Columbia, Pa. Saturday, JULY 2. 1870.

Shall Columbia be Represented? For a number of years, we have been without a member of the lower branch of the legislature. During that time important measures, affecting the interests of Columbia, have been passed. Others in which we alone are interested, might have been introduced to the attention of the legislature, had we been properly and directly represented. While we urge these claims of Columbia to have one member of the legislature, we would not reflect on any of our representatives for want of courtesy or prompt attention whenever called upon. Geographically, we occupy a position sections, would at once give us a member. We are the most formidable part of the "upper end," and head centre of the trade of this portion of the county. Here is the terminus of the Reading and Columbia Railroad, the Wrightsville Railroad and the Port Deposit Railroad and an important station on the Pennsylvania Railroad. But these are merely secondary considerations. Our people and their direct interests are entitled to it. Politically Columbia and vicinity are regarded as important points, being the secondtown in the county in point of population, first in many other interests. Yet our claims to representation have for some time been disregarded. Will they be again this fall? We might name one or two men, and may do so in our next, who would be acceptable to our people, and who might safely be entrusted with our affairs. We want an honest reliable man, one who could come before the people worthy of being entrusted with the adpublic affairs.

An ex-rebel paper of the South indulges in severe reflections upon the present Adnavy and in pensions." Scarcely any one now pretends that the army and navy are too large. Indeed, there is not a little complaint that the former is not adequate to the protection of the western frontier nor the latter strong enough to maintain the dignity of the nation and the safety of American citizens abroad. The annual outlay for pensions to disabled soldiers and the dependent relations of those who sacrificed their lives in defense of the country is very large, it must be confessed. But would it not be in better taste if our southern friends, whose rebellion rendered those sacrifices and this vast outlay necessary, would let somebody else complain of this part of the national burdens?

We have the assurance of no less an authority than the Cincinnati Enquirer that. notwithstanding the silence of the Ohio platform, "a large and perhaps a controlling section" of the Democratic party, there and in the west, "are for open and undisguised reputation." The contest within the party, according to the same journal, is between the avowed repudiators and the Pendletonians, who would redeem the bonds with greenbacks, to be issued for the purpose. The two sections could not be harmonized, and silence was therefore resorted to by way of compromise. The Democrats in the Tennesses Legislature have begun by discrediting State obligations; and the New Orleans Picayune intimates that the example will befollowed by other Southern Legislatures -of course when they boast of Democratic

THE attempt of the British free trade organ in Lancaster to associate the tariff meeting with Thuggery is as puerile as the weakness of that paper's defence of its treachery to the party. The complexion of the meeting and its proceedings disprove such an invidious lie. This is only a subterfuge of the Express to retreat from the storm of indignation which is daily gathering against its course. This very attempt to justify its position by a trick and a baseness known only to a pensioned confederate in the cause of British capitalists, deserves the most telling rebukes of the Republican party.

THE "Engineers" of the tariff meeting, as the Lancaster Express chooses to term them, acted perfectly right, when they did stigmatize its views as "British Free trade teachings." All the free trade powers of Europe are rejoiced at the sudden change of sentiment of America. The Welsh are starting up furnaces everywhere, and the New York Post quotes freely from the Express. Iron in Europe has advanced, and Washington is alive with British lobbyists and permeated with British Gold. Does any one suppose that the Express could escape such a forcible emonstration?

THE Express feels convinced of the "weakness of the movement" in the Columbia Tariff meeting and that little comment is necessary," and then cooly devotes nearly five columns of solid matter to the subject. If a "weakness" of ours brings out such extraordinary demonstrations, the readers of the Express may congratulate themselves that we were not considered strong, or they would have been taxed with several columns more of British free trade sentiments.

FROM the course of the Americo-British organ in Lancaster, in reference to the Columbia tariff meeting, it would seem that any body who does not agree with it, either on the tariff or on any political or social question is to be denounced a "Thug." If this be the course which it will ultimately adopt, and if it persist in such an unreasonable and altogether selfish mode of discussion, it will find those who disagree with it will constitute a formidable majority.

THE debate disclosed the points upon which the opponents of Free Trade in the House are substantially agreed, and enabled General Schenck to judge very nearly what might be done, and he prepared a short bill which he tacked to the pending Tax bill, and under pressure of the previous question it was passed with great unanimity, but thirty-five votes being recorded against it.

A GOOD deal of interest is excited by the call for the convention of the Republicans of those counties in Pennsylvania in which the Republicans are in a minority. It is: to meet at the Girard House. Philadelphia, on the 4th of July next, and will no doubt be largely attended. In a petition for the purchase of labor.

The New Party. The movement for a new party in the vestern counties of the State, is assuming dangerous proportions. It is impolitic for general reasons—the greatest of which is that the nominations have not yet been made, and the complexion and standing of the nominees not yet known. Upon this subject the Pittsburg Gazette says:

"We do not desire to say much now. The Gazette has always been in favor of an incorrupt ballot-box, and political reformation, and as decidedly opposed to party disruption, when it is unnecessary. It stood isolated and alone during the short lived reign of Know Nothingism, and sustained a great pecuniary loss, and incurred no small amount of displeasure for its fearless advocacy of the equal rights, within Constitutional limits, of native and foreign-born citizens. It has nothing to regret for the course taken then. There are many who entered into that movement who wish now that its memory could be buried in eternal oblivion. Its ghost haunts them by day and by night. It was an unwise and impolitic movement, and only brought grief to its aiders and abettors. The present attempt to divide the party, which has covered itself with so much glory, is equally unwise and uncalled for. If those whose names are appended to the call really desire reform, they can secure it better in the regularly organized party, than in the unwhich, if representation were based on fledgling that has given its first chirp for popular favor. The Executive Committee or any other, has not circumscribed the rights of any voter. On the contrary, all Republican voters are cordially invited to meet at the usual places, throughout the county, for holding primary elections in the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, on Saturday, August 27th, and elect delegates from each election district to the different conventions. Does the 'call' suggest any better plan? Can the people be better trusted on the second of July, than on the 27th of August? Cannot as good and as true men be elected delegates at the one time as at the other

Who is to determine whether a man is

'honest'' or dishonest when he offers his ballot? The weakness of the call, in point of numbers, rather astonishes us. We are informed that canvassers for signatures have been busily at work in the more than one hundred districts in the county, and yet, the number who sign is comparativeministration of their private as well as ly very small. Calls in this neighborhood have a significant history. Many a candidate for office has exhibited a more formidable array of names than that which appears on the call for the new ministration for expending "eighty-eight | party, and met with overwhelming defeat. millions in the support of the army and In no sense, is this call of the self-baptised reform party alarming. Republicans! stand to your guns. Your principles are impregnable. If your usages need reformation, let the correction be applied at once, and victory is certain.

The Third Party as a Speculation.

We have a dark hint that "those names" will be forthcoming soon. Rumor has it that the most frantic efforts have been put forth to swell the list, but that, aside from several who attached their names to encourage the Commercial in its venture but without intending to have any part in the enterprise, there is but a small stock of names. This is strange. It is regarded as one of the easiest things in political management to get names signed to a "call." But even this feature of the Commercial's effort is a partial failure. In the meantime, the bantling gasps for breath. while the good natured spinster who has undertaken to nurse it, presses it frantically to her withered breast. But they furnish no food. Still she declares it is a beautiful waif, fair in features, and sublime in its proportions. Though it has made but one feeble "call," its nurse affirms that it has been heard, and that if enough nurses come to her assistance it will yet make a cry which shall be heeded. But the poor waif is palpably for sale. It is evident the nurse intends to get her pay by selling it to the highest bidder. Senator Cameron will be charged double price as he is supposed to have the means. Others will be expected to pay in proportion. But fair notice is given, that unless some one takes the waif off her hands by the 6th of July next, and pays nursing expenses, she will utterly refuse it longer support and fair as it is, let it die. Who wants a loose political bantling? Who bids for a youngster without paternity, but that is extensively promising in "reform." It can be had cheap at the hospital, the yellow flag of which is always streaming. The price will be lowered

We can not condemn too strongly a movement to form a new party when it is not known what the nominations will be. If the "rings" nominate bad men,then let a second nomination be made, not out of the party however.

WE have the pleasure to announce Mr. John K. Reed of Lancaster city, as a candidate for the office of County Commissroner. Mr. Reed, we know, is a gentleman possessing the confidence of his fellow men, and in every respect well qualifled to make a good officer, to whose care the most important interests of our county may safely be entrusted. We will be much gratified if he should be elected. He was a candidate for this office last year and was within a few votes of being elected. We sincerely hope that the taxpayers of Lancaster county will so far consult their own best interests by preferring him to a post of such importance, that he may have an oppotunity of shewing his usefulness and the value of a good

AND now the Northwest, resenting the idea that it is a distant missionary field, to be cultivated by the more enlightened East, proposes to take care not only of its own industrial interests, but of the interests of the whole country also. Chicago has organized a National Association of the Friends of Home Industry, throughout the United States, "for the promotion of the principles and policy of protection to all American industries which are or may be exposed to injury by foreign competition," upon a plan suggested by the Hon. D. J. Morrell, M. C., President of the Industrial League of Pennsylvania. We hope to see Chicago send lecturers on political economy to New York and Boston, and other half-civilized or benighted communities.—Industrial Bulletin.

George Washington signed the first tariff act "for the encouragement of manufactures." Benjamin Franklin wrote to Humphrey Marshall, advocating the encouragement of "our young manufactures in preference to foreign ones imported among us from distant countries. Alexander Hamilton, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, Andrew Jackson and other American statesmen must also be numbered with the urgent advocates of "laws for the protection of labor and ingenuity."

FAST trains on railroads can only be run when the stoppages to take water are at long intervals. One of the English methods of feeding locomotives is very effective, and is about being introduced in this country. At the Montrose station the Hudson River Railroad has laid down in the centre of the track a perfectly straight trough, lined with pointed sheetiron, 1200 feet long, 15 inches deep, and 18 inches wide. This trough, holding 16,000 gallons, is kept constantly supplied with water from a spring. To the tender of the locomotive between the hind trucks is attached a semi-circular pipe, with a nozzle so arranged as to drop down into the trough at the will of the engineer. The nozzle is directed towards the point the locomotive is going and sinks to the depth of two inches in the trough. It is stated that when the train is running at the rate of 30 miles an hour, and the nozzle dropped into the trough, 1634 gallons of water will be forced into the tender before the entire length of the trough has been passed

The Coming Campaign. If the Republicans of Lancaster county will give the question of the tariff the attention it deserves, we can gain many hundreds of votes next fall. The question is a political one, it belongs to the Republicans, who have always been its varmest advocates. On the 5th of February last, when Mr. Marshall, of Illinois, offered a resolution that Congress should prepare a tariff bill for revenue only, and when the motion to lay on the table was made, every democrat voted against it; by this vote their record was made in favor of tariff for revenue only, which means free trade in only an-

A Nice Placeto Live.

There are many pleasanter places to live in than New York, one might suppose, after reading the accounts of the police operations in that city on Saturday night and Sunday, morning. Three hundred and thirty-five arrests were made in twentyfour hours ending at 6 A. M. on Sunday. and this was only forty-two more than on the preceeding Saturday night. Among the arrests on last Saturday night there were no less than ten for shooting, stabbing and assault with clubs. Six men were stabbed, several very badly, and one of them mortally; one woman was shot, and the others were serious assaulty with bludgeons. In the language of the Herald "it was dangerous in many streets for a quiet citizen to be seen abroad," and it seemed as if "the infernal regions had opened their doors" on Saturday night.

THE Tariff Meeting was a grand success so far as the object: for which it was called is concerned-placing the repubquestion. The interest and enthusiasm manifested was an carnest of what feeling there is in the matter. A few free trade Republicans, whose connection with the party means weakness and drowned. dissension, started the cry of Thuggery and kept some away. They are now anxious to confess their mistake and mend the wrong, but their conduct in the matter will be remembered. The notices of the Columbia movement by the public press is having its effect, and several of our free trade organs are squirming under it. We devote a large part of our local space to a report of the proceedings of the meeting.

THE New York World says the law for rected against fraululent voting, such as the only loans falling due on the first of practiced in New York at every election, is a vile partisan measure. This denunciation of the World is tantamount to a confession that the law touches the Democracy on the raw. "Massa," said a Mississippi darkey, "I an't a gwine to dat meetin' not me! De preacher call my name right out in church." "Why, no he didn't Pete; I was there; he didn't say a word about you." "Wall-it's jess de same. He said, 'mis'ble sinner, ye musn't lie an' steal so-an' I know well 'nuf he meant

Our production of iron has risen to nearly two millions of tons a year. We make nine-tenths of the carpets we use. We have run the foreign manufacturers almost entirely out of the American hardeach day till the 6th proximo, when, if not ware market, and in every other department our progress is commensurate. At the bare prospect of our returning to Free Trade again new investments in manufactures have stopped, notwithstanding our great national resources and the inherent spirit of energy and enterprise in our people. It is the threatened Free Trade Legislation that has done this.

In the light of the recent advances of the free traders, it would be well if Congress would rid the nation of that great calculator, political economist, &c., Commissioner Wells, and fill his place with one who would know and do his duty better. Congress can do no better service to the nation than sinking Wells.

THE question asked by the Express whether it would be a blessing if iron were as cheap as water, received a significant answer on Saturday evening in the question of Col. Kauffman. "whether or not the laboring man could live on air?" One must be the sequence of the other.

It has been over and over abundantly proved that all people and governments, farmers and manufacturers, railroad and ship owners, become prosperous just as the domestic commerce grows, and all decline as that commerce tends to dwindel and die away.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

The Living Machine. Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works becomes disordered. The numan stomach is to the human system wha that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and influences the action of the other organs, and controls, to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further: for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spiling is indicated on the face of the clime-piece, so also is the weakness of the corders of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or aired, the eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tells as plannly as written words could, do that the great nourshing organ whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not preforming its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the Stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspeptia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone, when the resources of the planmacopoeia have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complainty a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect the liter is mire or essible cases of dyspepsia cach and bowels, the Bitters net sinds of the bleef them or easy in the content of the liter is and and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating orgal on which beddily and mental health depend. controls, to a certain extent, the whole living oddily and mental health depend.
