you take 'em." "Why don't you limit yourself?" said a physician to an intemperate person. "Set down a stake that you will go so far and no further." "I do," replied the other; "but I set it so far off that I always get drunk before I get to it."

The father of Dorabella recently found that little girl's chubby little hands full of the blossoms of a beautiful tea-rose, on which he had bestowed great care. "My dear," he said, "didn't I tell you not to pick one of those flowers without leave?" these had leaves."

"Gentlemen of the jury" said a blustering attorney in a suit about a lot of hogs, "gentlemen of the jury, there were thirty-six hogs in that drove; please remember that fact-thirty-six hogs; just exactly three times as many as there are in that jury box, gentlemen." The attorney didn't gain the case.

Mrs. Partington being in doubt as to whether it was caterpillar or capillary attraction young Mr. Jones talked about so wonderfully, consulted "Walker," and concluded it didn't matter which it was, as capillary ment resembling hairs, and she knew caterpillars were hairy and have an attraction to leaves.

An invincible wit and punster asked the captain of a craft laden with boards how he managed to get dinner on the passage, "Why," replied the skipper, "we always cook aboard!" "Cook a board, do you?" rejoined the wag. "Then I see you have been well supplied with provisions this trip, at all events."

The following is a verbatim report of a conversation which recently took place between a tather and his model child: Father. "My son, which would you rather do-learn a hymn or eat a bun?" Model son (who has been questioned be fore).—" Father, I would rather learn a hymn."—" Then, my son, you shall have buns."two

King Charles II once said to John Milton; "Do you not think that your blindness is a judgment upon you for having written in defense of my father's murder? "Sir," answered the poet, "it is true I have lost my eyes; but if all calamitous providences are to be considered as judgments, your Majesty must recollect that your royal father lost his head!"

There was an old lady who lived next door to the navy-yard at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and who had the misfortune to be hard of hearing. Last fourth of July she sat in her parlor while the boys of the navy-yard fired a salute of thirty six heavy guns. As the last sixty-eight

Two young misses, discussing the qualities of some young gentlemen, were overheard thus: "Well, I like Charley, but he is a little girlish; he hasn't got the least bit of beard." "I say Charley has got a beard, but he shaves it off." "No, he hasn't, either; any more than I have, "I say he has, too, and I know it; for it pricked my cheek." That's how she

ADDRESS

To the Nervous and Debilitated. Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable: If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debili-tated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is it ropy on settling? Or does a thick seum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing "Father," said a lad, "I have often read of people being 'poor but honest'; or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constituted? Doyou have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is honest?" "Tut, tut. my son," replied the father, "nobody would believe them."

There is a kind of grim humor in the grant strong years and the strong years are strong expended to be seen that the pany, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get a way from excepted to be seen this thing. get away from everybody? Doesany little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilwelcome, "The Lord keep you humble, liant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursuo your business with the same energy? Do you have as much confidence in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Now, reader, self-abuse, venercal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, perse-vering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect health? You never hear such men camplain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business: they don't become sad Yes, papa," said Dorabella, "but all pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face-none of your downcast looks or any other meanness about them.

I do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for. How many men, from badly cured diseases from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so much as to induce almost every other disease—idiocv, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.

Diseases of these organs require the use of a Directic. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is the great Directic, and is a certain cure for diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Grayel, Dropsy, Organic Weakness, Female Comlaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the plaints, General Debility, and all diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing.

If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the health and happiness, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.

Its Resources and Progress—Its Beauty, Healthfulness and Fertility, and its Attractions and Advantages as a Home for lumi-grapts.—A New Brains, A New Book Free of Cost, Compiled from official sources and published by direction of Governor Horace Austin.

In a convenient and readable form it exhibits the inducements offered by Minnesota to persons seeking new homes, and includes the official statistics illustrative of the marvelous growth and development of that young, vigorous and healthy state.

Other publications to attract Immigrants usually deal in indiscriminate puffery and grossly exaggerate statements. This gives a candid exhibit of facts, derived chefly from the State Bureau of Statistics, and otherwise supported by scientific and disinterested testimony of the most incontestible character.

After a short geographical and historical sketch, showing the central position of the state and the events of its young history, follows description of its beauty and fording from the testimony of high military and iterary authorities; an exhibit of market and iterary authorities; an exhibit of market and iterary authorities; an exhibit of market in the sources; a description of a dispersion on the climate, illustrating its dispersation on the climate, illustrating its property of the sources in 1859, with surplus of 14,000,000 bushels of wheat for export gives tables of comparison, proving critically that Minnesota excels from the result of the respective of the surplus and effective water power than all New Topics and the power is give subject of wheat for export gives tables of comparison, proving critically that Minnesota excels Iona and other staples except corn; shows a more ample and effective water power than all New Power is get used the extent and value of manching the control of the extent and value of manching the control of the power is yet used, the extent and value of manufactures have increased 245 per cent, in nine years.

The book also shows the value and importance of the lumbering interest, commercial resources and progress, navigation, milroads constructed and projected, including the Northern Pacifically and projected, including the Northern Pacifically are respectedly pushed forward—the amazing development of common schools from thirteen districts, five schools not seen and 250 scholars in 1851, to 2,521 districts, 1,223 school houses and 162,665 scholars in 1894—progres in population in which the state is shown to have outstripped all her assets. Due attention is given to political and social institutions, government, taxanon, value of property, distribution of wealth, improvement of farms, exemption laws, law of descent, legal practice, statistics of charitable institutions, poor, post offices, newspays, religion, Sunday Schools, Musons, Old Fellows, de.

It concludes with a chapter on "Public Lands, how and where to ret them, "shows the amount of unoccupied lands, how to obtain "free farms," gives the location of the government land offices, describes the different classes of public lands and the several modes and cost of obtaining them under the nomestead laws, by preenption, de. with suggestions as to the manner and cost of starting farms, when to commence, what money can do, what pluck and musele may do—wages, employment, and who should come to the State—affording, in short, all such infirmation as emigrants mest need.
