FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL COLLEGE has been coming to the front in the late political campaign. Five of its alumni figur ed as candidates for Congress on the tickets of either party viz: John Cessna, Sixteenth district: Hon. John W. Killinger and Dr. C, L. Gloninger, Tenth District; and John H. Oliver, Esq., and Dr. E. L. Acker, Sixth district. But three of these gentlemen have been elected, but as in two districts they ran against each other, this is all that could possibly be done.

It is perhaps, still more r markable that all of them when in college were members of the same literary society (The Diagnothian, The same literary institution is represented in the Legislature by Senator Duncan from Adams, Representatives Reinchl from Lancaster, Schwartz from Berks, and perhaps others. A Propicy.-In our absence from town on Wednesday, a wonderful vegetable was placed upon our table, with the following note accompanying it:

COLUMBIA, Oct, 19th.

Recently I have been giving considfor a box of coffee pots and tin dippers, sent | erable attention to the propagation of vegeby express from Columbia, via Harrisburg. | tables and the development of horticultural science. I have the past summer, during my recreation and leisure moments made some interesting and novel experiments. The specimen before you was simply produced by the partial separation of the seed but not entirely disconnecting its parts, and the insertion in the "Forkus," of the germ of another seed of less vigorous proportion and growth.

To the curious and philosophical mind, the vegetable I send you, will prove both interesting and novel.

Yours Truly,

M. M. S. The personal history of this prodigious regetable is onite interesting, and any of our readers who are auxious to see a great natural wonder, are requested to call at this office. Farmer S, has been successful ly engaged in horticultural, philosophical and zoological pursuits; what a happy augury of what his superior abilities may produce in the near future. The explanation of the process of propagation and culture is remarkably intelligible, and if like causes produce like effects, may not the same system of propagation be extended indefinitely in every department of organ ized matter, so as to produce species and kinds, never before known in the civilized world. We await with true philosophical suspense and resignation the development The tobacco crop of Lancaster county this of these highly interesting experiments; strengthened no doubt by his intimacy

We are proud to ac-On the 6th inst., a depredation was committed, by some unknown villains, upon one of our cisizen's hen-co ops, the thieves taking therefrom thirteen fine fat hens: but what caused the affair to be so exasperating to the owner, was cutting off the heads of the poultry and placing them nicely on a heap beside the coop. We hope that these rascals may be caught in their contempt-

DEDICATION .- The dedication of the Monument" school-honse, situated in Manor twp., about one mile from Mountville, on Saturday evening, 22nd inst., provided there be no disappointment by the absence of the speakers. Prof. J. Pyle Wickersham, State Superintendent, and other prominent speakers are expected to be in attendance.

It is a fine brick structure, situated in a pleasant grove. The building is a credit to Manor, and an encouragement to the teacher, C. C. Seitz. We have no doubt that our friend Mr. S. will feel proud when he enters upon his duties in his new room and we don't wonder, he has spent so many school terms in an old log cabin. We wish him success.

A HARRISBURG sunday school superintendent last spring distributed to each member of the school four sernels of corn. with the request that all plant the grains given them, attend the growing stalks, and bring the product to the sabbath school on a day in autumn, to be designated some time during the corn-husking season. The time was fixed a few weeks ago, and a day named. The result was the bringing in of several bushels of the largest and finest specimen ears of corn raised in the county this year; and a notification that nearly all the balance of the corn raised by the mem bers would be forthcoming by the next Sab bath. A WEDDING Tour .- A short time ago an enterprising couple, hailing from, or near, Middletown, took it into their heads to get married, and to this end proceeded to the parson's chatcau, where they were spliced n due form, after which they started on their wedding tour by railroad, and proceeded in blissful oblivion on their way, enjoying the honeymoon hugely, feasting upon each other's love and building air castles as to their future condition and happiness, never thinking that their day of tribulation was so near at hand. Alas that their untold happiness should come to grief so soon! They had proceeded on their way as far as Lebanon on the Lebanon Valley railroad, when upon consulting the port monnaies it was found that their funds were exhausted, and as the conductor re fused to take them further without stamps, the two unfortunates were obliged to re trace their way on foot from thence to Midof time, greatly discomfited, but not dis-

We advise our readers to make their purchases t HALDEMAN'S STORE, as they are certain o have a large choice of the best goods, and at the very lowest possible prices.

TAKE IT EASY .- There is so much truth n the following from the Philadelphia Star that we transfer it entire to our local column: Americans work too long and too hard. The people of no nation on the face of the earth make such slayes of themselves as the majority of American business men. From morning until night, and frequently from night until moraing, they tug, and oil, and strive, as though every moment not devoted to business were a moment irretrievably lost. It is not surprising therefore, that so few men, comparatively, retire from business with a competency and 10bust health. In securing the one, they sacrifice the other. In memory they are literally worn out before they reach the prime of life, and hence the remainder of their lives is a burden to themselves and others. How different the case would be could our business men be taught to realize the healthful advantages of judicious recreation. We do not mean a ride hehind a handsome team, or a lounge on the soft with a cigar as a companion, or possibly something to drink, but a complete unbending of the mind and body from the stern rigidities of business, and the indulgence in such out-door exercises as will strengthen and invigorate the body while it relaxes the tension of the mind. Running, leaping, quoit-pitching, ball-playing, rowing, or in fact any of the ordinary harmless recreations of boys and young men can be profitably indulged by men of maturer years. Why should not a man of fifty play ball, or pitch quoits, row a boat, or run a of the mechanics, is still unfinished. It's race? There is no sound reason why he should not, unless it be that he is too dignified for such boyish recreations, or too deeply immersed in business to give the time they require. What wonder that every other business man in America is a dyspeptic or a consumptive. We can point to a half dozen men who are to-day the very pictures of robust health and vigor. but who ten years ago were going on the two-forty pace towards their graves. They realized their danger, sought pleasant and healthful recreations, convinced themselves that they could not afford to dispense with it, even though business should suffer. They throve as vigorously as their neighbors, who felt that they had not an hour to spare from their counting-houses and store rooms, and they are to-day stout, strong,

It will Le about 23 feet front, extending back 80 feet and three stories high. The entire front of the first floor will be an open glass with ceiling fourteen feet high. This is an institution long needed, as there is none of its kind nearer than York or Lancaster, and Mr. Heise is the man to manage it. He intends to keep in stock all kinds of farming implements, machinery, seed &c., on comnission usually kept in such stores. he is also repairing his residence, which which, when finished will compare fayorably with the new building.

Her stay in America is limited to three months, for which time she receives one hundred thousand dollars, Tickets of admission to her concerts sell at from three to fifteen dollars, according to quality. A cotemporary who has heard her, speaks of the high notes of her voice as very fine, but in the intermediate notes there is an acual thread of harshness, and to a critical ear there is a total want of that symphthetic quality which so highly characterized the utterances of the true Swedish nightingale. Mile. Nilsson's face will, we think, give quite as much explanation of success as a hearing of her voice.

She was well described to us before we arrived as being a beautiful young woman. with the artless innocence of a child in her manners, and an almost angelic goodness in her face. We find her to be, in fact, a tall, squarely-made person, with that comlight hair, and a dull, almost a dark complexion, and having no pretensions to beauty beyond a pair of large and expressive eves. But there is something in her face Which goes farther toward success in this world than mere beauty; there is considerable intellect, and a very unusual amount of resolution. In that square almost heavy chin there lies a great deal of power, and I fancy Mile. Nilsson's present position as queen of song is due quite as much to steady persistency and good management as to her undoubtedly fine qualities as an actress and singer.

At a meeting of the officers and employ es of the Penna. Lightning Rod Co., held at the Franklin Honse, Columbia, on the evening of the 19th inst., M. S. Clapp, ecretary of the Company, was made the recipient of a neat and valuable gold flever watch, upon which were engraved the names of 32 of the employees of the Company. The watch was bought of J. W. Moore & Bro., No. 1031 Market St., Phila delphia. The engraving was executed by the above firm, which reflects much credit to them as artists. In the midst of the business transactions of the secretary, Mr. P. H. Werntz, of Pottsville, entered the room and addressed the secretary, in the following language: M. S. Clapp, Secretary of Penna, Light-ning Rod Co.: I have the honor of being the representative of the good will of the salesmen, foremen and ladder-men from the different stations of the Penna. The Club may feel proud of their early recall to Virginia. We trust they may have pleasant time.

In response to a notice in our issue o last week, a number of our sportsmen met on Saturday evening last, and organized a society, to be known as "The association for the protection of game in Lancaster county." The following officers were elect-

President-Jos. H. Black. Vice President-Peter Saylor. Treasurer-James E. Mifflin.

Secretary-H. C. Lentz. A paper was signed by all present to abide by and enforce the Game laws. Gunners will therefore take notice, and not shoot any insectivorous birds or partridges; nor any ducks on Tuesday, Thursday or Friday of each week, nor go shooting, hunting or trapping on Sunday. We will publish an abstract from the game laws next week, giving all the laws relating to game now

THE LITERARY AND MUSICAL ENTER-TAINMENT on Friday evening by Prof. Hart and Miss Nellie Johnston was a fine tribute by an appreciative people, to local talent. The hall was crowded, as we have never seen it before, with the most intelligent and refined of our citizens. Prof. Hart's renderings of choice selections, ranging from the grave to the comic delighted the audience, and he was repeatedly encored. His "Moneyless Man." "Barbara Frietchie" and "Joe Hooker at Lookout Mountain" written by our fellow townsman, E. N. Gunnison, fully establish Mr. Hart's powers as an able elocutionist. His "Few Moment in the Mimic World," were irresistibly amusing. To the student of English literature, his renderings of select portions of Shakspeare's Hamlet into Pennsylvania dutch were intensely funny, at the same time displaying in Mr. Hart a remarkable power and appreciation of this quaint old fashioned dia

Miss Johnson was at home in her voca selections; her finest pieces were "Flee as bird." "Put me in my little bed" and "How the gates came ajar." The last wa charming. We also take occasion to refer to the fine poem, "Hooker at Lookout Mountain, written by E. N. Gunnison. It is pronounced by competent critics as very fine, comparing with Sheridan's Ride, and other standard poems, and far surpassing many which are classed with the literature of the day. THE COLUMBIA LEIDERKRANZ .- This musical and dramatic association is composed entirely of Germans. They have been rehearsing a piece called "The Elopement from the Shoemaker Shop" and had semi-public entertainment in the Sry building on last Monday evening. A fine orchestra of ten pieces under the direction of Prof. Schmeid furnished the instrumental music.

Julius Keisley, Esq., of Wrightsville, took the dramatic character. A small platform and stage had been built at the east end of the room, with tastefully painted back ground, relieved by wings and columns at the sides and ornamental scroll work overhead. A curtain was arranged to rise and fall at the pleasure of the manager. The orchestra was seated at the foot of the stage. The whole ad a very pleasing effect. The performance, both the musical and lramatical parts, was very fine. The singing by the members of the Leiderkranz was superior to anything of the kind we have ever heard. The entertainment was a social festal occasion after the style of the Fatherland, and the Leiderkranz deserves the highest praise for their success.

On one end of the stage was displayed the American flag, on the other the flag of the North German Confederation. The whole affair was a hearty German e-union—a little of Germany in America -and we enjoyed the entertainment very

The festivities were prolonged up to a ate hour. ORIENTAL AND BIBLE LANDS .- Arrange-

To the Nervous and Debilitated. Whose sufferings have been protracted from hidden causes, and whose cases require prompt treatment to render existence desirable: If you are suffering, or have suffered, from involuntary discharges, what effect does it produce upon your general health? Do you feel weak, debilitated, easily tired? Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky or flocky, or is to ropy on settling? Or does a thick scum rise to the top? Or is a sediment at the bettom after it has stone awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspepsia? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood bo you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling on this subject? Do you feel dull, listless, moning, tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Doesany little thing make you start or jump? Is your sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? The bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your business with the same energy? Do you have as much confidence in yourself? Are your splitts dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have you restless nights? Your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dys-

Now reader, self-abuse, venereal diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, are all capa ble of producing a weakness of the generative organs. The organs of generation, when in perfect health, make the man. Did you ever think that those bold, defiant, energetic, perse vering, successful business men are always those whose generative organs are in perfect nealth? You never hear such men complain of nealth? You never hear such men complain of being melancholy, of nervousness, of palpitation of the heart. They are never afraid they cannot succeed in business; they don't become sad and discouraged; they are always polite and pleasant in the company of ladies, and look you and them right in the face—none of your downeast looks or any other meanness about them. I de not mean those who keep the orrow infe. do not mean those who keep the organs inflated by running to excess. These will not only ruin their constitutions, but also those they do business with or for.

How many men, from badly cured diseases from the effects of self-abuse and excesses, have brought about that state of weakness in those organs that has reduced the general system so nuch as to induce almost every other disea diocy, lunacy, paralysis, spinal affections, suicide, and almost every other form of disease which humanity is heir to, and the real cause of the trouble scarcely ever suspected, and have doctored for all but the right one.
