancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dysepsia or liver-complaint?

Now, reader, self-abuse, venereal disease badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defant, energetic, persevering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect realth? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them. I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other diseaseidiocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one. Diseases of these organs require the use of a Diurette, HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT

If taken in season, it is generally effectual in checking the disease. Rrv. CHAS. HARDING, Sholapore, India." sept4-69-tiw

CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. What the Doctors Say:

AMOS WOOLLEY, M. D., of Kosciuska County, Indiana, says: "For three years past I have used Allen's Lung Balsak extensively in my practice, and I am satisfied there is no better medicine for lung diseases in use."

ISAAC A. DORAS, M. D., of Logan County, Ohlo, says: "ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAK not only sells rapidly, but gives perfect satisfaction in every case within my knowledge. Having confidence in it and knowing that it possesses valuable medicinal properties, I freely use it in my daily practice, and with unbounded success. As an expecterant it is most certainly fur ahead of any preparation I have ever yet known."

NATHANIEL HARRIS, M. D., of Middle-bury, Vermont, says: "I have no doubt it will soon become a classical remedial agent for the cure of all diseases of the Throat, Bronchial Tubes, and the Lungs.

Physicians do not recommend a medicin which has no merits, what they say about ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM, Can be taken as a fact. Sold by all Medicine Dealers.
