A LARGE Crop of nuts, heavy coats of fur on animals, much activity among the squirrels, the early flight of birds to southern climes, all indicate, the weather prophets say, an early winter.

THE speech of Prof. Burleigh in our local columns is full of scientific truths, and will repay a careful perusal. The Professor is one of the most eminent lecturers and electricians in America.

THE resignation of Secretary Cox, of the Interior, is announced, and the President is said to have accepted it. Hon. Columbus Delano, commissioner of Internal Revenue, is named in connection with the vacancy.

MISS NILSSON the Swedish singer, gave three concerts in Philadelphia last week, at which the gross receipts were $17,941.-50. At this rate it may be said that good singing pays and that the American people appreciate it.

THE Republican victory in Nebraska seems to be overwhelming. The Democracy have been utterly routed, and the personal friend of President Grant, Gen. Thayer, will be re-elected Senator to Congress for six years from the 4th of March next, without opposition.

The Colored, Voters. The colored voters of West Chester went to the polls on Tuesday last and for the first time participated in the election of the men who were to rule them and administer laws. Their conduct was every way worthy of themselves. They behaved in a modest, orderly manner, voted, aided their brethren in the exercise of the elective privilege, and then returned peaceably to their homes and places of business. The same good conduct was displayed at the other voting places in Chester county. They generally voted for the Republican ticket, and now they may look to the future for wholesome laws as the result of the victory they aided by their votes to

THE elections are over now, the susvertising agency business to the wellpense of political managers is past, and the time for improved business is here. It is a significant fact that always before elections " business is dull," and that it is always better after. Money is still scarce. everybody is complaining of the difficulty of collecting bills, and provision and food attention.

of nearly every kind is too high. Why this stagnation in business, we cannot tell. It is not merely local either, but extending all over the country. The severe drought in the west has had some influon the markets there, but we have no particular local cause in all the east for the apparent dullness. It was confidently expected that the European war would tend to increased activity in business, but so far we note no favorable changes, save in some commodities. We look confidently for a better future.

Now, that our October election is over and it is well known who have been elected to the Legislature, the next thing of importance will be the election of a State Treasurer. We sincerely hope that a new man will be presented, so that we may not have a repetition of the disgraceful conduct that characterized all who were interested for either Mackey or Irwin. Neither of these men have done anything to commend them to the honest portion of the commonwealth. The contest between

THE Union League of Philadelphia, has iuaugurated a movement in favor of calling a State conventian to amend the constitution of the commonwealth under circumstances that convey ample assurances of its success. Governor Geary's letter declares unequivocally in favor of the proposition, and announces the important fact that he will make it a leading topic in his annual message to the Legislature We understand that a leading member of the Senate is preparing a bill on the subject and announces his fixed determination to press it earnestly. Thus far the press of all parties and -all -sections has pronounced in favor of the movement with a manimity that is most gratifying. and public sentiment is already embodied so strongly that we do not verceive how the Legislature can tail to respond to the general demand.

The League has properly appointed an executive committee to organize the movement and enlist popular support, and for this committee we invite the aid of all who are in favor of reform.

The Spirit of General Thomas. The Boston Banner of Light prints the following communication from the spirit of General Thomas :

"On Wedcesday evening, April 6th; 1870, I had the pleasure of coming back to earth through a medium, George L. Converse, in the city of Chicago, at the residence of Russell Greene, and for some his lady; also conversed with Mr. and Mrs. Daggett, of Elgin, III. Upon that evening, and the time I was persons, I could distinctly hear the tiring of heavy cannons, and saw the coffin that contained my remains ; saw, the procession, etc., as they moved from place to place. I also conversed freely upon the parade that was being made, was surprised at the change and doubtful of its duration. A cigar was handed me. I took it in my hand : it was tangible to my touch: Lsmelt it ; truly it was 'a cigar. It was lit for me, and I smoked it. It did me more good than any cigar I ever smoked; for after I had finished smoking, my mind was clearer, my vision more distinct ; yet all this time I had control of another person."
