Do not be troubled longer with buttons tearing off your shoes, but go at once to Pinkerton's and get the Patent Lock Shank Button, that will never come off.

WE would call particular attention to the advertisement of sale of the "Franklin House," in another column. An opportunity is offered to a man who "can keep a hotel," not to be equalled in the State. The house is now doing a first class business, and is one of our principal hotel.

J. A. Meyers, at his Family Drug Store has the argest and finest stock of drugs in Columbia, in fact in the county. When you buy of him, you run no risk of getting old drugs. His spices, perfumes, soaps and fancy articles are the best-in the market, and as he buys also entirely for cash, he sells cheaper than any other druggists.

DROWNING CASE.-A little son of Abram H. Kauffman, aged two years, five months and three days, residing about one mile below, Columbia near the river, wandered away from his home on Saturday evening about dusk and fell into the river: The body was recovered in about an hour afterwards, by John Mayes.

SEVERE ACCIDENT. A scaffold used by a party of laborers engaged in White-washing the inside of the Columbia Bridge gave way on Tuesday evening about'5 o'clock, precipitating five men down to the floor of the bridge: four of them had, to be carried to their homes. FRENCH'S ORIENTAL CIRCUS AND CARA-NOTHING TO BOAST OF .- Our neighbor-VAN.-J. M. French's Oriental Circus in connection with his justly celebrated Caravon, is announced to exhibited in this town Friday, October 21st, afternoon and eve-White males, "females, Colored males, ning. This Menagerie contains the largest and smallest Elephants on exhibition in the country. It is well worth the price of admission to witness the astonishing feats of the Arab Troupe which travels with this company. Their exhibition of strength, flexibility and elasticity are wonderful.-Unless sadly degenerated from what it was last season; French's Circus can hardly be excelled.

WE copy the following from the Boston Journal, of July 10th :

A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY.—The entree of French's Egyptian caravan into our city, with its drove of Asiatic camels, richly caparisoned, and under the perfect con-crol of their Bedouin drivers, with a dis-play that attracted universal admiration.— It was one of the most interesting street ex-hibitions ever witnessed here; and the manner in which the varied programme of the circus performance was conducted ful-filled the lively expectation aroused by the magnificent and novel entree into the sity. This circus has the largest elephant on exhibition in America, and also the smallest of the elephantine tribe, besides many other rare specimens from the ani-A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY.—The entree of many other rare specimens from the ani-mais of Europe and Asia. Welsh, "after" thorough "investigation," is ound to be without cause, and is therefore tismissed.

"SAFE" OPERATOR PICKED UP .- On las Friday, when the noon train going west was about a mile west of Mountville, a well dressed individual stepped up to Nelson Williams, a colored man who runs coal cars for :B. B. Martin, and resides on Chestnut Hill, West Hempfield twp., who was counting some money whiche placed upon his knee. James Moore took a seat beside Williams and enquired how much money he had. Williams replied that he had twenty-five dollars. Moore then got up and passed to the front end of the cars and spoke to a confederate and returned and took his seat again. The confederate then came up and asked for some tobacco, when Moore pulled out a "safe," shaped like tobacco boxes, and offered to bet fifty cents that he could not open it. The denizens, of the African Jun-gles as well as the most cultivated circles of Parisians have their sources, of annse-ment-and the culture and civilization of the latter are as much determined by those they seek as in the barbarism'of the 'former by their rude and to us, outrageous.means of enjoyment: In Pagan Rome the amphi-theatrowas overhooked by the 'highest in authority, the wealthiest, and by, the Cleo-patras of thit imperial city.-to, watch, the agonizing struggles and deathrthroses of the-poor captive who vainly contested for the boon of life with some 'savage' denizen' of the jung to the desert.' But in this aine-teenth century our. enjoyments are not in witnessing human torture, but rather in the cultivation of powers of physical man; his accomplishments in feats of strongth and agility ; his skill in bringing the brute creation, whether represented by the borse, the elephant, the fiercest of lons-the king of beasts--under control of human mind.-These thoughts run through our mind. as we contemplate the wonderful and interes-ing exhibition given by Frenchis Orienta-Grous and Egyptian 'Caravin'. To orginn ize the vast and varied combination o anusements, it. would seem as if nearly avery quarter of the globe had 'Boen' com-pelled to contribute its rarest representa-tive. GENTLEMAN :- Your note of the 14th inst., inviting me to give an Elocationary and Musical Entertainment in Columbia at an early day is before me: It is with no trifling degree of pride and pleasure that I respond to your unexpected and flattering call. I appoint Friday evening, October 14th 1870, as the time and Odd Fellows' Hall the place of meeting you, and hope by my efforts, at that time, to repay you for this mark of disinterested friendship.

I am yours, Gentleman, Most Respectfully,

one who knows whereof he speaks. It may serve, perhaps, as a mirror, in which cer-JOHN MART. FRENCH'S CIRCUS AND CARAVAN.-We tain parties may be able to " see themselves as others may see them." Many long and dreary years in the pubare to have a circus, and it is to be French's Oriental Circus and Caravan combined, on ishing business have forced the conviction Friday, October., 21st ... Our exchanges are loud in the praise of this company, and if upon us toat newspaper patronage is a word of many definitions, and that a great major-"coming events cast their shadows before," ity of mankind are either ignorant of the this show must be literally a big thing; and we have reason to believe that it is un-excelled in its line. We copy the following correct definition or are dishouest in a and we have reason to believe that it is un-excelled in its line. We copy the following from the New Haven Palladium ef May 10 "French's Oriental Caravan comprises very much that is found in no other circus establishment in the States. It presents such a variety of attractions as to amuses all classes—and to instruct while it amuses. The student of natural history becomes ab-sorbed in contemplating the European and Asiatic representatives of the Animal King-dom. The gigantic clephant, "Empress," and in comparis n, the Lilliputian elephant "Sultan," the collection of fierco Kaffra lions, whose den Herr Schoff fearlessly en-ters and makes one of the most exciting and daring exhibitions of the power of hu-man mind over the brute creation that we ever witnessed; then follow the drove of Camels, driven by genuine Bedouin Arabs -children of Ishmael, whose peculiarities of race are marked and well worth the study of every one. There are various other fea-tures of the animal show of French's Ori-ental exhibition that a limited space will not permit us to mention, but which can-not dail to claim the attention of every vis-itor within the capacious and well-arrang-ed canvass of this superb lestablishment.— Bat the circus performances proper are also not to be forgouten; for they embrace some rare feats in equestrianism, in accrobats, in summersaulting, balancing and feats of strength, while again the Bedouins enrich the programme with an oriental originality that seems to awaken the interest of even the most blase habitue of circus exhibitions. Their displays of strongth are wondorful, and always extort the plaudits of the most cultivated andionees, while tho contrast be tween the e sons of the desert and the more accomplished American or Europeau gym-nast is so distinct as to excite comment and elicit decided attention. We confess that weseldom expect to be much entertain-ed stanty circus, but French's claimed our close attention from the beginning for the close by the novel and exceedingly proficient feat strict biblical sense of the word. Newspaper patronage is as changeable as a chamefrom the New Haven Palladium of May 10: leon. One man comes in, subscribes for a paper, pays for it in advance, and goes home and reads it with proud satisfaction that it is his. He hands in his advertisement, and 140 is his. He hands in his advertisement, and 142 he reaps the advantage thereof. This is Another man usks you to send him the paper, and goes off without saying a word about the pay. Time passes on, you are in need of money and ask him to pay the sum he owes you. He flies into a passion, perhaps pays, perhaps not, and orders his paper stopped. This is called patronage. One man brings in a fifty cent advertisement and wants a two dollar puff thrown in, and when you decline, he goes off mad. Even this is called patronage. Another man don't take your paper. It is too high priced; but he borrows and reads it regularly, and that could be called newspaper patronage. One man likes your paper, he takes a copy, pays for it, and gets his friends to do the same; he is not always grumbling to you or others, but has a friendly word. If an accident occurs in his section he informs the editor. This is newspaper patronage. One hands you a marriage, or other notice; and asks extra copies containing it; and when you ask him to pay for the papers, no looks surprised : "You surely don't take pay for such small matters?' This is called newspaper patronage. One (it is good to see such) comes in and says: "The year for which I paid is about to expire, I want to pay for another." He does so and retires. This is newspaper patronage. It will be seen by the above that; while certain kinds of patronage are the very life of the newspaper, there are other kinds more fatal to its health and circulation than the coils of a boa constrictor are to the 507 the coils of a boa constrict 465 | luckless prey he paironizes.
